Nearly Everyone Convinced President Will Accept Nomination

WEAR BUTTONS BEARING CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S NAME

Familiar Big Shots, Cabinet Members Among Those At Chicago

By Richard L. Turner

CHICAGO, July 13.—(AP)—Democrats determined to "draft Roosevelt," some happy and some unhappy about it, but nearly everyone convinced he will accept the nomination, poured into this convention city today to join in a carnival prelude to next week's national convention.

Bushels of red and white and blue buttons bearing the motto "Just Roosevelt," and silhouette of a rooster rampant adorned hundreds of lapels, proclaiming in advance the keynote of the big party gathering.

Familiar big shot faces from Washington, cabinet members, members of important boards and commissions, senators and House leaders were commonplaces in the gay hotel lobby throng. Men who no longer than yesterday said goodbye to each other in the Capitol stopped to shake each other's hands and gather in groups to resume a briefly interrupted discussion of the one question mark of the convention, whether the president would accept the nomination.

Two men knew, and they, secreted in the fastnesses of the huge Stevens hotel, the convention headquarters, were in busy conference with their aides and casual callers. The two—Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National Committee, who has been averse to a third term for

WASHINGTON SAFE AT GOTHAM DOCK

Carries 1,610 Refugees From European War To American Havens

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—The U. S. liner Washington arrived from Galway, Ireland, today on her final war refugee removal trip, with 1,610 passengers, 273 of them aliens.

The voyage was uneventful in contrast to her last trip, when she was stopped by a German submarine.

Three hundred eighty of the passengers were children under 10, and the ship, as on her last two voyages, resembled a floating nursery.

One of the children was the nine-year-old son of British Information Minister Alfred Duff Cooper, going to stay with unnamed friends at Easthampton, Long Island.

Another was the 10-month-old son of Ernest Simpson, former husband of the Duchess of Windsor, and his new wife, the former Mrs. Mary Raffray, of Baltimore. The Simpsons are still in England.

Despite the addition of 600 passengers beyond the Washington's regular load, there were few complaints. One woman said she paid $315 for a cot in a cabin with five others, and several passengers said stewards had made numerous anti-British remarks.

There was a slight delay in debarkation while U. S. health officers examined several cases of illness on board. Several thousand persons were at the pier to meet the ship.

It was the second emergency voyage under state department orders, and her fourth "rescue" trip since last April, when she brought 900 refugees from the Scandinavian invasion. On July 26 she goes into the New York-San Francisco service, along with the Manhattan, now en route home from Lisbon, Portugal, with 798 passengers.

The Washington's load today included 29 dogs, three cats, and an Albino canary.

DIES GROUP MOVES TO ANOTHER CITY

AUSTIN, Tex., July 13.—(AP)—The Dies committee will move to Beaumont tomorrow to begin hearings Tuesday on matters involving the National Maritime Union, Secretary Robert E. Stripling said today.

Stripling added Chairman Dies would take testimony in the South Texas city for about four days and possibly move to New Orleans for a one-day hearing before resuming his Texas inquiry into un-American activities.

Stripling explained that witnesses from Port Arthur, Beaumont, Mobile and New Orleans would be summoned to tell of "proposed activities" of the maritime union. In addition, members of the Kyffhaeuser bund will be heard in Beaumont.

Six Perish In Hospital Fire

Firemen are shown examining the charred wreckage of the Holy Family Home, a branch of St. Francis Hospital at Cincinnati, O., where six persons perished and others were injured in flames that trapped 30 residents and employes on the third floor. Many occupants of the home were led to safety down fire escapes and others were rescued through windows by volunteers and firemen.

Make U.S. Independent In Material For Arms

Defense Advisory Commission Leader Reports Initial Progress

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Assurances that the United States rapidly was being made independent of foreign sources for key arms materials came today from the defense advisory commission.

In an initial report of progress, Edward K. Stettinius Jr., former United States Steel Corporation chairman, said surveys indicated adequate supplies of such materials as rubber, tin, aluminum and armor plate would be available as needed by defense industries.

Stettinius, in charge of the commission's material division, described the prospects for ample stocks of all kinds as generally "more hopeful than we anticipated six weeks ago when this commission was appointed by the president."

While his report presented an optimistic picture of the industrial side of the defense program, indications cropped up that the army's plans for getting the necessary manpower would run into considerable opposition.

Despite testimony from General George C. Marshall, the army chief of staff, that enactment of a conscription law was immediately essential to defense, Senators Norris, Independent, Nebraska, Holt, Democrat, West Virginia, and Lundeen, Farmer Labor, Minnesota, said they would oppose such a step. Several other senators indicated opposition.

Otherwise the day brought these defense developments:

The navy reported that 850 young men had enlisted for a special three-months course in its program of training 5,000 reserve officers.

Secretary Perkins suggested a program of medical supervision and health education for industrial workers, young people in training for indutsry and children.

The labor secretary said in a statement that this could be carried out in

TOM PENDERGAST IS INDICTED AGAIN

New Government Move Grows Out Of State Fire Insurance Case

KANSAS CITY, July 13.—(AP)—Tom Pendergast, whose mania for horse-race betting toppled him from boss of Missouri Democratic politics into a prison cell, was confronted today by a new government move to put him back behind the bars.

Little more than a month after gaining his freedom, the man whose nod of approval once elected governors and senators was indicted with two other persons on charges of obstructing justice in the settlement of a $9,000,000 state fire insurance case.

In the spring of 1938, with the Democrats in power in state and nation, Pendergast's city machine rolled back a threat of fused political elements to oust him from the city hall and appeared to be at the height of his power. Then last spring the storm broke.

He was indicted by a federal grand jury for income tax evasion. His attorneys, explaining that Pendergast had lost more than a million dollars in horse race bets, entered a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to 15 months at Leavenworth.

The government contended that $315,000 of the income he failed to report was paid him to help settle the insurance case. That case arose after fire insurance rates in Missouri were hiked, then disallowed, resulting in the impounding of the huge funds.

For five years the state insurance department fought against any settlement which would go too heavily against the policy holders. Then, abruptly it settled the case at a time when the department was headed by

Ford-McDonnell Rites Attract Throngs

By Mary Elizabeth Plummer

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., July 13.—(AP)—Twenty-year-old Anne McDonnell and Henry Ford, 2nd, grandson of the automobile manufacturer, were married today in a pageant-like ceremony of the Roman Catholic church.

As they stood at the flower-banked altar of the Church of the Sacred Hearts of Jesus and Mary, Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen gave a discourse on the power of love.

"Rings can be broken and lost," he said, "but love is undying."

The pretty blonde bride was smiling as she went to the altar, with her long white veil trailing behind her.

The 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford was baptized into the Catholic faith, the faith of his bride, by Monsignor Sheen late Friday in the presence of his parents, his bride-to-be and her parents.

Long before the marriage ceremony, hundreds of villagers had gathered across the street from the little church to view the notables and to applaud such personages as former New York Governor Alfred E. Smith, Henry Ford, Sr., and William S. Knudsen, head of the nation's defense production program.

The bride's 13 brothers and sisters and her 100 first cousins, uncles and aunts formed a cheery family background for her wedding.

Their camaraderie broke the ice that might have surrounded a social event of first rank, and was an informal note in a scene thronged with fashionable guests and industrial leaders.

The silver-haired elder Ford and his wife, who have been married 52 years, came by private car for the ceremony at noon.

Kathleen Kennedy, daughter of Joseph P. Kennedy, United States ambassador to England, was one of Anne's bridesmaids.

Special police were on duty, but no more, said the village police chief, than ordinarily handle the crowds and traffic at a big wedding here.

A program of liturgical music by organist Pietro Yon and choirsingers from St. Patrick's cathedral in New York preceded the half-hour service in the lily-decorated sanctuary.

Anne, daughter of James Francis McDonnell, a Wall Street broker, and granddaughter of the late inventor, Thomas E. Murray, wore a billowing white tulle gown and carried white orchids.

For the reception and wedding breakfast afterward, a pavilion was erected on the lawn on her home, a huge half-timbered house overlooking the Atlantic ocean.

There was dancing on a specially built floor. Two rooms of the house were nearly full of wedding presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford remained before the wedding aboard their yacht, anchored off Southampton.

Department Rolls In Monroe Section Up Before Ballot

Number Of Employes Increased From 11 To 50 Before State Primaries

BATON ROUGE, La., July 13.—(AP)—Payroll records of the welfare department and state hospital board made public today revealed that the personnel of some divisions was increased twofold and up to fourfold shortly before the primaries this year.

The payrolls showed that the intake and certification bureau in June, 1939, had 185 employes at a total salary of $15,812 a month. In February, 1940, there were 34 names on the roll at an expenditure of $29,269 for salaries.

The Monroe district had 11 employes receiving $717 at the earlier date, 50 at $3,909 at the later. The New Orleans district went from 61 to 86, the Opelousas and Alexandria districts each from 22 to 44, Shreveport from 19 to 37 and Baton Rouge from 13 to 42.

The rolls, closed to public inspection during the last administration under an interpretation of the welfare law which held that all its records were confidential, were opened by Ellis Henican, the new commissioner, on instructions from the reorganized welfare board.

Henican said continuing economies are being made to conform with a cut of $30,000 a month in administrative

OIL MAN KILLED SITTING IN CAR

A. J. Lachle, Former Shreveporter, Fatally Wounded At Jackson

BROOKHAVEN, Miss., July 13.—(AP)—A. J. Lachle, prominent Louisiana-Mississippi oil man, was shot to death early today while visiting here.

District Attorney E. C. Barlow said Nolen Woods, a reforestation supervisor, had been taken into custody in connection with the case, but that no charges had been filed.

The death of the oil man, an official of the Eureka Petroleum Company of Jackson, was reconstructed by Barlow, following an investigation, as follows:

Lachle drove up in front of the Woods home about 3:30 a.m., accompanied by Mrs. Nolen Woods. Woods, apparently waiting for the couple, walked over to the parked machine, flashed a light into the car and shot the oil man through the neck. Lachle died almost immediately.

Several shots were fired, the district attorney said, but only one took effect.

Lachle, about 40 years old, formerly resided in Shreveport. He moved to Jackson about two years ago. He is survived by his widow and children.

Barlow was continuing his investigation late this morning.

KNOWN IN SHREVEPORT

SHREVEPORT, La., July 13.—(AP)—A. J. Lachle, shot to death early today at Brookhaven, Miss., is a brother-in-law of B. A. Hardey, Louisiana conservation commissioner, and a well known local oil man, resided at 300 Many street in Bossier City. He is said to be well known in local oil circles, having been engaged in the lease and royalty brokerage business.

The remains will arrive in Shreveport at 1:30 p.m. Sunday and funeral services will be held at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Lachle is survived by two sons, Loy, Jr., and Joe Lachle; one brother, Will Lachle, Vivian, and five sisters, Mrs. B. A. Hardey, Mrs. Jessie Robinette, Mrs. Mae Williams, Mrs. C. J. Gutting, and Mrs. Barkley Rosenblath, all of Shreveport.

PRESENT ATTACKS ON BRITAIN HELD AS 'CHILD'S PLAY'

Germans Phrase Term, Say Real Blitzkrieg On Isles Yet To Come

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The big question of the war is: When will Hitler strike against Britain with the full fury of the blitzkrieg? Louis P. Lochner, chief of The Associated Press Berlin Bureau, discusses this question in the following dispatch. He reports that the Germans are so confident of victory that they are moving troops eastward—away from Britain. The present air war against the British Isles is merely preparation for the full attack, and is described by Germans as mere "child's play" in comparison with what is yet to come, Lochner discloses.)

By Louis P. Lochner

BERLIN, July 13.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, a past master at keeping the entire world including his own people in suspense, once again has everyone guessing—this time as to when, how and where he will strike a concentrated blitzkrieg blow at Britain.

However, no competent foreign observer doubts that the German fuehrer will break his ominous silence and give the word for the start of the gigantic offensive only when he is satisfied fully that all groundwork essential to the success of the Nazi undertaking has been completed.

Part of that "foundation" already is being laid in the daily air attacks and the starvation blockade which, carried out by submarines, surface ships and bombing planes, claims a total of 4,329,213 tons of "enemy merchant shipping space or shipping space usable to the enemy" has been sunk since the start of the war. But these, apparently, are mere preliminaries.

To inquiries whether the present bombings by Nazi fliers of British airports, naval bases, warehouses, factories, railway junction points, etc., are not sufficient evidence that the direct offensive against Britain already has begun, well-informed men reply nonchalantly:

"That is mere routine for our aviators, part of the day's work. Wait and

KILLS WIFE, SELF IN WEST MONROE

Farmer Shoots Mother Of Six With Shotgun; Pair Were Separated

A farmer killed his estranged wife, mother of six, with a borrowed shotgun at her West Monroe home late Friday night and then committed suicide after asking his oldest daughter if the woman was dead, Sheriff Coverdale said yesterday.

"Is she gone?" the farmer, Jess Jordan, queried his daughter, Nina, 15, after he had shot Mrs. Jewell Jordan, on the front porch.

"Yes," was the reply.

Jordan then walked near his wife's body, put the gun to his chin and pulled the trigger, virtually blowing his face off, the sheriff's office reported.

After shooting the woman, Jordan had walked through the house and a room where the six children had been at supper when he arrived, went into the yard, circled the house and went back to the porch where he met Nina, according to reports.

The gun was discharged in the rear yard, but the sheriff's department was not able to determine whether Jordan attempted to kill himself then or whether he dropped the weapon. An empty shell was found by the deputies.

Five of the children were eating in a back room and Nina was in another room ironing, when the mother, in the kitchen, heard a noise in the front and went out to investigate, according to reports.

It was reported that the mother requested Jordan not to enter the house

ARMY FLIERS ESCAPE AS AIRPLANE CRASHES

TAMPA, Fla., July 13.—(AP)—Two army fliers from Kelly Field, Tex., narrowly escaped injury tonight as their plane overshot Peter O. Knight airport and landed in Tampa bay, which adjoins the landing field.

The fliers, tentatively identified as Lieutenant Van Allen and Private Howell, escaped by swimming to the seawall where they were fished ashore.

GOV. JONES KILLS MANY MEASURES

Nearly Two Score Bills Are Vetoed By Chief Executive On Saturday

BATON ROUGE, La., July 13.—(AP)—Governor Sam H. Jones today vetoed nearly two score bills passed by the adjourning legislature but he approved a great many others.

The governor spent the entire day scrutinizing measures in an effort to clear his desk for his departure tomorrow from New Orleans as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago. He will leave by airplane shortly after noon.

Among bills approved by the chief executive were the new Public Records Act, an enabling act to the proposed constitutional amendment reducing automobile and truck license costs, and a third measure increasing maximum truck loads allowed on the highways.

Included in the bills vetoed were a number he said conflicted with provisions of the new fiscal code and reorganization bill, some of them self-chosen taxes such as on sweet potato growers for advertising purposes.

Jones junked one bill seeking minimum wage levels for firemen in cities between 16,000 and 250,000 population and another designed to establish civil service for police and firemen in cities of 15,000 and 100,000 population.

The governor said both measures interfered with "home rule" and were opposed by municipal officials. Regarding the bill for civil service for firemen and policemen, Jones remarked: "It would, in effect, deprive elected officials of cities of supervision of city employes, and place real power in the governor."

Vetoing a number of separate appropriation bills Jones said they could not be approved because of the effort toward effecting economy. In explaining why he was disapproving a special $200,000 annual appropriation for purchasing library books, Jones said: "I am a firm believer in more and better libraries, but in my opinion, the state is not in a position at this time to embark on a program which would eventually cost the state $2,000,000 annually."

Economy also was the reason for the governor's veto of a bill to provide

Axis Air Power Pitted Against English Navy

'Successful Operations Overseas' Reported By Germans And Italians

LONDON SAYS BLOCKADE AGAINST ISLES IS FAILING

Britain Declares Raid Damage Slight; Points To Heavy Plane Losses

(By Associated Press)

Both Germany and Italy, pitting air power against sea power, reported success Saturday night in their efforts to whittle down Britain's overwhelming naval strength.

"Successful operations overseas" by the German fleet against Britain's most potent defensive arm were claimed by the Nazi high command in the fast-developing "battle of the blockades."

Piercing the steel-clad British blockade line, it said, German warships have come home with captive merchantmen filled with valuable cargoes destined originally for the British.

Presumably, these operations were directed from Norway, and Nazi commentators declared that German ships now can rove the seas without British hindrance either in the Atlantic or in other waters.

Two blows were reported by Italy—elimination of Malta, Britain's eastern Mediterranean stronghold, as an offensive threat and dispersal of a British Mediterranean fleet under repeated air attacks.

Alexandria has become the base for the heavier British warships, the authoritative Italian editor, Virgnio Gayda, declared, and Malta now is only a temporary shelter for lighter vessels.

Italy's aim to paralyze British sea power in the Mediterranean by scattering warships and convoys was reported advanced by an air-sea battle in which British ships split into three fleeing groups.

The high command said that "at least two cruisers and one battleship were certainly and repeatedly struck with large caliber bombs."

CAPTURE GERMANS

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ENGLAND, July 13.—(AP)—Two villages armed with a hayfork and a toy pistol, were credited today with capturing the crew of a German bomber.

The village innkeeper and a house painter saw the bomber crash in a field last night near where they stood.

They found one of the crewmen dead and the other four injured. The innkeeper substituted one of the Germans' revolvers for the toy pistol he carried and held the injured men at gunpoint until a passing motorist obtained military assistance.

HOOD DAMAGED

CEUTA, Spanish Morocco, July 13.—(AP)—The 42,100-ton British battle cruiser Hood, the largest warship afloat, was declared in reports from Gibraltar tonight to have suffered such severe damage to her gun turrets that repairs cannot be made at the Gibraltar naval base.

Source of the reports from Gibraltar was not made clear, and cause of the assorted damage was not mentioned.

The Hood has been reported put out of commission at least three times during the current war, and each time the British have denied the reports.

POOR PRODUCTION

MOSCOW, July 13.—(AP)—A new decree providing prison terms for poor or incomplete production in industry was greeted today by newspaper editorials emphasizing the need for high quality work.

Pravda spoke of watches that wouldn't work; alarm clocks that wouldn't alarm; tractors with cracks covered by paint.

HOLD GARRISON

CAIRO, Egypt, July 13.—(AP)—Although heavily outnumbered, a small British garrison still is holding all its positions against the Italians assaulting Moyale, fortified post in the British Kenya-Ethiopian frontier district, British army headquarters said today.

ARREST 17,000

LONDON, July 13.—(AP)—The Exchange Telegraph (British news agency) reported today that 17,000 political arrests had been made in German-occupied France, and added:

"It now seems quite possible that moving of the Petain (French) government to Paris will be followed by Germans occupying the rest of France to restore order by methods of the machine gun."

RECORD MARRIAGES

TORONTO, July 13.—(AP)—A federal government ruling that men married after July 15 will be considered single for military purposes was followed by a rush of young Torontonians to the marriage license office here today.

Officials said the office was doing a record business. The ruling was made yesterday.

FLIER HONORED

BERLIN, July 13.—(AP)—(Via Radio)—Lieutenant General Ernst Udet, chief of the German air force's technical department and most famous of Germany's surviving World War fliers, has received the Knight's Cross of the Iron Cross, the German wireless reported tonight.

General Udet was credited with a large part in building up the German air force and, the official citation said, "in addition he has also given an example of fighting courage for the men of our air force."

ARREST SUSPECTS IN BANK ROBBERY

Two Men Captured By Arkansas Police In Pleasant Hill Hold-up

MALVERN, Ark., July 13.—(AP)—Superintendent Gray Albright of the Arkansas State Police announced capture six miles east of here this afternoon of two men wanted in connection with the $4,000 bank robbery at Pleasant Hill, La., last Monday.

The men were arrested by state police, county officers and officers of the federal bureau of investigation.

They were placed in the Hot Springs jail here pending arrival of parish officers from Louisiana.

State police had been tipped by Sheriff D. J. Derrick, Sabine parish, Louisiana. The suspects apparently were headed toward Malvern.

A watcher reported the two when they arrived in the county about 2 p. m. and they were arrested shortly afterwards without offering resistance.

Arresting officers expressed some doubt tonight whether the two men arrested actually were the bank robbers, saying that the men's descriptions did not exactly jibe with those with which they had been furnished by Louisiana officers.

Sheriff T. S. Fisher said he still was awaiting arrival of parish officers from Louisiana who were reported to be bringing with them witnesses to the robbery. He added that they probably would not arrive before tomorrow morning.

PARISH POPULATION RISES 8 PER CENT

Preliminary figures released by J. L. Heath, Jr., supervisor of census, Ouachita parish, shows the population number of farms has declined some 13 per cent since 1935. Population figures are based on the 1930 census.

Figures for the 16th census show a total of 59,145 persons for 1940 as against 54,337 persons in 1930, according to the release.

Farms in 1935 totaled 2,883; to date there are 2,502.

It was pointed out that these figures are subject to correction.

EXCESSIVE RAINS HIT COTTON CROP

Considerable Flooding Of Land May Cause Abandonment Of Some Acreage

BATON ROUGE, July 13.—(AP)—Considerable flooding of cotton lands and probability of unusually heavy abandonment of crops due to the excessive rainfall since June 8 was reported today by the Louisiana Crop Reporting Service.

The report said that fields generally have become grassy and crops are from two to four weeks later than usual. Cotton is about three weeks late.

The report further stated:

"While early corn was retarded by dry weather in May, June rains brought noticeable improvement. The condition of late planted corn is relatively poor owing to excessive rainfall and lack of sufficient cultivation. Oat harvest was interrupted by the rains, and some areas suffered a material reduction in yield and quality. Hay crops were benefited by the moisture conditions although cutting was delayed and losses to mowed fields occurred.

"As a result of the January freeze, sugarcane stubble stands are not very good; plant cane stands, however, are better and in many fields they are excellent. The rains, generally, have been beneficial, especially on well drained lands. Rice prospects are good in most of the territory, but excessive rains did considerable local damage.

"Rainfall was generally too heavy for truck crops, severely damaging green peppers and retarding watermelons. Sweet potato seed suffered from the hard winter and the crop is late. Irish potato harvest has exceeded that of last year by about 200 cars. Pastures are good almost everywhere and livestock has done well.

"The Louisiana cotton acreage is estimated at 1,189,000 acres this year compared with 1,154,000 acres planted and 1,120,000 harvested in 1939. For the belt, the estimate is 25,077,000 acres against 24,683,000 in 1939, an increase of 1.6 per cent. Total plantings are well below the AAA allotments, and those plantings in excess of allotments will most probably be removed.

FIVE COUNTRIES REJECT NAZI MINISTER'S NOTE

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, July 13.—(AP)—Reliable sources said today that the five Central American countries would reject the recent "note of observation" by Dr. Otto Reinebeck, German minister, requesting that the forthcoming Havana conference of American foreign ministers take no action directed against Germany.

These sources added that the rejection would be sent in message form.

E. L. Tanner, Pastor

We invite you to meet with us in all the services of today. Our services begin with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. S. W. Hamilton, superintendent. Preaching hours 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. The pastor will preach at both services. Christ Ambassador class meets at 6:45 p.m. Services are held during the week on Tuesday and Thursday nights. We are always glad to have you attend our services.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Grammont And St. John Streets

D. C. Black, Postor's Associate

All regular services will be held at the usual time, beginning with the Sunday school at 9:45. Superintendent E. H. Miller is urging the teachers and officers to round up the absentees and let us boost our attendance back above the 800 mark so as to maintain an average of 800 for the summer. The offerings are coming in most encouragingly for the auditorium enlargement. The work of wrecking the interior is nearing completion. Soon the east wall will be erected and the roof extended and we will be "in doors" again. The structural steel is ready whenever we are ready for delivery. That will take a sizeable amount, so let us keep the dollars rolling in. We did not begin enlarging any too soon. Termites had eaten away many of the floor joists and soon we would have been compelled to repair the auditorium at great cost. The deacons and building and finance committees will have an important meeting 3 p.m., Sunday at the church. All are urged to be present. The pastor will occupy the pulpit both hours Sunday. Olla encampment begins Tuesday of next week and a number of our people are going.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Beulah Doerr, Educational Director

The pastor preached at both hours last Sunday on "The Second Coming of Christ." Much interest has been shown in these sermons and other sermons will follow in this series. A cordial invitation is extended to all who do not worship elsewhere to come and hear. The Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m. The B. T. U. leaders will meet at 6:30 p.m. The Brotherhood and the general B. T. U. meetings are at 7 p.m. The pastor will preach at 10:50 a.m. and 8 p.m. You are invited.

The revival goes on. The church has enjoyed a great spiritual feast through the past two weeks through the messages in sermon and song. Dr. A. S. Newman of Ruston has presented dynamic, gospel messages to the church and to the unsaved. The glorious song services have been under the direction of Raymond Marston, evangelistic singer of Texarkana. The church is now ready to go forward in a greater way.

Raymond Marston will occupy the pulpit Sunday morning. His announced topic is "Forward, to Conquer." Rev. D. D. Cantrell, the pastor, will bring the closing message Sunday night on the subject of "Christian Baptism and the New Life." The church will administer the ordinance of baptism at the close of this service.

The Sunday school will begin at 9:30 Sunday morning and close at 10:40. The young people and adults will meet in the auditorium of the Lida Benton school. Central Baptists welcome all friends to worship with us in these closing services of our revival.

RIDGE AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

West Monroe, La.
A. T. Mitchell, Pastor

Ridge Avenue Baptist church is located between the Splane and McGuire additions in West Monroe in a temporary tabernacle. We have an important program next week for the church. We will have a baptizing at the Central Baptist church Wednesday evening at 7:45. The bids will be let for a church building at the tabernacle Wednesday at 4 p.m. Five deacons will be ordained Friday night at 7:45 with Dr. L. T. Hastings, pastor of the First Baptist church in Monroe bringing the sermon message to them. Dr. Hastings is one of the greatest pastors of this state and we urge our people to attend this meeting and hear this message. Thursday evening a music program will be rendered by Mr. L. O. Fisher and all those who love gospel music are invited to attend. We will have all our services Sunday beginning with Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Sermon 11 a.m. B. T. U. 7 p.m. Music program 7:45. Sermon 8:15. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

If you have no church home, we invite you to adopt ours. Visitors are always welcome.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

Auburn Ave. and North Second St.

Christian Science reading room, 626 Bernhardt building, open from 11:30 to 4:30 daily.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 14, 1940.

The golden text is: "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him." (John 4).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world." (John 6).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our bread, 'which cometh down from heaven,' is Truth." (p. 35).

GRACE CHURCH

Fourth and Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for the eighth Sunday after Trinity are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m., and morning prayer and sermon at 9:30 a.m. These are the two services for this Sunday. On Wednesday, July 17, the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 9 a.m. The intention of the Eucharist is for world peace. During the service the litany for peace will be said.

Meditation: "The Road." Read the third chapter of the Ephesians. Whatever the road which we ourselves most naturally follow into the presence of God—the way of the intellect, the way of feeling, the way of the will in action—let us keep a sympathetic of other pathways beside our own, and grow in understanding of fellow pilgrims who enter through other gates. The fact is most of us follow more than one road in to His presence, and the full religious life is a blending of all. Religion at its best uses the whole person. Guided by clear thinking, empowered by an emotional dynamic drawn from spiritual communion, the conduct of day after day becomes the fruit of a deep and many-sided experience. Let us not rest satisfied until we have entered into the richness of a religious experience that challenges and uses the whole of our being.

"Love so amazing, so divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all."
(forward day-by-day).

The church is opened daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate. You are welcome.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Jackson at Wood
A. M. Freeman, Pastor

"How Readest Thou?" will be the subject for the morning worship. In the evening the pastor will have for his topic "The Fruit Test" and through the week at the radio hour he will be the speaker. Our evening attendance is increasing. The crowd last Sunday evening was a real inspiration to the pastor. We believe you are as cool at church as you are at home since the installation of the new fans. Come to church and try it out for yourself. The church school meets at 9:30. Be on time and bring someone with you. The young people meet at 6:45 for their Epworth League hour. The society of Christian service will meet at the church Tuesday for the regular monthly program meeting. Wednesday evening the Warner Memorial class will be the guest of Mrs. Tom Hampton.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

C. Karlos Smith, Pastor-Evangelist
West Monroe, La.

Every member of the Methodist Church and every friend of the church is urged to be present today for Sunday school and church services. The pastor and family will leave for a two weeks' vacation following the services of today and we desire to make this a great day in the Sunday school and church. The Christian Church deserves the support of our people of America in that it stands today between civilization and freedom and slavery and destruction. Let all Christians prove to the world their faith in the cause of Christ and the church by their attendance and support. Sunday school meets at 9:45 a.m. with preaching services at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. There will be a special musical treat at every service under the direction of Mr. G. C. Williams, assisted by a well trained choir. Don't let rain keep you from doing your Christian duty.

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH

J. M. Alford, Pastor

All the regular services will be held today with the church school exercises opening at 9:45 a.m., and the morning worship services at 11:00 o'clock. At this time the pastor will deliver a message using as the subject: "Purpose and Determination." The two Epworth Leagues will render programs at 6:30 p.m., and the evening service in the church will begin at 7:30. Mr. Guy Corley will have charge of the choir and will bring us a special message in song. At this time the pastor will answer the question: "What is the church, and who are its members?" The ladies of the Missionary Society will meet at the church Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock for the regular monthly program work, Circle No. 3 will have charge. The monthly meeting of the Board of Stewards was held at the church last Monday evening and business of importance was transacted. A. N. Talley, the chairman, presided. After the meeting the stewards and their wives enjoyed a few minutes social meeting at the parsonage as the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Alford. The local board of Christian education with Mrs. C. L. Taylor, the chairman, presiding, met last Wednesday evening. Reports from the different departments of the church showed progress was being made. A cordial invitation is extended to one and all to come and worship with us today.

STONE AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH

I. L. Yeager, Pastor

A gentleman in New York had a fine copy of Hoffman's "Jesus Talking to the Doctors." One day a judge of the supreme court came in on business. He was instantly attracted by the picture on the easel. His eyes would go back to it, as he talked, again and again. Later in the morning he came back and said, "I want to see that boy again." "Take it into my private office," said the gentleman, "and look at it as long as you want to." An hour passed, and then he came out and laid the picture down, with tears running down his face, and said, "The boy has conqured me," and went out to become as earnest Christian devoted to the Master.

With great interest and earnestness we invite you to worship with us this Lord's day, as the following hours, Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. Morning worship at 11 o'clock. Christian Endeavor at 7 p.m. Mrs. Blanche Crews was appointed to lead the meeting. Evangelistic service beginning at 7:45 p.m. Circles will meet with Mrs. L. J. Hunnicutt, 3809 Lee Ave., Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:45. Mrs. Henry Leckie, was appointed to lead the service. The Lord's supper will be taken at the 11 o'clock hour. This is observed as a Christian ordinance and not merely as a membership ordinance.

THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Pastor

Realizing the worth and value of a God consciousness, our worship periods are planned with this in mind. "Be still and know that I am God." Your presence is desired. Will you meet with us this Sabbath that we may offer unto Him the sacrifices of joy and self control? "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy."

"How can Civilization be saved?" is the subject of our morning message. Is it within the reach of humankind to save the day? We believe it is, conditioned on an acceptance of the will of God. What is the one essential in the preservation of civilization? "Come now and let us reason together."

"Why does God Permit War? What Place has it in His Plan?" These are the questions we propose to study this evening.

A cordial welcome awaits you.

FIRES FEW SHOTS TO STOP FIGHTING

Amicable Settlement Likely In Difficulties Of Two Aged Brothers

SUFFERN, N. Y., July 13.—(AP)—An amicable settlement of Albert Pitt's domestic difficulties appeared likely today in the wake of a squirrel gun barrage which has rocked the Ramapo hills off and on for days.

Albert, 76, and his brother, Gilbert, 75, are mountain men. Their cabins are just a whoop and a holler apart.

Before Magistrate Harold Osborne Friday this plain tale from the hills unfolded:

"Albert's been fighting terrible with his wife for a month," said Gilbert. "A feller couldn't set quiet on his stoop. Fellow named Homer came through here. He said maybe I ought to shoot down there and they'd hush up. So I just sprinkled a few shots around, didn't hurt nobody."

The bullets, said Albert, "was droning round here like bumble-bees. I didn't mind none at first, but when I was whittlin' on my steps and the bullets got to buzzin' louder, I decided it was time to get some law in here."

State Trooper Harold T. Nicola, who looked into the matter, said he found a revolver in Gilbert's cabin, for which the latter had no permit. Charged with illegal possession of a firearm, Gilbert was remanded to the Rockland county jail, but he didn't stay long.

A wealthy New Yorker, who also lives in the mountains, bailed him out.

UNIT ORGANIZED AT FARMERVILLE

FARMERVILLE, La., July 13.—(Special)—Mrs. G. A. Ramsey, production chairman of the Red Cross of Union parish met with a group of ladies at the Farmerville Baptist Church to organize a Red Cross unit in this section.

The following committees were appointed:

Production committee: Mrs. G. A. Ramsey, chairman, and Mrs. J. R. Dawkins, assistant.

Arrangement committee: Mrs. A. C. Dykes, chairman; Mrs. Drue Miller and Mrs. Glendon Toler.

Finance committee: Miss Olivia Barr, chairman; Mrs. J. W. Taylor and Miss Reita Hartman.

Sewing committee: Mrs. L. H. Barnes, chairman; Mrs. Ollie Smith, Mrs. G. M. Edwards and Mrs. Stein Baughman.

Knitting committee: Mrs. Joe Booth, chairman; Mrs. M. W. Ramsey, Mrs. V. M. Digby and Mrs. Edward Everett, Jr.

Mrs. Ramsey plans to contact the ladies at Bernice, Marion, Linnville, Downsville, and other communities of the parish soon.

KEEP COOL
MOUNTAIN

DEAR JEAN AND GEORGE:

The Arkansas Ozark and Ouachita mountains are certainly a relief after blistering days in the city. We are enjoying such a delightful and inexpensive vacation spending cool, restful nights in modern cabins and rustic lodges.

We are getting a marvelous tan from swimming, horseback riding, boating and fishing. There's plenty to do at night, too. Hope we'll be seeing you soon - here in Arkansas.

Fond regards,
An Arkansas Traveler

FOUR-H MEMBERS TO HOLD CONTEST

Candidates For State Short Course In Baton Rouge Will Be Chosen

A 4-H Club contest day will be held in Bernstein park, Thursday to determine which 4-H Club members of Ouachita parish will be eligible to attend the annual state 4-H Club short course in Baton Rouge July 29-31, Mrs. Jewell L. McQuiller, home demonstration agent announced yesterday.

In connection with the 4-H Club contest, the home demonstration clubs of the parish will hold their annual Achievement day. At this time cotton dresses made by members of the home clubs will be judged and prizes awarded.

In order that a 4-H Club member be eligible to attend the short course in Baton Rouge, they must be parish winners in one of the various 4-H Club projects, Mrs. McQuiller stated. The various projects of the members of the several clubs in the parish have been under the direction of the county and home demonstration leaders.

One boy and one girl will be named by the club members as its representative on the executive committee, Mrs. McQuiller announced.

The main feature of the day, according to Mrs. McQuiller, will be the midday lunch served in picnic style. Activities get under way at 10 a.m.

Members of the home demonstration clubs are asked to wear their cotton dresses which they have made instead of bringing them along. A prize will be awarded to the winner of the dress for small women and a prize for the winner of the dress for large women, Mrs. McQuiller said.

KILLS GIRL, 22, SHOOTS HIMSELF

Railway Clerk, Former Teacher Found Dead In Los Angeles Apartment

LOS ANGELES, July 13.—(AP)—The bodies of a 22-year-old former Wisconsin school teacher, clad in a white bathing suit, and a 44-year-old railway mail clerk were found shot to death last night in an apartment. Detectives listed the deaths as murder and suicide.

The victims, said Police Lieutenants Gene Bechtel and S. R. Lopez, were Gertrude Hertting, red-haired visitor here from Wauwatosa, Wis., for graduate study in social service work at a university, and Arthur Slater, former high school agriculture teacher.

A diary Detective C. H. Schumacher reported finding in Slater's pocket told a story of his love for the girl. Its cryptic notations included:

June 14—". . . Visited Gertrude. She loves me. November 1 marriage."

June 15—"Drove Gertrude downtown. Hell."

June 20—"In love."

June 22—"Visited Gertrude . . . better dead."

The girl's name first was mentioned February 2, when an entry read: "Visited Gertrude. O. K. Drove along beaches."

Last inscription was Thursday—"Clear and hot." Last reference to Miss Hertting was on June 28.

Bodies of the pair were found by Mrs. Margaret Sharp, manager of the apartment house. Miss Hertting apparently had just returned from a beach outing. She was shot through the heart as she sat on a divan. Slater was lying on the floor, a bullet through his temple. A revolver lay near his outstretched hand. A third slug had ripped into the wall. Officers said the deaths apparently occurred late yesterday afternoon.

WOMAN KILLS CHILDREN, THEN DIES BY OWN HAND

OREGON, Ill., July 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Ray Bressler, 31, hung a note on the door of her second-floor flat after her husband went to work. It said: "Children asleep. Do not disturb."

Then she seized a kitchen knife, stabbed her three small children to death, and ended her own life by inhaling fumes from a gas stove.

SPARE THE HORSES

DENVER—(AP)—New technique of United States Forest Service in patrolling hundreds of thousands of acres of forest lands is to load their horses into trailers and drive on highways as far as possible.

Modern rangers are completing in one or two days trips that used to require a week or more by pack trail. Sometimes in the old days their duties required them to pack along provisions for a month. The new horse trailers are to be used throughout the 107 forest districts.

Ko-Ko And Oui-Oui

"My good sir, the awkwardness of your position is grace itself compared with that of a man engaged in the act of cutting off his own head."

So spoke Ko-Ko, lord high executioner of Titipu, in Gilbert and Sullivan's perennial "Mikado."

And so the French government might speak today as it engages in the last melancholy formalities of destroying itself and assuming the shape of whatever weird changeling the conqueror dictates. It is hard to watch these grotesque gyrations at Vichy and to see in them the slightest relationship to Frenchmen as they have for many decades stood proudly before the whole world as men free and unafraid.

If there is, then, a certain lack of grace in the bringing forth of this changeling state at Vichy, no wonder. The pressure under which this bleeding stump of France is acting is hinted by the German news dispatch which pointedly says: "If the decision of the necessary numbers of members . . . is lacking, a legal solution already has been provided to make delay impossible." That, translated, means simply, "Sign, boys—or else!"

Stunned by defeat, numbed by humiliation, the French nation is not functioning in this act. The people who fiercely dedicated themselves only 70 years ago to "Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity" can scarcely be dedicating themselves with equal consciousness to the principles of Mussolini and Franco. For this new government in France (one cannot say of France) is not that of a free people, or even of an independent people. It is merely an arrangement imposed by force from without. No such arrangement has ever in world history made for permanence.

The Third Republic died when Paris fell. France, the world's very symbol for freedom and tolerance and individualism, is nothing now but a province, the same to Hitler as once it was to Caesar.

Nothing ever returns to its exact former status. It would be absurd to predict the restoration of the Third Republic, or even to predict the eventual setting up of a Fourth Republic which would worthily succeed it.

But the last word in the story of France is not being spoken at Vichy. Neither the people who allowed the Third Republic to decay, nor the people who are erecting this wretched German appendage on its corpse, are really France. The France of Liberty, Equality, and Fraternity will find a way, some day, to live again.

A MILLION DOLLARS IN JAIL

There is an old saying that "you can't put a million dollars in jail."

It is more tricky than true, for there have been many, many instances in which a million dollars went behind the bars just like 5 cents. If, in mid-July, Moe Annenberg actually begins a three-year sentence, it will be merely another example.

Here is a man, proprietor of a vast racing information service, who has been convicted of evading more than five million dollars in taxes. He had agreed to pay nine and a half millions in settlement of all claims.

But the federal court has decided that merely to pay now what he should have paid years ago is not enough. Annenberg must now face the legal penalty, not so much in punishment of himself, but in accordance with the judge's statement that "the main object of criminal punishment is to prevent further crime."

Isn't it just possible that some men, itchily thinking of the possibilities of illegal and inordinate profits from the preparedness effort, may be healthily restrained by a thought of Moe Annenberg, the "million dollars" that did go to jail?

VISITING CANADA

In one way it is unfortunate that the United States felt called upon this year to require suddenly that all visiting Canadians must have passports.

This led many people to the natural conclusion that the thing worked both ways, and that passports were required of Americans visiting Canada.

That isn't true. Canada badly needs American tourists this summer because the dollars they spend enable Canada to use those dollars to buy badly needed supplies in the United States. So Canada did not apply the same restrictions against Americans that the Americans had just applied to her. Travel into Canada is no more restricted this year than it ever was.

In Canada it is generally believed that rumors of difficulty in traveling in Canada are deliberately spread by "fifth columnists" bent on discouraging this travel and thus handicapping Canada. Whether that is true or not, Americans ought generally to understand that Canada has left the door wide open this summer, war or no war, with "Welcome" written broadly on the mat.

California crystal gazer says Satan will take over the world in September. And it may not even require a blitzkrieg to do it.

• BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON—Assuming President Roosevelt runs for a third term, the nation ought to witness one of the most rip-snorting presidential campaigns on record.

For Wendell Willkie is another FDR. He has the same sort of magnetism, the same ability to take hold of a crowd and make it like him, the same flair for discarding precedents and doing unusual, crowd-compelling things. A Roosevelt-Willkie duel ought to be a spectacle such as American politics has not seen for generations.

But there is one big difference between the kind of campaign Willkie has made to date and the kind FDR made when he first went after the presidency; and if Willkie's pre-convention campaign is any indication of the kind of fight he will make this summer and fall, the coming scrap will be even more unusual.

Farley Mapped Campaign Carefully

This contrast is worth studying in some detail; for the Willkie method of campaigning is something new in politics, and to date it has been enormously effective.

First, consider the kind of campaign Jim Farley put on for FDR in the early stages of the 1932 pre-convention struggle.

Farley spent many months laying his lines. He not only saw all of the big party leaders, but practically all of the little ones as well. He got in touch with county chairmen and district leaders, by letter and by telephone and in person, and sowed the good seed for his candidate; as a result, when the Democratic convention convened he not only had an excellent set of pledged delegates, but an even larger number of delegates who knew about his candidate, were favorably disposed to him, and would break to him if occasion offered.

In other words, Farley played the game in the traditional way, played it with rare expertness, and came up a winner. He went out and got the delegates' votes, knew at all stages just where he stood, and had to do only a minimum of horse-trading to get results when the balloting started.

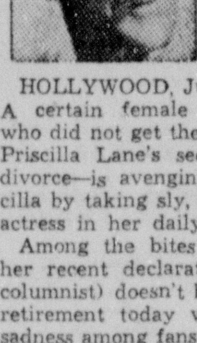
Willkie System Fooled Old-Timers

The Willkie campaign left all of that out.

Instead of appealing to the leaders and the delegates, the Willkie people appealed direct to the voters—and appealed with a thorough effectiveness never seen before. They went at it in much the way a smart business man with a new product to sell the public would go at it; they had a good product, they saw that everybody learned about it, and they let the public's demand do the rest.

As a result, practically all the old-timers in the party were fooled. When the convention opened they counted noses and saw that Willkie just didn't have the votes. As far as they were concerned, that settled it. As late as four hours before the actual nomination, some of the cagiest of them were asserting that "Willkie is stopped."

But this new technique made all the old rules fail; and the absorbing question among politicians right now is, how far can this technique be applied in the main campaign itself—and what will the Willkie people do with it?



JIMMIE FIDLER In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 13.—Dear Staff: A certain female reporter—the one who did not get the exclusive story of Priscilla Lane's secret marriage and divorce—is avenging herself on Priscilla by taking sly, hurtful digs at the actress in her daily column.

Among the bites she has taken is her recent declaration that she (the columnist) doesn't believe Miss Lane's retirement today would cause much sadness among fans. "One thing movie enthusiasts find it hard to forgive is being fooled," this reporter says, "and when young Miss Lane denied her marriage to Oren Haglund and later admitted it, she disappointed many of her admirers."

Bosh! Priscilla's admission or denial of marriage will have no effect whatsoever on her career. Most people believe an actress is entitled to do with her private life what she pleases—and if she pleases to keep her marriage secret, why should anyone (except a reporter who was scooped on the story) be angry or disappointed?

The fact that Miss Lane spent only 24 hours as a wife proves her marriage was a mistake. Is she, then, the first person to try to hide her mistakes? Is she to be hung for failing to rush to the newspapers with statements?

Priscilla had nothing to do with her story becoming public. I traced down her story and when I confronted her with undeniable facts she had to admit them!

Back-biting is very poor sportsmanship. I—and every other Hollywood columnist—have been scooped many times. What a miserable town this would be if all of us set out to belittle the stars about whom we were scooped.

As far as this column is concerned—and this goes for you, Staff, as well as for me—it must never be used to vent personal spite.

JIMMIE FIDLER.

Dear Boss: Why be such a kill-sport? And how, please, are we to maintain the traditional Hollywood attitude if you lay down commandments against the slicing of stellar gullets?

Here's today's quota of news and gossip: Because Jane's slated for almost continuous before-the-cameras toil this summer, Mrs. Withers has pledged her Arrowhead lake cottage for vacation use by the kids of 20th Century workers—and we think you should ring the chimes for that one. . . . Wot's this about Martha Raye long-distancing Dave Rose to talk reconciliation? . . . Members of Hollywood's second generation (Wally Reid, Jr., Bill Farnum, Jr., Mary Hay Barthelmess, Edward Arnold, Jr., Alice Joyce Moore, Mary Jo Desmond and Dwight Washburn) have recorded a new air-show and are now seeking a sponsor.

If you want evidence that romance talk about Bette Davis and her studio's publicity chief is not entirely press-agentry, check at Arthur and Renato's Italian restaurant—they dine there constantly. . . . Add fledgling airmen: Radio's Ray Hendricks, who's piling up the solo hours. . . . Looks like that Joan Valerie-Edgar Bergen heat wave has chilled—she's now doing the gay spots with a Hollywood insurance agent. . . . Today's wildest report: "News" that Luise Rainer is an Alexandria, Va., gal who, after drama classes in New York, was sent to Europe to acquire background and experience before facing American audiences.

And while we're on the subject of rumors, why all the publicity about Oscar Levant's screen "debut" in "Rhythm on the River"—he worked in pics 'way back yonder in '29. . . . It's Randy Scott who's slated for the prize lead in 20th Century-Zanuck's "Hudson's Bay Company." . . . And your pal, Mary Healy, is threatened with a well-deserved plum in the same studio's scheduled "Dance Hall." . . . Nelson Eddy's voice coach, Dr. Lippe, has donated his two pet mountain lions to a local zoo—at Nelson's insistence. The kitties liked to paw people with baritone voices.

Harry Baum, Judy Garland's dance partner in "Strike Up the Band," has an altar date with Bess Gordon, Chicago socialite, on the 21st instant. . . . Mrs. Hal (Ruth Dodd) LeRoy has signed for summer stock at Maplewood, N. J. . . . Vincent Price, whose stage play, "Poet's Corner," is drawing heavy sugar bids from New York producers, has nixed proposals that he play in it—he claims he's "not the type." . . . Guy Kibbee's current fishing jaunt to Oregon is business as well as pleasure—he's highlighting a Grantland Rice sports reel. . . . If anything happens to Jack Benny's famous Maxwell, he can find its peer in the jallope Kate Hepburn's driving this summer. . . . Educational note: Gloria Jean finished her school year with a straight "A" record in all subjects.

Laraine (Virginia's sister) Grey will screen debut in M-G-M's "The Golden Fleecing." . . . Patricia Morison is en route from New York with cousins John and Ursulla Skeat, English refugees who will share her Hollywood manse for the war's duration. . . . Paramount's 7-year-old "Sonny" Brewer is really impressed—Fred Allen called him by name without an introduction.

THE WAR TODAY

By DeWitt MacKenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer)

Hitler's unexpected delay in inaugurating his attempt to invade England a la William the Conquerer undoubtedly has been due in considerable measure to the strength shown by the British air force, both in dog-fight defense and in aggressive bombing raids deep into German territory.

An invasion would be a hazardous venture under the best of circumstances. With John Bull showing first class form in the preliminary skirmishes, it has behooved the fuehrer to proceed circumspectly with his preparations, which apparently is exactly what he is doing. He is a very thorough worker.

True, he has had other causes for delay. There has been the implied Russian threat to Germany in Russia's moves in the Balkans. And there has been the danger of an explosion among the fiery Balkan states themselves in connection with the Hungarian and Bulgarian territorial demands on Rumania.

It was a matter of wisdom to iron these matters out before letting loose the full fury of a blitzkrieg against England. Nazidom isn't keen about having trouble on two fronts at once.

Still, the British initiative and strength, both in the western theater and in the Mediterranean area, have signalled for caution. A surprising aspect of the position lies in the manner in which British air squads have been dealing with German raiding fleets which often have been greatly superior numerically.

This morning's British report claimed that 11 Nazi raiders had been destroyed in the previous 24 hours, and recorded that two British planes were reported missing. The air ministry said this made a total of 72 German planes shot down during the week.

Those losses, while serious, aren't at all disastrous for the Germans, as they have a huge air navy—much superior numerically to the British. However, the power exhibited by the English in these air fights is something to be taken into consideration in panning an invasion, since that must be preceded by a devastating air bombardment with great numbers of planes.

The Nazis undoubtedly are prepared to lose several thousand machines if it seems clear that they will achieve their object of bombing England into submission in the process. A Nazi reverse in such an attack, however, would be a hard blow for Germany, and for German prestige abroad.

In view of all this, some speculation has arisen among observers as to whether Herr Hitler might decide to abandon the idea of an invasion and concentrate on his starvation-blockade of the British Isles. The Germans claim to be sinking vast numbers of merchant ships, and there certainly is evidence that they are meeting with a measure of success in the anxiety exhibited in British official quarters over future food supplies.

Nobody knows what Hitler will do excepting Hitler. He might decide that his blockade would be more effective and less risky. Still, it strikes me that he will undertake the invasion if it seems at all feasible.

The Nazi leader wants to shorten the war as much as possible. His constant raiding is burning up gasoline at a rate which must far exceed the replacement, whereas Britain can get oil and gas, and other supplies, so long as she maintains control of the sea.

Also, Europe is headed fast for dire hunger, which likely will begin to be felt severely by fall. That will hit Germany along with the rest, and widespread famine conditions would create a situation which even a victorious Germany wouldn't want to face. A quick end to the conflict is what Hitler needs.

The way the war is going on now, with each side trying to strangle the other by blockade, it has ceased to be a conflict between fighting men and has resolved itself into a test of how much torture the civilian population can endure. How much hunger and privation they can stand. How much of the nerve shattering bombing they can take. How long they can bear the terrorizing slaughter of their children.

If the war should be protracted until it finally is determined by the starvation of one side, many of the civilians who have survived would better have died from bombs. Victor and vanquished may find themselves in the same boat, because Europe is inviting not only hunger but terrible economic chaos.

It will be strange if the winter doesn't produce grave civilian disorders in many countries, unless the war finds an ending very soon.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE PETRIFIED FALLS OF HIERAPOLIS—A wide, foaming cascade hurling itself from a great height and suddenly being changed to stone. The surface of the petrified falls is undulating like falling waves of water which have solidified in the act of falling. The pest photograph is inadequate to convey an idea of the astonishing spectacle which resembles a waterfall carved in marble, the colorless water becoming white in the act of solidifying. It is the work of a boiling spring flowing from Mount Mezoghis. Sheep wool dipped into this water is immediately dyed purple.

INVENTOR OF GUNPOWDER—Berthold Schwarz of Freiburg, Germany (1310-1384), the monk who invented gun powder and cast the first cannons (of bronze) for the Venetian government in 1377. But when Schwarz asked payment for his service, the Venetian government became irritated and had him put to death.

Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1940, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Back in 1933, little Ernst Udet, the German air ace, was on the short end of an argument with the high command of the Reichswehr. He wanted great swarms of airplanes and a general re-ordering of military tactic on the basis of the new weapon. The old-line army men insisted that the use of the airplane would be limited by the possibility of fitting it into classic military strategy. Their great Von Clausewitz had ordained certain methods of warfare as immutable as Blackstone's "laws of reason and justice," and any departure therefrom would be treason and folly.

The pint-size Udet was a flier and playboy who liked to throw big parties and shoot out all the lights, but he was not a politician. Furthermore, he was a commoner, a rough-and-tumble air stunter and racer, and had what seemed a juvenile preoccupation with rocket planes. None would have put a bet on him against the monocled vons this-and-that who ran the army.

But the big, bulbous Goering knew what Udet was talking about. He, too, was a flying man, and he knew that the first bomb dropped from a plane had wrecked a wide sector of venerated military tactic. Goering had his way. Germany built planes by the thousands, and so to little Udet was given a free hand in devising air strategy unhampered by precedent.

It was Udet who worked out the parachute penetration—the long forward pass in modern war—and it was he who, again prevailing over Reichswehr opposition, planted plane factories underground, dispersing manufacture among many plants so any enemy bomb would achieve only partial destruction. This while France and England were building plants as exposed and conspicuous as a ball upon a billard table. Goering continued to back Udet and it is indisputably true that Germany's power today is due to the fact that the political high command had vision enough to break pace with the past, put down the brass hats, write off most of Von Clausewitz and work in the world of the Wright brothers.

In England, also in that critical year of 1933, there was a parallel argument. England heaved out of the army one of its greatest military men, General J. F. Fullerton, because he kicked up a row about mechanizing the army. The general had led the British tank divisions in the World war. He begged and pleaded for tanks—droves of them—and, during the post-war years intoned the doom of England unless she built them and manned them. Out he went.

And, during these same years, France supplied another parallel, General Charles de Gaulle wrote books, lectured, agitated, implored France to build tanks— tanks— tanks. They threw a switch on him. He was shunted off into a military college. When the German iron legions crashed through, Colonel de Gaulle was summoned to head France's inadequate tank defenses. He fought valorously and was promoted to the rank of brigadier general in the three weeks of the losing battle, and when France succumbed he escaped to England to rally Frenchman throughout the world for continuing resistance.

There are those who say that refusal to adopt modern war methods in France and England is explained by treachery. There are others who say it was merely the hardening of the arteries of the ancient military caste. History may clear that up. More pertinent to us is a backward blance to 1926, when General Billy Mitchell was forced to a court-martial because he begged for airplanes and the organization of effective air defense. There is no hint of disloyalty in the recreance and reaction of our high army command in the past.

But there is, right on the boards, right out in front, right under our nose, the urgent, immediate, demanding issue of whether we shall repeat the follies of France and England and enter a leisurely seven-year stretch of battleship building when the shrieking demand of the hour is to flood the sky with planes. We have purposely left out of consideration the moral sanctions of Germany's achievement. Might is not right, but might is might, and that is what interests us just now—or ought to.

SET REVIVAL MEETING AT METHODIST CHURCH

A revival meeting at the Caliborne Methodist Church, on the Ruston road, three miles west of West Monroe, will begin today at 7:30 p.m. The pastor, Rev. J. M. Alford, will conduct the service. Rev. W. L. Doss, Jr., superintendent of the Monroe district, will attend Monday.

Services will be held daily at 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. Sam Lantrip will be the song leader which will continue through next Sunday. Rev. G. M. Akin, pastor of the Church of the Nazarine, will preach at the Gordon Avenue Church Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The Australian government had a surplus of $8,400,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30.

OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

David is almost four, alert and eager to see all that is to be seen. His eagerness leads him to strange places, such as the tops of gates, down cellars, behind counters, into garages where he has been hauled out from under cars, grease-covered but happy. He wanted to see how they looked underneath.

Such unaccountable behavior keeps the child's mother on edge. She has to keep him in sight every minute of the day, but, of course, sometimes loses him. He is away like a jack rabbit and she has to go looking for him all over the neighborhood.

There is nobody to leave him with so he has to be taken along on shopping trips and to the markets . His mother holds him by the hand just as long as she can. One day she was paying the bill at the counter and holding him before her with her knee against the counter. How he did it nobody knows, but when she had paid the bill and taken her change and reached down for David's hand, he was gone. It took an hour to find him. He was out in the back of the shop crawling in and out of crates to see what was in them.

When the streets are as unsafe as ours are, this is a dreadful situation for mother and child. Nobody can relieve his mother because nobody wants the responsibility for his safety. He has to get out for air and exercise. He climbs under and over the fence, no gate stops him, so the yard is no help.

The only solution I can see for such runaway children is a nursery school group for as many hours a day as the class is in session. Escort him to the class and back. He will stay with the children, and the teacher will make certain he does. It is much easier to hold him in a class than by himself.

When taking such a child downtown among the shoppers it is wise to put his harness on. That is an arrangement of straps, one cross his chest and back, one over each shoulder, riveted to the main one, and two stout lines. Horse lines, the children call this outfit. They like to play horse with it. The child's mother holds the lines and he trots along with her always under her hand.

Some such precaution as this is wise for all little ones who are finding their way about. It saves them from getting ahead of themselves on street crossings, from straying away from their mothers. No matter how watchful a mother is she is certain to forget the child for an instant, and that is long enough for him to get into trouble.

Baby pens are not helpful after the child walks well. He needs more freedom than the pen allows. For the creeping, toddling one the pen is just the thing.

Runaway children are those who exhaust the possibilities of home quicky. They want companionship, activity and adventure. Fitting up the yard with play equipment and bringing in playmates will help, but the nursery group and the harness seem to accomplish more.

Help your youngster to adjust, easily and happily, to the problems of association. Send for Angelo Patri's booklet, "Your Child and Other People," enclosing ten cents in coin. Address Angelo Patri, care this newspaper, P. O. Box 75, Station O, New York, N. Y.

Sunday School Lesson

TEXT: JOB 42:1-13

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
(Editor of Advance)

We have seen Job in the depth of doubt, distressed by the intensity of his disasters and sufferings, more distressed than helped by the complacent and futile counsel of his friends who are incapable of appreciating the depth and nature of his troubles, and tempted by the whole situation to "curse God and die."

Here in this lesson we see him emerging from his troubles and his doubts into the strength of faith. His faith is so strong that now, instead of cursing God and dying, he feels that he can trust God even though He should slay him.

It should be noted that it was faith that Job attained. He did not find a solution of the problem of suffering, and no one has found a solution. It is a great mystery that still goes unsolved. Jesus went to Calvary, praying earnestly that He might be spared the Cross, but He also found in the hour of Gethsemane the faith that sustained Him and that enabled Him to believe that in His sufferings and death He was fulfilling the will of an allwise Father and His purposes of redemption.

All this is greatly at variance with the popular idea of doubt. The common notion is that we should suppress it, that we should not allow any questioning to enter our minds concerning God and His Providence. But the book of Job and many other parts of the Bible speak differently. They suggest that we should face the problems of life earnestly and sincerely, and that if we do thus face them we shall come not to a conventional belief that has little reality, but that we shall come to real faith.

All this has never been more finely expressed in modern times than in Tennyson's great poem, In Memoriam, which has sometimes been called "A Modern Book of Job." Tennyson wrote this poem, deeply moved by the death of his friend Arthur Henry Hallam. In one section he is replying to someone who has expressed the conventional idea that "doubt is Devil-born." In this he says:

I know not: one indeed I knew
In many a subtle question versed,
Who touch'd a jarring lyre at first,
But ever strove to make it true;

Perplext in faith, but pure in deeds,
At last he beat his music out.
There lives more faith in honest doubt,
Believe me, than in half the creeds.

He fought his doubts and gather'd strength,
He would not make his judgment blind,
He faced the spectres of the mind
And laid them; thus he came at length

To find a stronger faith his own,
And Power was with him in the night,
Which makes the darkness and the light,
And dwells not in the light alone.

As Job comes to faith and finds the approval of Jehovah, his triumph is in contrast with the discomfort of his plausible friends who had tried to cheer him with weak and superficial words and who in their shallow pretense of faith had rebuked him for his doubts. The wrath of Jehovah is kindled against them because they had not spoken of Him the thing that was right.

We may well pray for a sustaining faith like Job's and seek it instead of being satisfied with the plausible platitudes of those who have never cried to God out of the depths or found His answer.

U. S. Capitol Took 72 Years to Build

THE United States Capitol, pictured on the U. S. $2 stamp above of the 1922-23 postage series, was started in 1793, completed in 1865. George Washington laid the cornerstone of the main building.

The central building, topped by an iron dome, is of Virginia sandstone, the extensions of Massachusetts marble. The Capitol is 751 feet long, 350 feet wide, covers 3½ acres.

The wings of the central building were completed in 1811, partially burned by the British in 1814. The central building was finished in 1827.

The iron dome is 135 feet in diameter at the base, weighs 4000 tons. The statue of Freedom is 307 feet from the ground. The statue itself is 19½ feet high.

PAYROLLS JUMPED IN MONROE AREA

expenses made by the new appropriation for the departments.

Under the reorganization bill the hospital board will be separated from the welfare department and the hospitals now under its jurisdiction merged in the department of institutions.

The service and informational project, which had a payroll of $3,445 for the month of June, 1939, became extinct today with the resignation of James L. McCarthy, its director of procedures.

The other 20 employes of the project have left the payroll or been transferred to other divisions during the intervening year.

The project did publicity work for the dental trailers and other undertakings of the department.

The number of employes of the combined departments, excluding the employes of the hospitals themselves, declined from 2,022 on February 15 to approximately 1,750 now. The peak payroll was in February, $241,587, approximately 20 per cent of the revenues of the department from both state and federal sources.

The payroll of the Huey P. Long Charity Hospital at Pineville showed it had 198 employes in February, during which month 276 patients were treated.

The hospital was opened October 1, 1939, with Dr. O. W. McFarland, son-in-law of the late Huey P. Long, as superintendent.

He was first employed March 16, 1938, as medical advisor to A. R. Johnson, director of the combined departments, at $250 a month. The salary a month later was doubled.

Shortly before Governor Richard W. Leche resigned McFarland was appointed superintendent of the Pineville institution, then not completed, at $8,000 a year. Governor Earl K. Long reduced this to $6,000 a year.

GOV. JONES KILLS MANY MEASURES

national guard officers with $50 each for uniforms and equipment.

"While desirable," he said, regarding this bill, "it is unnecessary and I am sure soldiers will patriotically support this view in order to effect economies."

The governor also vetoed a bill by Representative Frank Stich, of New Orleans, to allow the city to sell its public markets by repealing a provision requiring such sales must be approved by the state bond and tax board.

"The public market system of New Orleans affords a living to thousands of small merchants and vegetable dealers," he said. "It would, in my opinion, be unwise to jeopardize their livlihood."

While the governor vetoed a bill which would have authorized the state to purchase a portable electric chair and require parish police juries to pay $100 for each execution, he approved another measure substituting electrocution for hanging as means for carrying out capital punishment.

It was explained that costs of executions now are borne by sheriffs and the bill vetoed would have transferred the costs to the police juries. Advisors of the governor said the law authorizing electrocutions implied authority for the state penitentiary to purchase a portable electric chair to carry it out.

A digest of the bills vetoed by the governor follows (with a summation of his reasons for veto in parenthesis):

H. 410, Domengeaux—To repeal provisions of liquor law which permit exportation only by common carrier. (Conflict with new liquor tax statute).

H. 434, Martinez and Lottinger—To levy severance tax of one-cent per dollar sale value on animal and alligator skins. (Present tax sufficient).

H. 495, Rainold (request)—To include oil royalties among instruments coming within legal definition of securities. (Conflicts with new "blue sky law").

H. 748, Stich—To amend act fixing cost owing to Orleans parish civil sheriff. (No comment).

H. 314, Brister, Klock and Smith—To fix minimum wages for employes in state insane and feeble-minded institutions. (Would handicap reorganization for economy; as funds are available, conditions can be bettered).

H. 191, Womack—To appropriate $25,000 to public service commission for its participation before Interstate Commerce Commission in freight rate cases. (Appropriation of $10,000 in governor's appropriation for same purpose).

H. 112, Klock, Jack, Brister and Smith—To establish minimum wages for firemen in cities between 16,000 and 250,000 population. (Violates "home rule" in that legislates on municipal matters).

H. 306, Parker and Bacque—to create Louisiana seed certification board to be financed by $1 tax per acre on seed grown for certification. (Conflicts with fiscal code by setting up separate tax collecting agency).

H. 113, Barranger and Brownell—To provide for state participation in federal wild life programs. (Duplicates another bill which passed).

H. 749, Stich—To provide that Orleans parish civil sheriff shall be allowed fees and expenses for conveying insane persons to hospitals on same scale as sheriffs receive for transporting prisoners. (15 cents per mile "seems more than adequate").

H. 181, Crais—To require registration with state police of all alien sand non-native born persons. (Duplicates work done by federal government).

H. 232, Bacque and Parker (request)—To create the Louisiana sweet potato advertising agency. (Objectives are good but conflicts with fiscal code by setting up a new tax collecting egency.)

H. 135, Delony—To establish Lake Providence game and fish preserve in East Carroll parish. Conflicts with the reorganization bill and sets up an independent agency conflicting with conservation department.)

H. 145, Watson—To provide retirement system for employes of state libarary commission. (Further state pensions should be considered as to all employes, not a particular department. State is not ready financially to embark on general pension program.)

H. 34, Bacque, Baker and Banister—To restrict powers of governor in calling out national guard and repeal law preventing courts from taking jurisdiction over militia calls. (Duplicates another bill already approved.)

H. 126, Stich—To repeal law prohibiting New Orleans from disposing of public markets without consent of state bond and tax board. (The public market system of New Orleans affords a living to thousands.. It would be unwise to jeopardize their livlihood.)

H. 628, Rainold—To dedicate proceeds of kerosene tax to tuberculosis work. (Limits decentralization of tax monies and is in conflict with fiscal code.)

H. 874, Petitjean—To appropriate $2,000 to board of commissioners for promotion of uniformity of legislation. (Law institute's regular appropriation sufficient for this work also.)

H. 409, Domengeaux—To amend optometry act. (Opposed by many medical men; unnecessary.)

H. 487, Rainach and others—To create divisions within state department of education. (Conflicts with fiscal code and would prevent economy.)

H. 761, Blasi—To provide fees for civil sheriff of New Orleans. (No comment.)

H. 511, Williams—To fix salary of Washington parish assessor at $5,000 a year. (Bill's effect contrary to intention.)

H. 450, Savarese, Santos and Barranger—To set up pension system for New Orleans Sewerage and Water Board employes. (Figures lacking to show whether board can afford contributions required.)

H. 760, Blasi—To allow municipalities to levy service charges on housing authorities. (No additional costs should be put on housing authorities.)

H. 750, Stich—To provide that custodian of records in Orleans parish shall pay a 50-cent fee for service of notices to civil sheriff. (No comment.)

H. 176, Smith, Brister, Klock and Jack—To establish civil service for firemen and policemen in cities of 15,000 to 100,000 population. (Violates "home rule" and places too much power in governor.)

H. 399, Klock—To give owner of stallion, jack or bull liens for service fees. (Conflicts with another measure.)

H. 137, Domengeaux and Benson—To create state service commissioner for Disabled American Veterans of the World war with $7,500 appropriation. (Under reorganization plan, various veteran organizations will be represented in division of welfare department.)

H. 780, Barranger and Blanchard—To authorize Mrs. Lena Marquette Le Blanc to sue state. (Duplicates another bill.)

H. 268, Watson—To appropriate $200,000 a year for next two years for purchasing state library books. (Inopportune at this time due necessity economize.)

H. 602, Bacque—To appropriate $8,500 a year to provide $50 allowance for uniform and equipment of national guard officers. (Inopportune at this time due necessity economize.)

H. 745, Watson—To appropriate $3,421.99 as refund to W. A. Leinendecker for taxes and purchase of land in Red River parish. (Remedy would be through application to state board of examiners.)

S. 31, Fisher—To provide for state's purchase of portable electric chair and for payment of an operator appointed by the governor who would be paid $100 for each execution plus expenses by parish police jury. (Uneconomical as requires payment by police jury where cost of executions now borne by sheriffs.)

S. 87, Juneau—To create Louisiana sweet potato advertising agency to promote sweet potato industry, providing penalties for non-payment of license for shipping sweet potatoes. (Conflicts with fiscal code and reorganization bill by granting power of taxation to independent agency.)

S. 284, Stafford—To require fire insurance companies to pay losses within 60 days. (Present law has worked satisfactorily for two decades and needs no change.)

S. 290, Goff—To prohibit compulsory inspection of watermelons by state market and warehouse commission. (Bill too broad.)

COMMISSION HEAD TELLS OF ACTION

part by increased distribution of surplus commodities, expansion of school lunch programs and provision of factory workshop luncheons at low cost.

One item in Stettinius' report which attracted particular attention was a prediction that by the end of this month plans will be complete to produce synthetic rubber in the future, if required, in quantities sufficient to free American industry entirely from dependence on the Far East.

Similar reassuring reports for other critical and strategic materials were contained in a statement which added that actual acquisition of reserves was proceeding at "a most encouraging rate."

Stressing the cooperation of government agencies and industry, Stettinius disclosed that the government was notified Monday that a stock of tungsten and antimony was available near Indo-China, which was bought the next day by cable order and is now on the way to the United States.

Because the German occupation of Belgium cut off supplies of webbing for parachutes, he said steps had been taken to assemble flax supplies in this country to meet army and navy requirements.

Against the possibility that American supplies of tin from the distant straits settlements might be cut off, Stettinius said the commission was conferring with representatives of four smelting concerns looking to creation of a domestic smelting plant to use ores produced in Bolivia and now shipped to England for processing.

LABOR LETTER

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Belief that the needs of national defense might bring an end to organized labor's five-year-old civil war was expressed at the White House today after 16 officials of the C. I. O., the A. F. L. and railway labor unions had pledged cooperation in the defense program.

The promise of cooperation was given to President Roosevelt in a letter signed by the labor officials who make up the labor policy advisory committee of the National Defense Commission. This committee was created recently for the announced purpose of preventing stoppages of work in vital defense industries and preserving labor standards.

Expressing "full and unstinted devotion to our country and to the program of national defense," the union leaders told the president:

"We and our membership are united in our effort and determination to give effective and expeditious cooperation in the fulfillment of the defense program, and to contribute to a free and secure democracy."

Stephen Early, Mr. Roosevelt's press secretary, made public the letter and commented that it represented the nearest thing to a united labor front since the A. F. L.-C. I. O. split developed.

Saying the letter had made the president quite happy, Early added that it was a good one because it showed that national defense might be the means of bringing labor together again.

a man Pendergast helped put there—R. Emmet O'Malley. By the terms of that settlement, the insurance companies were awarded 80 per cent of the money and the policy holders 20 per cent.

Last year O'Malley also pleaded guilty to income tax evasion and went to prison. The government charged he was paid $62,500 in the settlement.

The three-judge federal court which had approved the compromise ordered the case reopened as a result of the charges and the money returned to the court.

Today a grand jury charged that Pendergast, who finished his prison term May 30, with allowance for good behavior, conspired with O'Malley, who was freed March 18, and A. L. McCormack, a St. Louis insurance man, to obstruct justice in the case. The government charges McCormack acted as the "go-between."

After today's indictments were returned Richard K. Phelps, acting United States district attorney, asked that the three men be cited for contempt of court in connection with the settlement.

NAZIS SAY SHIPS OF BRITISH TAKEN

Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, said that the gun turrets of the 42,100-ton British battle cruiser Hood, largest warship afloat, had been so severely damaged they could not be repaired at the Gibraltar base.

But German efforts to blockade Britain through constant aerial attack were declared in London to have failed. Summing up the effect of a week's repeated air raids, British sources said only slight damage had been done to their vital shipping and at a cost of about four-score German warplanes worth about $4,000,000.

British fliers, fighting off waves of Nazi air raiders, shot down 12 German planes—six bombers and six fighters—Friday. Half of them were accounted for in one big air battle over the Straits of Dover. The British acknowledged losing one fighter.

The toll of German planes lost in the aerial forays, according to air ministry figures, exceeds 90 since July 4.

British fliers, it declared, raided German-held soil twice in 24 hours, setting fires at Kiel and Emden, German naval bases, and attacking other military objectives.

Britain, meanwhile, stepped up her readiness for expected German invasion by enrolling 300,000 additional conscripts. She now has more than 3,300,000 men called to the colors.

Further bulwarking Britain, an understanding that British troops may cross Ireland's frontier after a raid by a hostile power was reported in well-posted Dublin sources.

Rumania, falling more and more into step with the Rome-Berlin axis, heeded German advice and ordered hundreds of thousands of farmer-soldiers back to their fields to harvest the wheat.

She also was reported threatening to withdraw from the Balkan entente unless Turkey, another member, ousts officials who fostered the Turkish mutual assistance pacts with Great Britain and France.

By John Lloyd

VICHY, France, July 13.—(AP)—The authoritarian Petain-Laval government of France sought the answers tonight to two important questions; the United States' attitude toward French colonies in the Western Hemisphere, and the German conditions under which the French government may return to Nazi-held Paris and Versailles.

On the former, foriegn ministry sources said that an inquiry had been sent to Washington. No reply has been received, but this is laid here to poor communications.

(One French possession in the Western Hemisphere, the West Indian island of Martinique, has been virtually blockaded by the British since French-British relations were disrupted.)

On the latter, Leon Noel, Petain's plenipotentiary in the German-occupied portion of France, returned from Paris for consultations but it was not disclosed what he brought.

Authorized circles said the government's desire to go to Paris and Versailles depends on assurances of complete liberty of action and French-controlled means of communication with the rest of France.

The Petain-Laval program calls for transfer of the seat of government to the palace at Versailles and most of the ministers back to the left bank of the Seine in Paris, with the Germans to move out of this area.

The change possibly would occur in two weeks.

In addition to these questions, the French government confronts the great problems of getting millions of refugees back to their homes and setting industry and agriculture to work again.

French refugees, officially estimated at 10,000,000, are trickling back home.

Operations are being re-established on the Toulouse-Paris railroad, and thus a mass return of capital residents is in immediate prospect.

The government intends to devote its energy to building French recovery as a primarily agricultural country. To further this end, farm-workers are the first to be demobilized from the army.

A kind of an inner economic cabinet will be formed to coordinate the restoration of operations in essential industries.

The public learned today that Germany had agreed to a revision of the armistice clauses to place certain sea and river ports from the mouth of the Seine to Bidassao, on the Spanish frontier, under French naval supervision, with the right to organize local defense.

Nantes, Rouen and Bordeaux were mentioned especially. Unoccupied Mediterranean and French African ports have the same status.

It also was reported that the government will hitch the French franc to the American dollar, at a rate of about 43.40, transferring it from the English pound.

KILLS WIFE, SELF IN WEST MONROE

with the shotgun and instead of answering her he shot her in the right side just below the arm. Mrs. Jordan fell in the doorway, dying instantly. The children, hearing the shot and seeing their mother in the doorway, immediately fled, with the exception of Nina, it was reported.

Jordan walked up on the porch, passed through the house and into the back yard, where the gun was discharged again. Circing the house, Jordan approached the porch again and questioned Nina as to the condition of her mother, and Nina stated that she was dead, according to the sheriff's department.

Jordan then came upon the porch, and standing two or three feet from the body of his wife, killed himself, falling back with his head hanging from the edge of the porch, Nina said.

Nina immediately joined the other children who had fled to neighbors, some to the Steeds and some to Walter Gililand's, it was reported.

From Gililand's, some one went to the home of U. P. Evans, who called Deputy Frank Cline.

At the time of the shooting, Mrs. Jordan, separated from her husband for about 30 days, was living with her chidren, Nina, 15; Dorothy, 13; J. D., 12; Nellie Grace, 10; Ida May, 9, and Jimmie, 3, on the place of R. L. White, just off the old Arkansas road some eight or 10 miles out of Monroe.

DEMOCRATS READY TO OPEN MEETING

the president, and Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins, the president's confidant and personal convention representative—in fact went into conference with each other during the day. Hopkins called on Farley.

"I had a very pleasant talk with Mr. Hopkins about the pending situation," Farley jovially told a press conference later. "We had an interesting chat. He said Farley was running all right."

Farley is a candidate, and one whose name is to go before the convention whether the president's is presented or not. He has been planning to relinquish his post as national chairman. However, much pressure was being exerted upon him to continue for a time, as a gesture toward party harmony, and many considered it an open question whether the expert political technician, who directed the 1932 and 1936 Roosevelt campaigns, would also get the president's 1940 drive started, at least.

When a reporter asked whether Hopkins had endeavored to persuade him to do so, he declined to answer, and said he would reply "in due course" to the direct question whether he would retain his present party position.

Two floors below, Paul V. McNutt, a candidate but one whose name will not be presented if the president's is, opened headquarters in keeping with the sumptuous coming-out party that got his candidacy started in Washington two years ago.

To vaulted ceilings, marble floors, and red plush draperies, there had been added rods of red, white and blue bunting, with swinging white tassels and huge pictures of McNutt and other Indiana politicos. But the biggest picture of all was a head and shoulders of President Roosevelt fully 32 feet high.

"How long do you expect to keep open here?" a reporter asked at a press conference. The answer was lost in a guest of laughter.

McNutt told the reporters he thought the president would "be nominated and accept."

"Do you think he will be reelected?"

"Certainly," he quickly replied.

Through a dense fog of cigar smoke, meanwhile, a procession of witnesses bombarded the platform committee with requests that special planks be included. Peace organizations, the American Youth Congress, women's organizations, business groups, farm agencies, federal workers, and many more had their say. However, it was said on good authority that certain essential features of the platform already had been agreed upon before the leaders left Washington.

'EQUAL RIGHTS'

By Ruth Cowan

CHICAGO, July 13.—(AP)—Helen Hunt West, youthful Jacksonville, Fla., attorney, with large dark eyes, urged the Democratic Platform Committee to endorse an equal rights for women plank, declaring:

"Women are people and not angels in need of special legislative protection."

She turned a routine committee meeting into such a question-and-answer session Friday that Senator Wagner, New York, chairman, adjourned the gathering because "the members are visiting as though they had a date."

Admittedly nervous but determined, Mrs. West, a former newspaperwoman and the wife of a Jacksonville newspaperman, said:

"I represent the National Association of Women Lawyers. What we want is equal legal rights with men as people.

"We have been protected a little like Norway for our own good—and we've suffered for it."

Senator Wagner and Committeeman Thomas Kennedy, Pennsylvania, cited instances of legislation to prevent women from working in dangerous occupations.

"I don't think legislators ever kept house," answered Mrs. West. "Furthermore, you don't favor protective legisation for weak men, do you? A man who isn't very strong doesn't take a miner's job. He becomes a bookkeeper, for example."

The Republican platform, she added, contains an equal rights plank.

Randolph Carpenter, the Kansas member of the committee, wanted to know how under the proposal women would be affected in case of conscription.

"If a nation decides to conscript its natural resources—well, women are part of those resources," said Mrs. West. "In time of war every nation becomes a dictatorship—and then all rules are off."

AUDIENCES HAIL CHURCH SERVICES

Fine audiences have been attending the nightly services conducted by J. M. Powell, minister from Atlanta, Ga., at the new Monroe Church of Christ building, Jackson and Texas streets.

The meeting will continue during the major portion of the week. The Tuesday night's subject of Mr. Powell will be, "Why We Don't Use Mechanical Instruments of Music in Our Worship."

Sunday services will include Sunday school, 9:45 a.m., church worship, 10:45 a.m., and worship at 7:45 p.m.

Six additions have been made to the local congregation since the meeting started.

BIRTHS

St. Francis sanitarium announced the following births:

Boy, to Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Edaey, West Monroe, Friday.

Girl, to Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dubos, Monroe, Friday.

Girl, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jowers, West Monroe, Saturday.

WATERPROOF, July 13.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Miller, Jr., announce the arrival of a daughter, Mary Jeanette, July 7, at the Natchez Sanitarium.

MANGHAM, La., July 13.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baker announce the arrival of a son, Charles Edgar, July 7 at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Airoldi of Corpus Christi, Tex., formerly of Monroe, announce the arrival of their second child, a girl, July 10. Mrs. Airoldi was the former Jean Schier.

DEATHS

J. H. DYCUS

Josh Holman Dycus, 72, retired farmer of West Monroe, died at his home Friday at 5:30 p.m.

Funeral services were held at the Penecostal church on the Jonesboro road Saturday afternoon with Rev. E. H. McManus officiating. Interment was in the Mt. Vernon cemetery.

Mr. Dycus is survived by his widow, Mrs. Florence Eva Dycus; one daughter, Mrs. Cora Mae Bynum, Popular Bluff, Mo.; two sons, Abner Dycus, Dyersville, Tenn., and Ivan D. Dycus, West Monroe.

Pallbearers were Clarence Porter, Henry Smith, J. R. Frands, Eslie Guess, Monroe Jones and O. C. Lehigh.

The Dixie Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

BRITAIN ATTACK IS YET TO COME

see when the real thing begins. This is child's play compared with it."

So certain is Hitler of victory over Britain in case her statesmen decide to continue the fight that hundreds of thousands of troops who had been stationed in the west have been transferred eastward during the part week.

The collapse of France ended the necessity of keeping the Siegfried Line fully manned. According to official information these men now are being taken to their home garrisons. Many receive furloughs to work on their farms or at their trades and businesses, for there is a dearth of male hands everywhere in Germany.

Moreover, their presence in Eastern and Southeastern Germany as well as in occupied Poland is notification to the world that Germany intends to exert her influence on all questions affecting Eastern and Southeastern Europe while at the same time final preparations are completed for a blitzkrieg of hitherto unknown ferocity.

To reveal specifically wherein these preparations lie would be tantamount to imparting forbidden military information. It must be assumed, however, that the completeness, thoroughness and circumspection of the preparations are equal at least to those preceding the Norwegian and western campaigns.

It will be recalled that at the beginning of last winter even high-ranking German military officers doubted that a huge army could be kept in the bunkers, pillboxes and fortresses of the Siegfried Line throughout the winter without getting depressed, dissatisfied and even rebellious.

But Hitler insisted the army must use those winter months for incessant practice at tasks which were in the offing. Newsreels of that period showed German soldiers, in rain, sleet and snow, going through exactly the sort of Indian-like advance—by leaps from house to house, from ditch to ditch, through streams and forests and across fields—which proved so effective in Belgium and France.

Hitler's patient waiting through the winter had a two-fold advantage.

For one thing, when the western offensive really began on May 10 his troops so often had practiced what they were expected to do that the actual performance was almost automatic.

The Allies, on the other hand, may have been lulled into a sense of false security. They may have forgotten that during those comparatively quiet months Czech fortifications in the Sudetenland, built on the principles of France's Maginot Line, and in German hands after the Munich pact, were being used as targets until exactly that type of weapon was evolved which could pierce even the seemingly invincible French fortifications line and its extensions to Belgium.

Since the close of the Norwegian campaign it has become common knowledge that for weeks before the invasion German troops practiced getting off boats and into immediate action.

Similarly, since the close of the western offensive, it is known about the capture of the Belgian fortress Eben Emael that an exact replica was built in Northern Germany, and that parachute troops descended on that replica in 30 practice raids, hurling thermite bombs at the big guns and steel-lined embrasures and capturing the "astonished" garrison.

It also is known that Hitler, before issuing orders for the western offensive, had special weapons designed—such as the so-called "bunker cannon"—to meet the particular situation created by the existence in France of the Maginot Line.

One hears now on all sides that special weapons also have been constructed and special modes of attack have been practised for the planned invasion of the British Isles.

NEGRO LEAGUE PLANS ITS ACHIEVEMENT DAY

The Negro Self-Help League and 4-H clubs of Ouachita parish will hold their annual Achievement day, Tuesday at the Negro 4-H Club camp four miles south of Calhoun, it was announced Saturday. Activities will get under way at 10 a.m.

The winning group will be taken to Southern University to participate in the state contest, it was said.

This Achievement day is held for the purpose of teaching better methods of farming and homemaking, by having an exhibit of needlework, handicraft, and farm and garden products on display. Demonstrations will be given by local leaders, 4-H Club members and specialists from L. S. U. Extension Service.

The following have been invited to appear on the program Tuesday: Professor R. W. E. Jones, president of the Louisiana Negro Rural Normal, Grambling; Clyde Ingram, poultry specialist, University; Mrs. Kate Wilkins, supervisor of adult education, Ouachita parish; Professor T. J. Jordan, state agent for Negro extension work; Mrs. Jewel L. McQuiller, home demonstration agent, and D. L. Bornman, county agent, Ouachita parish, and P. J. Boyd, supervisor, Farm Security Administration.

ALL-STARS NOSE OUT MONROE IN SHORT GAME

WHITE SOX LOSE, 3 TO 1, AS RAIN HALTS CONTEST

Douthat Strikes Out Schang With Bases Loaded In Fourth

Scoring single runs in the second, third and fourth innings, the Cotton State league All-Stars defeated Monroe's league-leading White Sox, 3 to 1, here last night in a game called at the end of the seventh inning because of rain.

GREENWOOD HERE TODAY

The Greenwood Choctaws visit Casino park today for a single game with the White Sox. The game will get under way at 2:30 p.m. Manager Poco Taitt of the White Sox said that Kelton Maxfield would hurl for Monroe, while Pat Malone will do the chunking for the Chocs.

It was the first All-Star game ever played in the Cotton States league and a small but enthusiastic crowd turned out for the contest. Rain delayed the game some twenty minutes and the first two frames were played in a steady drizzle. A downpour previously had drenched the diamond and undoubtedly prevented a capacity crowd from witnessing the tilt.

Each team got but five hits, but after the first inning, the three All-Star hurlers successfully throttled Monroe batsmen. Dewey Adkins, big Pine Bluff right-hander, who was sold to Oklahoma City Wednesday, but who delayed reporting so that he could participate in the game, pitched the first two innings and was touched for the only Sox score, that in the first, when the Sox bunched two hits and an error by Burt Hodge, the Greenville second-sacker.

Dick Douthat, Greenville southpaw, and Lloyd Finck, Helena right-hander, followed Adkins on the mound, and were equally effective, although Douthat got in trouble through wildness in the fourth inning. The Sox filled the bases in that frame as a result of a single and two bases on balls, but were unable to score.

Tom Perry and Ray Hoffman shared the mound duties for the White Sox, and Perry, who worked four innings, was charged with the loss with all three runs being scored against him. Adkins was the winning hurler.

Monroe scored first in the first frame. Joe Eagar walked and was picked off first base, but Burt got a single over third. Hill hit a ground-

CHAMPS TANGLE THURSDAY NIGHT

Russ Riley Meets George Becker On Local Wrestling Card

Gus Kallio, local wrestling promoter, has succeeded in arranging a match for Thursday's main event that should be as good as ever seen in Monroe.

That match is between two champions, George Becker who is the world's light heavy champ, and Russ Riley, United States junior light heavy champ. For the pleasure of the fans who like the rough stuff the semi-final will bring together Cowboy Purdin and Poggi, two masters of the meanie style.

Last Thursday night Gus Kallio announced that he would do his best to bring George Becker back to Monroe and match him with a worthy opponent. A more suitable opponent than Russ Riley would be hard to find among the matmen that have been to Monroe.

Those who saw Becker subdue Poggi in a recent bout will readily vouch for the former's wrestling ability. After having taken a lot of punishment from Poggi, who is plenty tough, Becker showed the fans how a champion can stay within the bounds of clean wrestling and still do a first class job of taming a toughie.

However, Russ Riley is a good clean scientific wrestler and, consequently, will make the match one long to be remembered. The manner in which Riley has defended his present title since winning it from Sugi Hayamaka certainly makes him worthy of a chance at the world's light heavyweight championship.

Poggi, while he was rather overbearing with his rough stuff in a match with Becker a few weeks ago, showed that he is quite a matman when he defeated Sugi Hayamaka at a still earlier date. As for his opponent, Cowboy Purdin, it is to be concluded that anyone that is able to beat Carlos Rodriguez, as Purdin did last week, is man enough to make it very interesting for most any wrestler of Poggi's type.

The first match is scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m.

PING PONG TOURNEY

W. P. A. recreation leaders, Mrs. Ollie Green and Mr. T. J. Irby, staged a ping pong tournament at the Crosley school playground Friday. There were 12 participants in the contests, which were run off by elimination. Davis Baker and Robert Horne were the finalists with Baker winning 21 to 9.

VOLS BLANK LOOKOUTS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 13.—(AP)—Young Johnny Sain turned in a near four-hit pitching job today to blank the Chattanooga Lookouts and give the Nashville Vols the opening game of the series, 3-0.

Making his first start since an injury forced him out two weeks ago, the big right-hander was master of the Cuylermen at all times, allowing only one man as far as third and only two to second. He received great support as the Vols kept up their swift double play pace, committing three twin-killings.

BARONS BEAT PELS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 13.—(AP)—Little Rock strategy backfired here today and Birmingham won 3-2 over the Travelers in the tenth inning.

With one out in the tenth and Fred Tauby on second after a single, Little Rock Manager Herb Bret signaled a walk for Dutch Mele to set up a double play. Chuck Aleno, who had been hitless for the day, came up with a surprise single to score Tauby.

CRACKERS WALLOP SMOKIES

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 13.—(AP)—Atlanta cuffed long John Koneff for seven runs in the third inning today and went on to win the first of a three-game series from Knoxville, 11 to 1.

While the Crackers were slamming out 16 blows off Koneff and his relief, Paul Smith, Charley Burgess was coasting along with a nifty six-hit flinging job.

YANKS IN FORM, GRAB BOTH ENDS OF DOUBLEHEADER

Chicago White Sox Spank Boston Red Sox Twice 5-0, 7-0

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—(AP)—The first place Cleveland Indians swept a three game series from the Athletics today, taking advantage of five Philadelphia misplays to win, 6 to 4.

Four of the errors came in the eighth and ninth innings and Ken Keltner and Lou Boudreau promptly followed them up with singles that shattered a 4-4 tie.

With one down in the eighth Al Brancato let Ray Mack's roller go through him for a two-base error. Keltner then singled to center to drive in Mack with what proved to be the winning run.

In the ninth Lillard first fumbled and then threw wild on Ben Chapman's grounder. After Roy Weatherly sacrificed, Boudreau singled to left to bring in Chapman.

The A's had a great chance to tie or go ahead in the eighth, with one down and men on third and first. Pinch-hitter Chubby Dean, trying to bunt, fouled to Keltner. Johnny Allen, who had replaced Mel Harder, then walked Al Rubeling to fill the bases, but Pinch-hitter Wally Moses grounded to Mack for the last out.

CHISOX WIN TWO

BOSTON, July 13.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox spanked the Boston Red Sox in both ends of a double header today, capturing the first game, 5-0, and completing the sweep, 7-0, in the nightcap behind the two-hit pitching of Big Jack Knott.

Luke Appling and Mike Tresh led the 10-hit Chisox attack in the opener as aging Ted Lyons chalked up his sixth triumph of the season and his second whitewashing of the rival Crimson Hose this year.

Little "Skeeter" Webb, Taft Wright and Lanky Bob Kennedy continued the assault in the second game as the Dykesmen pounded 15 hits off the service of Jack Wilson, Fritz Ostermueller and Charlie Wagner.

The twin defeat dropped the Red Sox down close to the surging fourth place Yankees.

WRIGHT LEADING AMERICAN HITTERS

Chicago Right Fielder Has Fractional Margin Over Appling

CHICAGO, July 13.—(AP)—The hot race for hitting honors in the American league continues unabated among four stalwarts who have been in the lead or close to it all season.

Taft Wright, Chicago's chubby right fielder, is the current pace-setter, having a fractional margin over his teammate, Luke Appling. Wright lost four points during the week, but still shows the way with a mark of .3564, through Friday's games. Appling, who led the league in hitting in 1936 with a .388 mark, gained seven points, boosting him to .3557.

Lou Finney of Boston stayed in third place at .355 and Rip Radcliff, St. Louis, leader a week ago, dropped six points to .354. All but Appling have led the league's hitters this season.

Trailing the first four are Barney McCosky, Dertiot, .348; Cecil Travis, Washington, .347; Frank Hayes, Philadelphia, .344; Hank Greenberg, Detroit, .338; Ted Williams, Boston, .338, and Julius Solters, Chicago, .329.

Back in 12th place is Joe DeMaggio, New York, the 1939 champion, who jumped from 23rd place with a gain of 12 points. His mark is .317.

Most of the departmental leaders remained unchanged, partly because of the abbreviated schedule due to the All-Star game.

Greenberg's runs-batted-in total of 71 is tops, as is his two base hit total of 31. McCosky shares the triple-hitting leadership with Finney at 11. Boston's Jimmy Foxx hit no homers in five games but still shows the way with 20.

Finney also leads in total hits with 109 and Williams has scored the most runs, 63. George Case, Washington, has 17 stolen bases, two more than his teammate Gerald Walker.

Bob Feller, Cleveland, is pacing the strikeout artists with 138 and Buck Newsom's fancy won-lost record of 12 straight wins for Detroit against a single defeat is easily the best in the circuit. In fact, Newsom needs only four more in a row to tie the league record of 16.

Detroit leads in team batting at .286 and Cleveland and New York share the fielding honors. St. Louis 91 double plays gives the Browns a lead of 11 over the Yankees in second place.

L. S. U.'S NO. 1 PLAYER LEADS TENNIS TOURNEY

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—Billy Umstaedter, of Millburn, N. J., and Louisiana State university, the National Junior Indoor champion, won two matches today in the Eastern clay court tennis tournament, and went into the third round, with the rest of the field of 128 scattered behind him. Umstaedter, a Louisiana State No. 1 player, defeated two local opponents, Melvin Alpern, 6-0, 6-3, and Jerome Minister, 6-3, 6-4.

None of the eight seeded entries took the court. The field is headed by Frankie Parker, of Pasadena, Calif., the nation's second ranking player.

JONES TAKES BEATING TO AID RELIEF DRIVE

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, who helped to earn $150,000 for the Red Cross by playing in exhibition matches 23 years ago, started another Red Cross exhibition tour today and took a beating.

The one-time "grand slam" champion of American and British golf teamed with Jimmy Thomson in an 18-hole exhibition at the Lido club at Long Beach, Long Island. They were beaten 4 and 3 by Charles Mayo, Sr., Lido pro, and Horton Smith. A crowd of about 500 followed the match.

Jones still showed his perfectly-groved swing, but he couldn't match the others in scoring. He carded a 76, just ten strokes behind Smith, who made some amazing iron shots and just failed to equal Olin Dutra's course record when he missed a long putt on the last hole. Thomson had 71 and Mayo a 73.

Smith's remarkable round was marked by successive eagle threes on the sixth and seventh holes. He sank a 20-foot putt for one, then dropped a No. 3 iron within a yard of the cup on the next. He had four birdies on the in nine.

HARRY DANNING ISN'T 'SLIPPING'

Giant Catcher Leads National League Batters Third Straight Week

NEW YORK, July 14.—(AP)—They say Harry Danning, the National league's batting champion, is slipping. But a close inspection of his current batting average—a lusty .346—shows the "slippage" is about as rapid and as alarming as that of an iceberg.

The Giant catcher and "workhorse" is on top for the third straight week, his mark giving him the edge over Dixie Walker of the Dodgers, who is powdering the ball at a .335 clip. Danning last week had a mark of .351.

And just as he was last week, Danning is the top man in the all-important runs batted in department. He has driven 59 runs across the plate—three more than Elbie Fletcher of the Pirates who is in second place.

Stanley Hack of Chicago is another two time leader—having scored more runs—56—than anyone else and having hit more doubles—25.

Billy Herman gives the Cubs another front runner. He has 100 hits to his credit, or 10 more than Burgess Whitehead of the Giants.

The best triple hitter in the league is still Chet Ross of Boston, who has nine—just the same number he had a week ago.

Johnny Mize of the Cards leads the home run parade with 21 and far behind him comes Fletcher with 12.

Linus Frey of the Reds and the fleet Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers are staging a merry duel for base stealing honors—with Frey on top with 11, one more than Reese has been able to pilfer.

The pitching stars haven't changed much in a week. Freddie Fitzsimmons of Brooklyn has the best mark, with 7 won and one lost. In second place is a fine trio of Truett Sewell, of Pittsburgh, Vito Tamulis of Brooklyn and Jake Mooty of the Cubs, all of whom have won five and lost only one.

The league's ten leading hitters follow: Danning, New York, .346; Walker, Brooklyn, .335; May, Philadelphia, .330; Gleeson, Chicago, .323; Gustine, Pittsburgh, .320; Herman, Chicago, .318; Nicholson, Chicago, .318; Moore, New York, .306; Ross, Boston, .301; Lombardi, Cincinnati, .300.

ARMSTRONG, JENKINS MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

TUSSLE PROMISES LIVELIEST ACTION IN MANY A MOON

Feder Picks Underdog Lew To Put Hennery Away In Non-Title Match

By Sid Feder

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—Li'l Henry Armstrong, who wears 'em down with perpetual motion punching, and Skinny Lew Jenkins, who stiffens 'em with one wallop, match their styles at the Polo Grounds Wednesday night in a tussle that promises the liveliest action in a long time.

Some 30,000 to 35,000 are expected to be sitting in on the proceedings when the world's welterweight champion and the New York and California-recognized lightweight ruler leave their titles home and just walk out there and bang away.

Armstrong, who will have an important pull in the weights of about five pounds or so, is the fair-haired boy so far as the betting men are concerned.

The little dark destroyer from St. Louis (by way of Los Angeles) rules favorite at 5 to 11 to put the ex-army horseshoer in his place, anyway, and 1 to 4 to do it the hard way—by belting him out.

This corner goes to the underdog this time, picking Jenkins to stop Hammerin' Hennery somewhere along the route, largely because the thin man from Texas has one of the most explosive right hands the lightweight ranks has ever seen. He throws it from any angle and when it connects school is usually out right then. Then, too, there's the angle that Hennery is no longer the "hungry" fighter.

By special permission of the New York State Athletic commission, this match was arranged as a non-title party, but if Jenkins should put the crusher on dynamite, you can bet there'll be plenty of folks claiming Henry's crown on Lew's behalf.

The fight figured as a "natural" after Jenkins won the lightweight championship by stiffening Lou Ambers in three rounds a couple of months ago. Ambers was the only fighter to whip Armstrong ever since Hennery stormed out of the West three years ago to make fistic history by becoming the only battler in the books to hold three world titles simultaneously. However, Armstrong has long since outgrown the lightweight division, and the commission ruling against one champion fighting for a second title prevented Jenkins from taking a crack at the 147-pound crown.

As a result, the commission cut a corner, ordered both battlers to come in under 140 for this tea-party and stipulated it must be fought at 12 rounds. New York rules say all championship contests must be at 15 rounds.

Eddie Mead, Armstrong's manager, revealed recently, in an unguarded moment, that he was thinking of bringing Henry in at less than 135 pounds and, if victorious, would claim the lightweight crown. But this was regarded only as something Eddie found in his beef stew.

YANKS TAKE TWO

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—The thunder in the Yankee bats that made a wreck out of the American league last year broke forth again today and submerged the St. Louis Browns by 10-4 and 12-1.

Joe DiMaggio was the most potent puncher, slamming out a pair of homers in the first game to give Spud Chandler his fifth victory of the year, although he was touched for 11 hits.

In the second game, DiMaggio hit another but the fair-haired lad was Charley Keller who blasted a four bagger in the eighth with the bases loaded to squelch the Browns hopes for a victory. Bump Hadley got the credit for the win with a fine bit of relief hurling.

NEWSOM WINS 13TH

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Buck Newsom's thirteenth successive victory featured Detroit's sweep of a double-header today with Washington. The burly right-hander checked the Senators with two hits in the nightcap to win, 4-0, after the Tigers had taken the first game 4-3.

Newsom, in nearing the American league record of 16 consecutive triumphs held jointly by Joe Wood, Walter Johnson, Lefty Grove and Schoolboy Rowe, had a no-hit game in his grasp until the seventh inning. After walking Buddy Lewis in the first inning, Newsom retired 16 Senators in order before walking George Case with two out in the sixth. Gerald Walker's single through the box leading off in the seventh inning wrecked Buck's hopes of a no-hitter.

Dutch Leonard was the victim of the Tigers' eighth-inning rally in the first game, the portly knuckle-ball specialist being slammed for three runs in that inning in addition to another run the Tigers had produced in the seventh inning.

CINCINNATI REDS DIVIDE TWIN BILL WITH BROOKLYN

Salvo Pitches Second Straight Shutout To Beat Cubs, 5 To 0

ST. LOUIS, July 13.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals pulled a pair of "photo finishes" today to clip the New York Giants in both ends of a double header, 7-6 and 4-3.

The Cards broke a six game losing streak by pushing over the winning run in the ninth inning, in each game.

In the opener, Harry Danning's error on a throw in that allowed Johnny Mize to score after he had tripled gave the Cards the winning run.

In the nightcap, Terry Moore's single with the bases loaded sent Mickey Owen scampering across with the all-important marker.

BEES SHUT OUT CUBS

CHICAGO, July 13.—(AP)—Manuel Salvo, the lanky Boston right-hander obtained from the New York Giants last month, pitched his second straight shutout and fourth victory today as the Bees defeated the erratic Chicago Cubs, 5 to 0.

Four of Boston's runs were unearned, the Cubs contributing to the defeat with five errors. The Bees themselves committed three errors, but Salvo snuffed out every threat with six-hit pitching.

Max West snapped out of a three-day slump to single home the first two runs in the sixth inning.

REDS, DODGERS SPLIT

CINCINNATI, July 13.—(AP)—Curt Davis broke the Brooklyn Dodgers' four game losing streak—and the Cincinnati Reds' hearts—today when he hurled the Brooks to a 3-1 victory in the second game of a double-header.

The Reds had run the Dodgers losing streak to four straight with a 7-6 victory in the opening game.

Brooklyn scored its first run in the nightcap in the fifth inning on Charley Gilbert's single, a double by Jimmy Wasdell and Ducky Medwick's infield out. They clinched the victory in the ninth when Big Babe Phelps punched in a pair of runs with a double.

The Dodgers might have won the first game, had they been able to capitalize on their many scoring chances. They got 13 hits off Paul Derringer, but not until the ninth inning were they able to threaten.

The four run assault they put on then was featured by Medwick's home run with two mates aboard.

PIRATES EDGE PHILLIES

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates staged a three-run rally in the eighth inning today to edge out the Phillies 9 to 8 in a free-hitting game.

Pittsburgh went into the eighth leading, 6 to 3, but the Phils let loose a barrage of seven hits, including Mel Mazzera's pinch triple, that brought in five tallies.

But the Pirates went ahead again when Pinch-Hitter Paul Waner was purposely passed, filling the bases. Another pinch batter, Debs Garms, brought home two runners with a single to center and Frankie Gustine bounced a hit over Merrill May's head to score the winning tally.

NOTED RACE HORSE BREEDER IS DEAD

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 13.—(AP)—Willis Sharpe Kilmer, 71, one of the nation's leading breeders of thoroughbred race horses, died last night at his summer home at nearby Sky Lake.

Owner of three of America's best-loved horses—Exterminator, Sun Briar and Sun Beau—Kilmer also was publisher of the Binghampton Press and a manufacturer of medicinal supplies.

In ill health for the past year, the horseman, whose Court Manor stud in Virginia has sent some of America's greatest horses to the races, died of pneumonia. His wife, the former Sarah Jane Wells whom he married in Paris, was at his bedside.

An early lover of sports, Kilmer turned to horse racing early in his career and in 1918 his Exterminator—beloved "Ole Bones" to many turf fans—won the Kentucky Derby. The horse went on to become one of the best-known in the country.

The next Kilmer "great" was Sun Briar, a champion runner and a sire still standing in his owner's Court Manor stud. Sun Briar has sent many famous offspring to the races, the best-known of his get being Sun Beau, winner of $376,774.

Sun Beau held the American record for the amount of money won on the racetrack until Seabiscuit came along to take the title from him a year ago.

ALL-STARS BEAT WHITE SOX, 3-1

er to Ed Zydowski, the Hot Springs shortstop, and Burt was safe at second, when Hodge of Greenville dropped his throw. Dale Englehorn singled to left scoring Burt, but Hill was out at third on a perfect throw by Lammont Duncan of Hot Springs. Charlie Bowles, playing right field for the Sox, ended the inning by going out Savage to Reese.

The All-Stars scored first in the second stanza. Ed Zydowski fanned, but Allen Zarilla tripled to left-center and scored on an infield out of his Helena teammate, Dexter Savage, who grounded out, Burt to Medak. Hodge was hit by a pitched ball, but Ross Van Antwerp whiffed to end the frame.

The All-Stars scored again in the third on a walk to Duncan and singles by Andy Reese and Ed Zydowski, after Thurman Tucker had popped to Schang. Zarilla was another strikeout victim for the third out.

The third All-Star run came in the fourth. Dexter Savage led off with a double and went to third when Hill's throw to the infield was high. Hodge flied to Bowles in right, but Bowles' throw to the plate in the attempt to catch Savage was a bit too late. Van Antwerp singled to center, but Douthat fanned and Duncan lifted to Hill to leave Van Antwerp stranded.

Ray Hoffman went to the mound for the Sox in the fifth and during his tenure, only one All-Star reached first, that on an error by Eagar on a high fly in short left field of Hodge's.

The White Sox succeeded in getting the bases full in the last of the fourth, when Englehorn walked, Bowles singled, and Guy Pruitt walked but Douthat saved the game by striking out Bobby Schang on a three-two pitch.

BIG SIX LOOP

RUSTON, July 13.—(Special)—Although the Ruston Legion team has not entered the win column since entering the Big Six loop, they have made a good record for themselves, losing several games by one run margins. The team is composed of the Junior American Legion nine, and still needs some seasoning.

The schedule for this afternoon finds Bernice at Marion, two games, Ansley at Chatham, and Jonesboro at Ruston.

The Marion club is leading the flag chase with 11 victories against two defeats. Bernice is in second place, however, and out to cut down the lead of the Marion team with a double win today.

George Victor, Bud Ward Meet In Finals Of Western Amateur Golf Tourney Today

YOUNG UNKNOWN SPILLS FERRIER IN TIGHT MATCH

National Amateur Champion Easily Downs Harry Todd Of Dallas

MINNEAPOLIS, July 13.—(AP)—George Victor of Chicago, a comparative unknown, and Bud Ward of Spokane, National Amateur champion, flashed into the finals of the 41st Annual Western Amateur tournament at the Minneapolis Golf club today.

Victor, a 22-year-old blond youth whose only other claim to prominence was that he once won the Chicago District Junior title, spilled Jim Ferrier of Sydney, Australia, Amateur and Open champion in that country, 1 up, in a tight 36-hole match.

Ward had a much easier time in blasting out an 8 and 7 triumph over Harry Todd of Dallas, Tex., largely by reason of some deadly iron play to the greens which left him many times in position to putt for birdies.

Bor both Todd and Ferrier, it was a case of losing largely by reason of inability to sink short putts. Ferrier, co-medalist of the tournament, had run a string of six consecutive rounds in the tournament under par until in the afternoon 18 holes when he needed a medal of 74 strokes. Todd made a miserable showing on the greens throughout his match and particularly during the afternoon round.

Victor, who gained first prominence in the tournament when he eliminated the other tournament co-medalist, Art Doering of Chicago, in the third round, fought to a deadlock with Ferrier through the first 18 holes when both had medal scores of two under par 70.

The match was still even through the 26th hole and on the 27th Ferrier missed a three-foot putt to put Victor into a one hole lead. Victor won the 29th when Ferrier missed a five footer and took the 30th with a birdie three, to go three up.

Ferrier captured the 31st hole with a birdie three and the 34th with a par three to be only one down. The 35th was halved and then on the 36th hole, a par four, Ferrier laid his second shot 18 feet short of the pin while Victor was on the back edge. Victor placed his ball six inches from the cup for a cinch four, while Ferrier ran his long putt dead to the cup but ten inches short to halve and end the match. For the second 18 Victor had a medal 73 and Ferrier a 74.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—Week's wash: Pittsburgh is in line for an N. B. A. lightweight title match between Sammy Angott and Paul Junior. . . . Buck Newsom licked a Washington sports writer for his 13th win of the season. . . . Arturo Godoy and his tonsils parted company yesterday. . . . The papers generally are saying Patty Berg did the right thing in turning pro and getting the dough while she can. . . . There isn't a more popular figure in the Texas league than Dizzy Dean, but coaches, managers and players almost to a man doubt if he'll ever pitch under the big top again.

ONE MINUTE INTERVIEW

Don McNeill: "I know Bobby Riggs can be taken. . . . I can do it and I know others who can do it. . . . It'll be proven this summer!"

MEET MISS QUINLAN

Minnesota, which gave us Patty Berg, also claims to be readying her successor in the amateurs. She is 16-year-old Eileen Quinlan of St. Paul, sensation of the women's western tournament. . . . Billy Jurges' head still buzzes after that beaning. . . . Billy Conn, who has been doing light work at Pittsburgh, moves into Grossinger's at Ferndale next week to finish training for Bob Pastor. . . . Correction: Bobby Jones' 14-year-old son took up golf a month or so back and already has had some near par scores. . . . Bob Topping, brother of Dan who owns the Brooklyn football team, has bought a baseball team in the Hawaiian Island League.

QUESTION BOX

Reese was beaned, then Medwick, now Casey. . . . Dodgers, eh? . . . What do they dodge?

BURNED UP

Amateur tennis stars are fed up on hearing how they'd be slapped around by the pros and will petition the U. S. L. T. A. for an open tournament. . . . Those reports that Gene Tunney will open a swanky east side restaurant are strictly the old mahoskus. . . . Hymie Caplin, now in the boxing commission's dog house, will be reinstated in time to second Lew Jenkins vs. Henry Armstrong Wednesday night. . . . Found: A loyal Philly fan. Fred A. Weiss, Jr., writes to say the Phils have drawn some 160,000 fans at home so far instead of 68,000 as reported. Sorry, partner. . . . Romancing: Joe Haynes, Washington pitcher, and Thelma Griffin, the boss' daughter.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

F. P. A., New York Post: "If the postmaster-general purchases the New York Yankees, and the first man up, the first day of the Farley ownership, gets his base on balls, it will take no genius of a baseball writer to say 'Crosetti was franked,' or to say that a hick pitcher has a nice 'rural free delivery.'"

Also, under the Farley ownership, the Yanks may prove to the doubters they can actually lick a postage stamp.

Zydowski, Tucker Wage Battle For Loop Honors

Hot Springs Shortstop Leading Batting Race With Mark Of .384

Eddie Zydowski, Hot Springs shortstop, and Thurman Tucker, Clarksdale outfielder, are fighting a great two-man battle for most of the batting honors in the Cotton States league.

Although Mike Surgent of Helena has the highest percentage, .387, he has not been at bat enough times to be considered other than as a nominal leader and the real pacesetter is Zydowski with a mark of .384. Tucker, who was topping the parade a week ago is right on Zydowski's heels with .383. In runs scored the two stars are tied for the league lead with 73 apiece. Tucker is leader in hits with 116 and in stolen bases with 25 but Eddie comes to the front again to set the pace in total bases with 196, in home runs with 18 and in runs batted in with 98.

Other ranking batsmen, according to averages released today are Tom Gwin of Pine Bluff with .360, Allen Zarilla of Helena with .358 and Pete Medak of Monroe with .352.

Frank Anderson of El Dorado has nine victories against one defeat for the best pitching record. Anderson won two games the past week and other hurling highlights were the two-hit shutout twirled by Ed Malone of Greenwood against Pine Bluff in a 10-0 victory and the three-hit whitewashing administered to Greenwood by Pete Raymond of Helena to triumph 1-0 July 6.

The averages, including games of last Sunday, follow:

17-YEAR-OLD WINS JUNIOR GOLF TITLE

SCARBOROUGH-ON-HUDSON, N. Y., July 13.—(AP)—Douglas Ford, 17-year-old member of a family of professional golfers, today won the New York State Junior Golf championship. He overwhelmed Felix Zaremba of Plandome, L. I., 7 and 6, in the 36-hole final.

Zaremba, captain of the University of Mississippi golf team, held a one-hole margin at the end of the morning round but he managed to take only one hole on the afternoon as Ford finished three strokes under par.

Zaremba, runner up to Tommy Tailer for the Long Island amateur title last week, started out well on the first round, shooting five straight pars to gain a two-hole lead. Then he began to wobble and Ford was one up at the ninth. Zaremba again took a two-hole lead at the 16th but lost the next hole. Ford squared the match on the first hole of the afternoon round and never again was in trouble. He was four up at the turn as Zaremba went out in 38.

New York

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—Trade covering and spot house buying in July steadied the near months in cotton futures today but new crops eased under hedge selling and local liquidation.

Unfavorable weather forecast for the week-end was offset by a long range prediction for warm dry conditions the middle of next week.

Final prices were 2 points lower to 9 higher.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 13.—(AP)—Wheat prices pushed upward almost a cent in early trading today but later lost most of the gain following forecast of probable showers over the week-end and at intervals next week in the spring wheat belt. Warmer weather was in prospect, however.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1-2 higher compared with yesterday's finish, July 73 to 73 1-8, September 73 7-8 to 74; corn unchanged to 5-8 lower, July 60 7-8, September 57 5-8 to 3-4; oats unchanged to 1-4 off.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, July 13.—(AP)—The stock market had one eye cocked on Chicago and the other on Europe today, and the net result was general speculative astigmatism.

Many leaders failed to appear on the ticker tape during the two-hour proceedings. Numerous issues sold at Friday's final quotations and negligible gains and losses were sprinkled over all departments at the close.

The proceedings were among the slowest since 1918, transfers approximating 100,000.

Notwithstanding persistence of optimistic business hopes involved principally in the domestic defense spending program, brokers found the few customers who showed up in boardrooms this morning inclined to do little either way pending outcome of the Democratic convention starting Monday. Then, too, there still were fears of a possible market shock if and when Hitler touches off his threatened major blast at England. Intensified German air raids led some to the belief the latter might be imminent.

Bonds held to a steady course, with rail loans favored. Commodities were uneven. "Free" sterling was narrow in terms of the dollar and Canadian currency improved.

Packard shares got up a fraction on word the company's directors had finally approved a "general arrangement" for the production of 3,000 airplane engines for the United States and 6,000 for the British. A hitch developed recently in the negotiations.

Steels kept their balance fairly well as forecasts were made of another advance in next week's mill operations.

Analysts saw a cheerful omen in the fact this week's offerings of corporate and municipal bonds, both for refunding and new capital, topped $114,000,000 against $7,435,000 last week and $13,932,000 in the like 1939 period.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep gratitude to our many friends, neighbors, and relatives who contributed so generously of beautiful floral offerings, cards, telegrams, words of condolence and the beautiful songs sung by Mrs. Hoskins and by the choir at the death of our beloved son, James Arthur Lanier.

We especially want to thank Rev. G. M. Akin and the entire staff of the Dixie Cooperative Insurance Co., Inc., and the Dixie Funeral Home for their kind, sympathetic, and efficient services.

AND JULIA JEAN

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I, my wife, and two sons joined the Dixie over four years ago, and I have been a great booster for the Dixie ever since I saw the first funeral conducted by them.

My son, Leslie Lee Roy, was in perfect health Saturday morning when he left home to go to town. He spent the day in town, and was found dead Sunday morning about 2:30 o'clock about three quarters of a mile from home.

The Dixie Funeral Home was notified, and they gave us the very best service from start to finish. They did everything in their power to help us in our hours of distress.

I know the value of the Dixie burial policy. I highly recommend the Dixie to everybody.

Gentlemen:

I want to express my personal appreciation of your management and services on the Lanier funeral.

I have conducted funerals for twenty-five years, and I have never seen any funeral more beautifully handled than this funeral. The church, as you know was filled to its capacity, and overflowing with many friends on the outside, with no available standing space inside of the building.

The capable management of the enormous crowd by the Dixie Funeral Home staff was an expression of efficiency and dignified service, which, of course, is characteristic of your splendid organization. You have a type and quality of service that commends itself to the public in a most desirable manner.

Not only was the management of the highest type of efficiency, but the "human element" of consideration, courtesy, and sympathy was outstandingly noticeable. Those things, as you well know, are always appreciated, and never forgotten.

I wish for you and your company many years of success and acceptable service.

Yours very truly,
G. M. AKIN, Pastor

Dear Sir:

We will never be able to express in words our appreciation to the entire staff of the Dixie Cooperative Insurance Co., Inc., and the Dixie Funeral Home for their many acts of kindness and their most efficient sympathetic services in handling all of the funeral arrangements and services at the death of our son, Arthur Lanier.

We wish to state that the Dixie burial policy is one of the finest things in this world that a man can carry on his wife, children, and loved ones as a guarantee against possibilities of bereavement which came to our home.

The Dixie burial policy makes it possible for everyone to have the most marvelous services in this world for as low as a penny a day. We couldn't ask any more than what we received from the Dixie. We highly recommend the Dixie burial policy and the Dixie Funeral Home to every person in this world that we are able to do so.

Respectfully yours,
MR. AND MRS. W. E. LANIER

TECH PROFESSORS IN LONG SERVICE

Jenkins, Mitchell 25 Years At Institute, See Changes In Courses

RUSTON, July 13.—(Special)—Two men who came to Louisiana Tech as members of the faculty 25 years ago "can appreciate through experience" the development of the college here during the last quarter of a century.

Those men are E. S. Jenkins and W. L. Mitchell, who found upon their arrival here in 1915 only a few buildings, meager facilities, a small student body and a handful of teachers and an "industrial institute" which offered no four-year degrees. They have seen Tech grow into a college with an enrollment of more than 2,000 students, annual graduating classes of more than 350 four-year graduates, faculty and administrative staffs exceeding 150 men and women and a physical plant recently expanded with the completion of seven buildings in a $2,000,000 construction program.

A native of South Carolina and a graduate of Clemson college, Mr. Jenkins came to Louisiana as a teacher at Simsboro in 1911. Four years later, he joined the faculty of the college here, becoming an instructor in agriculture.

"Since I was a long way from my home in South Carolina," Mr. Jenkins said, "that made me an 'expert' in agriculture when I came here."

Mr. Jenkins taught agriculture at Tech until 1923 and had been a chemistry instructor here besides since the World war, when the regular chemistry teacher was called away for army service. Since 1923 Mr. Jenkins has been a chemistry professor.

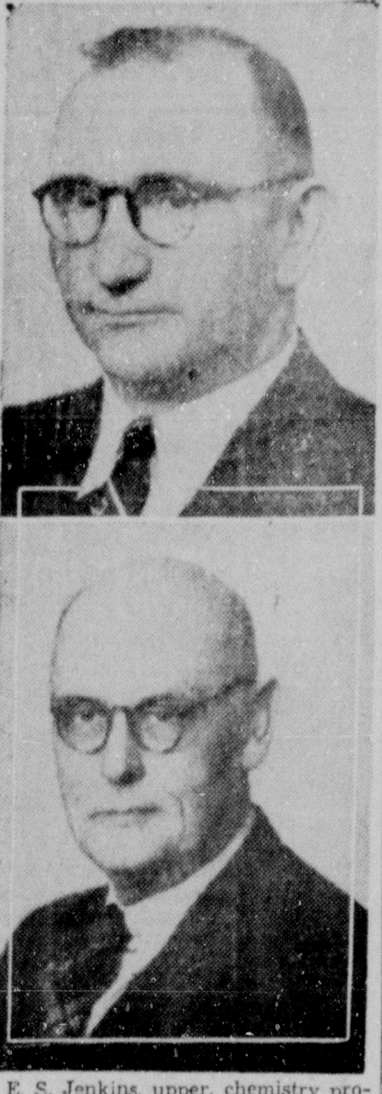
For two years Mr. Jenkins was secretary of the North Louisiana High School Rally Association and also served as the baseball coach for a while at Tech.

Mr. Mitchell became an instructor in mechanical arts here in the fall of 1915. The following year he moved to the campus and was placed in charge of the water, light and heating system. He was dean of engineering and head professor of mechanical engineering from 1918-23. During that period, the name of the Louisiana Industrial Institute was changed to Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and the two-year course in engineering was raised to a full four-year course.

Mr. Mitchell was in command of military training at Tech for two years, prior to establishment of the army's S. A. T. C. unit at the college.

In the fall of 1928, Mr. Mitchell was made dean of men and head professor of mechanical engineering at Tech, the positions he now holds.

YEARS AT TECH



E. S. Jenkins, upper, chemistry professor, and W. L. Mitchell, dean of men and professor of mechanical engineering, have completed 25 years of service as members of the Louisiana Tech faculty.

CLARKE WILL NOT SEEK NOMINATION

Monroe Attorney Announces He Will Not Be Candidate For Congress

W. B. Clarke, Monroe attorney who had been reported as a probable candidate for congress from the Fifth district, yesterday announced that he would not seek the nomination in the forthcoming primary.

Mr. Clarke issued a formal statement, as follows:

"I want to thank the many friends over the district for their kind offers to support me for congress. I am deeply grateful for the many offers of support, but I find that I am more deeply interested in assisting in every way that I possibly can, the putting into effect and operation of the reforms in government under the leadership of Sam Jones, than I am in going to congress. For these reasons, I have made up my mind that I would not be a candidate.

"I would like to ask the people of the Fifth district, who believe in good, clean honest government, to support and back up the program of Governor Sam Jones for the restoration of good government, honestly administered. Of course, I realize that some of our people may be a little restless, because things do not happen as fast as they would like to see them; but I want to assure them that as nearly as it is humanly possible, every promise made will be fulfilled. I hope that our people will be patient, and that they will inform themselves thoroughly upon what is trying to be done, in the interest of clean, honest government, and that they will all support the heroic task which is being undertaken under the leadership of Governor Sam Jones."

RED CROSS FUNDS ARE NEARER GOAL

Collect More Than $18,000,000 Of $20,000,000 Quota For Nation

The Red Cross national war-relief fund has grown to more than $18,000,000, well within sight of the $20,000,000 goal, it was announced here today. The funds received during the drive are to be used wholly and exclusively for war relief and no part of them will be applied toward the normal program and expenditures of the Red Cross.

From September, 1939, with the invasion of Poland, through July 5, the American Red Cross made available a total of $7,275,000 in relief supplies to the stricken areas of Europe, it was shown in the most recent financial statement. This includes $6,783,100 in supplies purchased for and cash contributions to other Red Cross societies and relief agencies working in Europe. The remainder, or $492,340 is the estimated value of the material in chapter produced garments and surgical dressings which have already been shipped abroad.

There are now more than 350,000 women volunteers in Red Cross chapters actively engaged in producing war-relief garments and dressings. The latest available figures reveal that a total of 1,488,457 dressings have been shipped or ordered shipped, plus 485,277 garments, as of July 5. It is estimated that by the end of this summer nearly 8,000,000 surgical dressings and 900,000 garments will have been produced.

The American Red Cross intends to continue its effort to extend all possible relief to the refugees and wounded soldiers in France during the reconstruction period ahead, Chairman Norman H. Davis said, making it clear that the relief activities will continue, if the Red Cross is granted liberty of action in getting help to "those for whom it is intended."

By far the largest sums of money and the greatest quantities of supplies have been sent to or earmarked for France. Nelson Dean Jay, chairman of the American Red Cross Advisory Committee in France, and Bernard S. Carter, a member of the committee, are in Bordeaux. Richard Allen, formerly manager of the Red Cross eastern area, is also in that city. Negotiations are now in progress in order to insure adequate safeguards for the distribution of American relief supplies and to insure that the supplies go to the persons for whom the help was intended.

The executive committee of the local Red Cross chapter met Saturday to complete plans for a second Red Cross drive. Letters are going out from the chapter office appealing for workers. Those who are willing to help are asked to meet Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Community Chest headquarters.

A. V. Miller, chairman of the campaign, said, "I am most grateful to all those who helped and contributed in the first phase of the campaign and am confident that I will again have the same cooperation."

FOUR MEN DEAD IN FISH DISPUTE

Three Wardens Are Killed By Dealer Who Then Shoots Himself

WATERVILLE, Minn., July 13.—(AP)—Three game wardens and a fish buyer lay dead in this little southern Minnesota town today, victims of a triple slaying and a suicide which stemmed, officers believed, from illegal sale of bullheads.

The wardens were shot to death yesterday as they questioned Bryant Baumgartner, about 60, as to whether he had a license to buy and ship bullheads to Iowa, as he was reported to have been doing. Immediately after the triple-slaying Baumgartner turned his 12-gauge shotgun on himself.

"Three murders and a suicide," was the terse verdict of Dr. J. J. Kolars, Le Sueur county acting coroner.

The victims, besides Baumgartner, were D. M. Brady, Windom, A. M. Holt, Worthington, and Marcus Whipps, Kasota. They were killed almost instantly by blasts from an automatic shotgun after they had called Baumgartner from his fish house for questioning.

Baumgartner, a resident of this vicinity almost all his life, entered the fish business about 13 years ago. His neighbors regarded him as a quiet, honest man who minded his own business.

His widow and a 25-year-old son survive.

SERIAL STORY

PEACE---SHE'S WONDERFUL

BY ISABEL WAITT

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER VII

The two officials stood in the aisle. The policeman consulted a notebook. "Answers to a T," he said, confronting Denny. "Young man, I'd like to ask you a few questions. Come outside."

"I'll stay right here, if you don't mind," Denny countered. "There's a youngster asleep in that forward section I don't like to leave. Now shoot." He hoped Mrs. King would stew in her own juice. He didn't know whether her future chagrin would counterbalance his present discomfort, but to get rid of her was worth even this.

"It's about the Kelly girl kidnaping. Wake her up. We'll soon settle this before the train starts."

Denny was furious. They'd not wake up Peace. He could substantiate his actions. He listened to the accusations, and told the story of the two blue dresses all over again. "My fiancee is due any minute. You can ask her. Meanwhile, check the telegram. Get the address from Western Union and telephone the Warrens."

That, the officer assured him, had already been attempted. True, the name was correct, but that didn't signify anything. Warren might be one of the gang this lady (Mrs. King) intimated were springing up en route. At any rate, no one had answered at the address.

Carole stood up for him. "Mrs. King has made a silly mistake, Captain," she said with her best Hollywood smile. "Why, I've spent the whole day with Mr. Dennis and the child, and—" She did not finish, but cried, "Here's Miss Lowell now! She'll prove everything."

"What will I prove?" Rhoda asked Carole. "You seem to know as much about Wayne Dennis as anyone." She stared haughtily past the uniformed men. "What is this, Denny?"

But before he could open his mouth, Mrs. King demanded, "Where's that foreigner I saw you with earlier in the evening? If he wasn't the image of a thug in a 'wanted' lineup in this detective magazine, I'll cross my heart and hope to die!"

Rhoda explained glibly about the favor she and her fiance were doing the Warrens, because of the addition to the family.

The policemen grinned. "A baby? Why didn't you say so? That's where Warren was—at the hospital. We'll check again. This lady's story sounds all right to me."

The conductor glowered at Mrs. King, whose beady eyes still held their suspicion. Denny accepted their lumbering apologies. He would still be on the train when it arrived in Los Angeles, and if they cared to investigate further, there'd be plenty of opportunity. The officials withdrew.

"And now, if you'll excuse me," Denny said to Carole, rising. "And thanks for your faith. You may keep Joan for a hostage, Mrs. King." He grinned wryly, following Rhoda down the aisle.

"Of all the hideous trips!" she complained. "Poor Bertrand was taken with one of his chronic appendicitis attacks at the beginning of the second act. Thinks it was the shad we ate. I had to take him home. And then to come back to this! You've had a nice day, I gathered." And so on into the night!

The trip wasn't coming up to Denny's expectations. Peace was good, Denny thought, considering, but somehow her presence seemed to be a little wedge between him and Rhoda. When he told the child about Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer and the big Mississippi, Rhoda did not join in. She always had a letter to write. To Bertrand? It wasn't possible he was jealous, Denny assured himself again. The question was, should he be?

Carole came into the observation car the following morning. She sought an empty desk. "Rid of the pest?" he asked, pausing a moment with Peace by his side.

"Don't you believe it. She says I'm an unprotected girl. She's promised to watch out that nothing happens to me."

"On account of—?"

"Uh-huh. Isn't she priceless? Well, she's not going to ruin my entire trip. She won't take a snub. Maybe she thinks I'm in one of the lineups myself. Poor soul! Lonely widow, plenty of money, and nothing to do but mind other people's business."

"We'll have to find her a boy friend."

Which showed how mistaken Denny could be. Taking Peace out to the observation platform to give the turtles their airing, he came upon Mrs. King and a small gray-bearded man, chinning together like old friends. Caleb Ogden, his name was, a big oil man from Texas. But going on to California to play a bit of golf, see a few movie stars, and "get rid of some of his holdings," he was telling Mrs. King. Also all within earshot. He hated wealth. His needs were few, being alone in the world. He'd like to get out of business entirely. Glib. Gabby.

A foil for the pest, Denny chuckled to himself, watching her try to get a word in edgewise.

Where were his oil fields? Down near the border? How lovely! Sure, she'd love to see his blueprints.

Ogden took a great shine to Darby and Joan, now caged in the corn-popper again, since the water bottle had come to grief. Denny could see the oil man casting surreptitious glances his way, while Mrs. King laid him low.

"Gang?" Ogden repeated, looking back apprehensively. Oh, well, let her tell the world!

"I've got a drawing room," the little man bragged to Peace. "Like to give your pets a swim? It's the car just ahead of yours."

"You're taking your life in your hands," Denny warned Ogden. "Mrs. King can tell you what a lot of trouble we've had with those little creatures. Peace, where are the ant eggs?" He found the generous box to be practically empty.

"Aunt Rhoda ate 'em all up!"

"Ate the ant eggs? You know better than that, honey."

"Yes, she did too. Me put 'em in her cerule this morning.

"You wha-a-at?" Rhoda had covered her cereal with cream, he remembered, and consumed it all. "Why should you do such a naughty thing?"

"So they'd hatch, like she said. And bite her! Me don't like her," Peace shrilled with pouting lip.

Mrs. King leaned forward, not missing a word. "Children and dogs—they know. I don't like her either, my dear. And as for you, Mr. Dennis, you must be blind not to see she's giving you the double-cross with that person she calls her cousin."

Good heavens, her enmity he could stand! But if the King woman began taking care of him, he'd give up!

"Don't you dare tell Aunt Rhoda about the ant eggs," he ordered. "We're almost to Kansas City. Give me the postcard for your mother and I'll mail it. Don't want you to get off the train. Now, we'll go find Rhoda."

He let Peace go after her postcard, while he sat down beside his fiancee. He wished Rhoda didn't always make him feel so uncomfortable, as at present, for instance.

"Mrs. King told me she thinks you are giving me the doublecross," Rhoda began, stamping her letter.

"That's a hot one! She just told me the same thing about you. Said I was blind not to see through it. That woman's a lulu, all right."

He looked out of the window at the outskirts of the great midwestern metropolis. "Told Peace not to get off the train, but I guess we'd all be better to stretch our legs a bit. Shall we?"

"I'm getting out," Rhoda said coolly. "Do as you like."

SECOND SECTION

Delta Beta Sigma Sorority Entertains

Members, Pledges And Dates Guests At Party

Mr. And Mrs. Paine And Mr. And Mrs. Snellings Chaperons On Occasion Of Outstanding Event

The stars were shining brightly and, strange as it may seem, there was no hint of rain the night selected by Delta Beta Sigma sorority members for their boating party on the Ouachita.

Taking advantage of the beautiful starlit night, everyone climbed to the top deck where cold drinks, sandwiches and a vast array of confections were consumed during the evening.

The chaperones were the sorority mother, Mrs. Clyde Paine, and Mr. Paine, and the sponsor, Mrs. George Snellings, and Mr. Snellings.

Unique entertainment was provided during the evening by a fortune teller who predicted bright and happy futures for every one.

Joyce McKoin and J. B. Swanson, Merillyn Marshall and Zach Daughtry, Helen Bowman and Ben Marshall, Bennie Hughes and Billy Ensminger, Dottie White and Louis Milner, Gay Noe and Russel Simpson, "Chicken" Inabnet and Nelson Abell, Martha Grafton and Ben Frances.

Pledges and their escorts present, were: Vyvian Harper and Zell Smith, Joan Gibbons, Charlotte Padgett, Jo Ann Guerriero and Jack Trimble, Frances Raby and Pott Breard, Veronica Wilds and Billy Wright, Rosanne Reid and Roger Ussery, Satchie Cooper and Bill Husted, Kathleen Ellis and Manny Fulson, Jane Rhymes and Theo Terzia, Irma Grant Ensminger and Bobby George, Iris Connell and John Humphries, Dorothea Girault and Jeff Earl, Betty Middleton and Jimmie Moore, Carolyn Husted and Fred Hudson, Martha Woolman, Betty Ann Taylor and Gloria Ray.

Mrs. Hawkins Honored At Miscellaneous Shower

Mrs. Clarence Hawkins of Epps, La., a June bride, was the guest of honor at a beautifully planned miscellaneous shower arranged by Mrs. W. W. Walsworth and Mrs. W. B. Hawkins.

The reception suite, where the hostesses stood with their guest of honor to receive guests, was banked in garden flowers. Miss Irene Green and Miss Helen Green, of Ruston, Mrs. Omie Warren of Vicksburg, Miss Norma Lee Cantwell, Miss Hazel Johnston, Miss Frances Stewart, Miss Octavia Cantwell and Miss Louise Cantwell, were also members of the receiving party.

During the receiving hours Miss Alloyse Wall and W. B. Hawkins, Jr., entertained with piano selections.

Iced fruit punch was served throughout the afternoon from a rose entwined crystal bowl placed at one end of the refreshment table in the dining room. The central decor, of bridal significance, was a flower adorned arch under which was placed a miniature bride and bride-groom.

The gifts, beautifully wrapped, were heaped in a flower adorned basket carried by two colored mammies.

The hostesses presented Mrs. Hawkins with Fostoria crystal.

LAST WEEK'S BRIDE . . .

Mrs. Seymour Solomon who, before her marriage July 10, was Miss Edwynne Joseph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joseph of this city.

Miss Helen Chapman Weds Gardiner Bradford

Claiming interest of a large circle of friends was the marriage of Miss Helen Naomi Chapman, daughter of Mr. Oscar Chapman and the late Mrs. Pearl Riddle Chapman of Clarks, and Mr. Damon Gardiner Bradford, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Grant Bradford of Clarks.

The ceremony was performed Sunday morning, July 7, at 8 o'clock, at the Clarks Baptist church, with Rev. Paul Jones, church pastor, officiating in the presence of an intimate party of relatives and friends.

A profusion of mid-summer flowers formed a decorative background. Shasta daisies and ferns were used on the altar before which the vows were spoken.

The bride wore a smart tailleur of white silk jersey, fashioned with a waist-length coat trimmed in silk braid stitched in a floral design. Her accessories were white, and her corsage was of pink carnations and tuberoses.

The bride is a descendant of one of the oldest and best known families of Gainesville, Ga. She came to Clarks with her parents in 1928. After her graduation from the Clarks High school she accepted a position with the Louisiana Central Lumber company.

The bridegroom is a lifelong resident of Clarks. His parents, originally from Missouri, moved to Clarks in 1908. He is a graduate of the local high school and attended Louisiana Tech, Ruston. He is now employed in the main office of the Louisiana Central Lumber company at Clarks.

After July 16, Mr. and Mrs. Bradford will make their home with the bride's father, Mr. Oscar S. Chapman.

Mrs. E. C. Mallette, of West Monroe, announces the marriage of her daughter, Janice, to Mr. Harold Roth, on July 3, 1940. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few relatives and friends with Reverend Marion Monk of Bastrop, officiating.

Wearing a pastel blue ensemble with accessories of white and navy and a corsage of pastel pink gladioli, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Earl Clifford Mallette. Miss Pansie Mallette, sister of the bride, acted as her maid-of-honor. She wore a summer model of pastel chiffon. Mr. Roth's attendant was Mr. Herbert Spruell. Mr. and Mrs. Roth will reside in West Monroe.

Mrs. Amos Hood, Mrs. Rene McCord and Mrs. Malcolm LeFevre entertained at luncheon complimentary to Mrs. J. C. Stewart, a bride of recent date.

Unique place cards marked covers for Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. H. L. Driskell, Mrs. George Holland, Miss Alma Hodge, Miss Helen Carr, Miss Elethia Edwards and the three hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lolley left last week on a motor tour of the east including a visit in New York, Washington and Philadelphia.

Mrs. G. P. Spiecher of Evansville, Ind., is the guest of Mrs. Conrad Maus of West Monroe.

Mrs. T. T. Howe and daughter, Miss Marie Howe, are vacationing on the gulf coast.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shaver and daughter, Slyvia, of Fort Worth, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hale of West Monroe.

Miss Mary Grace Lawn, who left for New York City last week, is now studying music at the conservatory of music in Ithica, N. Y.

Local Girls Leave For Camp Waldemar

Off for summer camp was a wonderful experience for Waldemar girls who left bright and early Saturday morning via the motor route accompanied by their parents, who will see them happily installed before returning home.

In the Monroe party were Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Biedenharn and two daughters, Jerry and Jo Ann Biedenharn; Mrs. Clark Boardman and daughter, Joan, and son, Buddy, who will spend the summer at Camp Stewart, and Mrs. Carl McHenry and daughter, Cornelia; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Slagle and daughters, Lee and Clarice, and Gay Noe and Alice Walton; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lamkin and daughter, Marguerite, and Esther Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Ewing; Mr. and Mrs. Alden Shotwell and daughter, Betty Sue, and Miss Martha Jane Hill, counsilor at Waldemar. Mrs. Phil Smith was also a member of their party; Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Touchstone and daughter, Jessie Lee, and Betty Sue Jones; Mrs. Robert Rhymes and daughter, Jane Rhymes, accompanied by Miss Robertine Rhymes. Arabella Bancroft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Bancroft will join the Shreveport aggregation going via rail under the chaperonage of Miss Betty Lawrence.

Before departing for Waldemar, Jerry and Jo Ann Biedenharn and members of the Waldemar party were delightfully entertained at luncheon by their aunt, Miss Emma Louise Biedenharn.

Considerable beauty of decoration was noted in the table appointments. The menu was selected with discrimination by the hostess with a view to pleasing the taste of 'teen age girls. The entree, chicken-a-la king, was served in individual pots in all the bizarre Mexican colors.

Cornelia McHenry's aunt, Mrs. Neil McHenry, entertained with a charming luncheon at the McHenry plantation in her honor before she left for camp.

All the girls wore lovely summery gowns as this was the last time they could wear frivolous clothes before donning the regulation camp uniform.

The luncheon table was candlelit, flowers adorned, and marked with exquisite corsages at each cover. Lovely favors were presented each guest.

Many Monroe Residents Depart For Vacations In Various Parts Of Nation

'See America' Theme Of Local Vacationists

Many Monroe Women Working For Red Cross; Prominent Local Men Leave For Army Camps

By Eve C. Bradford

WE are now enjoying that particular time of the year known as "the good old summer time." It is the time when the stay-at-homes always experience the "midsummer lull," but strange as it may seem, this year it is different. There's a definite undercurrent of activity—the stay-at-homes have, with few exceptions, signed up with the Red Cross for a period of work each day. Others are giving Red Cross benefit parties. Never an idle moment for those whose patriotic fervor breeds a desire to do their bit for their country and their suffering neighbors.

Vacationists this year seem bent on seeing America. In times past, the vacation-crazed populace seemed content to merely go to the country for a skirmish with the incredible discomforts. They gave up air-cooled restaurants and theaters, fresh clean linens, vast resources of ice water and electric fans for sunburn, ivy poisoning, canned food, bee stings, cramped quarters, kerosene lamps and party-line telephones.

This year vacationists are reveling among the splendors of the city. They are enjoying the fair, the theaters, the shops and the glamorous night life of a great metropolis.

Very few Monroe vacationists are country-bound this year. They seem unwilling to exchange the comforts of home for the discomforts of the country-side. The city is their mecca and they are leaving every day via airplane, motor, train and bus.

We know of a father and mother in Monroe who sacrificed their annual summer vacation to furnish their son's room with things distinctly American. They wanted to give him an American background, so they surrounded him with tangible things for which America stands. They realized that a child can't see them, feel them, hear them. He has to be taught them. So they filled a bookcase with the lives of great Americans, and hung a copy of the Bill of Rights on the wall, and let him read for himself "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press." The Stars and Stripes are placed where he can be reminded every moment of the glorious freedom of these United States. The furniture is all early American, and the hooked rugs are replicas of those made by pioneer women.

There are several Monroe women who are enjoying a vacation right at home. They are summer widows for the nonce because their husbands are in army camps participating in the largest peacetime maneuvers in the country's history. Marie Bendel is reveling in the quiet of her lovely home since friend husband and Bill, Jr., left for Camp Beauregard. No meals to plan, no urgent telephone calls, no daily routine. A few weeks of aimless living will be enough, we venture to say. When the novelty wears off, Marie will be yearning for the return of her family and resumption of the daily routine of a perfectly ordered household.

Stella Reid will be another summertime widow. Alf leaves next week for Fort Benning, Georgia, where he will enter the chemical warfare division.

Zett Trousdale, rather than stay at home while George was engaged in war maneuvers at Camp Beauregard, packed her bags and three children in the family car and left for south Louisiana for a three-week visit with her parents.

Jean Terzia experienced one thrill after another during her recent visit in New York but the greatest thrill of all awaited her at home. Her parents, Fensky and Wren Terzia, bought her a shining new motorboat during her absence. She had scarcely shaken the dust of travel from her feet before she was spinning up the river with the cool spray on her face and her hair blowing in the wind.

• • •

Dr. Robert Lynch and his bride, Carolyn (Stubbs), dined on the roof of the Washington-Youree while in Shreveport en route to their new home in Rochester, quite oblivious to the fact that friends were sitting at a table at the far corner of the roof. Suddenly the orchestra merged into the strains of "I Married An Angel," and the leader announced that it was dedicated to a bride and bridegroom. It was an embarrassing moment but they are both good sports and managed to "laugh it off" when they took a bow.

• • •

The spirit of young America was reflected last week in the grand gesture of a young visitor, a guest of Charles Guerriero. He was wonderfully entertained by Charles and his two intimate friends, Stanley Hodges, Jr., and Charles Reid, Jr., so, in a spirit of reciprocation, he invited them all to be his guests on a flight over the city in a commercial plane. You can imagine how the mothers of these young boys felt when they watched the flight of the plane. It was a real thriller for the youngsters as they had never flown before.

Miss Helen Hannah Biggs Marries Octavian Socol

The marriage of Miss Helen Hannah Biggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Biggs of Simsboro, La., and Mr. Octavian Socol of Los Angeles, Calif., was solemnized in the garden at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pomeroy, in Bastrop, Sunday afternoon, June 30, at 4:30 o'clock. Rev. I. C. Pound of Little Rock, Ark., officiated.

The ceremony was performed before a natural arch of trailing vines, flanked by baskets of gladioli and daisies.

A group of pre-nuptial numbers was given by Mrs. J. B. Spier at the piano, including "Meditation" from Thais, and "Evening Star." "Liebestraum" was played during the ceremony. Miss Johnette Register of West Monroe sang in beautiful voice, "My Hero" and "Through the Years." Miss Mary Evelyn Brodnax played as a violin solo, "I Love You Truly."

The bride's attendants made a colorful picture as they entered the garden to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. The maid of honor, Miss Olivia Socol, of Los Angeles, sister of the groom, the bridesmaids, Miss Marguerite Pomeroy, aunt of the bride, and Miss Nelwyn Brown of Hodge, La., wore garden dresses in pastel shades with garden hats to match, and carried arm bouquets of shasta daisies. Dorothy Alice Pomeroy, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a yellow garden frock and carried shasta daisies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white marquisette with finger tip veil worn coronet fashion. She carried an arm bouquet of white asters.

Mr. Socol was attended by Mr. Billie Cree Biggs of Simsboro, La.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party assembled around the bride's table, placed in a shady nook, where a reception was held. The lace covered table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, surrounded by old-fashioned nosegays of daisies.

After cutting the wedding cake, the bride changed her wedding gown for a smart tailleur of blue with matching accessories. After a honeymoon in Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Socol will motor through the west.

They will be at home in Los Angeles.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Funderburk and Miss Margaret Funderburk of Winnsboro; Mrs. Louis King and Paul King, the groom's mother and brother, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Kelsey of Monroe; Miss Kathlene McKay of Alto, La.; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hendricks, Mrs. Floyd Brown, Miss Mattie Berry of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baker of Pine Bluff, Ark.; Rev. G. W. Pomeroy of Crowley, and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Lovett of Ruston.

Miss Mavis Harp, member of the city school faculty, left recently for New York where she will engage in special work at Columbia university.

She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Carlotta Harp. En route they visited in Washington, D. C., Baltimore, and Philadelphia. They will attend the World's fair and other points of interest.

Returning from New York, they will visit Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Canada. A few days will be spent in Detroit, Mich., Toledo, O., Chicago, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo.

Miss Theda Bly Lewis, guest last week of relatives and friends, has returned to her home in Beaumont, accompanied by Miss Helen Wilson.

WILL WED THIS MONTH . . .

Miss Winifred Moss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Moss, whose marriage to Walter Borsch will take place in this city July 18.

Mrs. Black Observes Eighty-Sixth Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Black's friends in this city will read with interest the following article, appearing in an Amherst, Nova Scotia, newspaper:

"Mrs. G. Howard Black, mother of Frank E. Black of Monroe, La., one of the oldest residents of Amherst, celebrated her 86th birthday, June 28. Mrs. Black is in good health and enjoys reading. She takes a keen interest in current events and well she may as her family has contributed so much to the public life of this country.

"The former Henrietta Creed, she was the daughter of Dr. Charles Creed of Pugwash and his wife, Margaret, daughter of Dr. Alexander McDonald of Antigonish. Dr. Creed was the first physician and surgeon of Nova Scotia, having received his education in England. His grandfather, Richard Creed, was an engineer and came to Canada, where among other projects he assisted in the building of the citadel at Halifax. Charlotte MacDonald, an aunt, married Rev. John Geddie, D. D., and they became the first Canadian foreign missionaries and founders of the mission in the New Hebrides. Two Fathers of Confederation were also members of her family, Judge McCully and Judge Henry.

"Mrs. Black has a large family living in different parts of Canada and has crossed the continent several times, only two years ago having made her last visit to British Columbia. At the present she and her daughter, Miss Helen, make their home on Crescent avenue.

"Mrs. Black has many friends throughout the country who joined in extending best wishes to her as she taught school in several communities and spent most of her married life in Salem. She leaves soon to visit her sister, Annie, (Mrs. MacDonald) of Sherbrooke, who has reached the age of 91."

Claiming the interest of friends is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Moss of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Winifred Moss, to Walter Borsch, son of Mrs. Thomas Edmiston, of this city. The wedding will take place July 18.

Miss Pettit Entertains Younger Business Women

Miss Dorothy Lee Pettit was hostess to members of the Younger Business and Professional Women's club of the Y. W. C. A. at her home on Pershing drive Wednesday evening.

Miss Margaret Coates Marries James Bruce

A wedding characterized by simplicity was that of Miss Margaret Blanche Coates, daughter of Mrs. Margaret R. Coates, of Swartz, and James Wesley Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bruce, of Rayville, Saturday, June 29, at 8 a.m. The ceremony took place at the Swartz Baptist church with Rev. Richard Sweetman performing the impressive ceremony in the presence of friends and relatives. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of spring pastel shaded gladioli.

The bride's attendant was Miss Lillian Coates. Miss Coates wore a becoming model of navy blue with white accessories.

Mr. Bruce was attended by Harry W. Addison.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, James C. Coates, wore a lovely navy sheer model, with white accessories, and a corsage of crimson carnations. Immediately following the ceremony, the young couple left for a trip to old Mexico and points in north Texas.

The bride, a popular member of the younger set, is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and Northeast Junior college. She has attended Louisiana State Normal and Louisiana Tech. For the past three years she has been a member of the Holly Ridge grammar school faculty.

The bridegroom finished high school in Delhi. He is connected with Glover Hardware company in Rayville, where the young couple will make their home after August 1.

Miss Jean Hale's Attractive House Guests Entertained With Many Parties

Garden Supper Is One Of Outstanding Events

Mr. 'And Mrs. Holloway Entertain; Luncheons, Conversational Hours, Other Parties Honor Visitors

There are no idle social hours for members of Monroe's younger set who are kept busily engaged entertaining attractive visitors in the city.

Miss Jean Hale's house guests, Miss Doris Milam and Miss Betty Fields of Tupelo, Miss., and Miss Alyce Roberts of Huntsville, Ala., classmates at Stephens college, were given a generous slice of Monroe's special brand of hospitality last week with Miss Martha Jane Hill's luncheon on Monday the initial affair.

Miss Hill employed a lush, green color theme giving an effect of coolness and freshness to her luncheon table. Green crystal was used exclusively in the luncheon service.

Mrs. Harry Underwood's conversational hour, a form of entertainment ever growing in popularity, brought Miss Hale and her house guests together in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Seaman, where beautiful garden flowers created a festive atmosphere.

A variety of delicious tidbits and frosted drinks were passed among the guests who, in addition to Miss Hale and her three house guests, were: Misses Eleanor Colbert, Marjorie Farmer, Martha Jane Hill, Doll Hudson, Carolyn Oliver, Florence Fluker, Patsy Slack, Libby Haynes, Mary Frances Moore, Jo McCook, Marguerite McHenry, Anna Lee Russell, Sara Frances Hinkle, Peggy McCrary, Mary King, Gloria Frances Major, Virginia Earle Kersh, Ellen Hale, Nan Buckner, Virginia Husted, O'Celle Pugh of Rayville, Margaret Butler.

Miss Marguerite McHenry's early morning swimming party in the Carl McHenry pool and breakfast at the plantation home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McHenry, was one of the most enjoyable compliments bestowed upon Miss Hale's house guests.

Miss Patsy Slack presided over a beautifully appointed table in the main dining room of the Frances hotel when she entertained at luncheon on Thursday for Miss Hale and her house guests.

Four delicious courses were served to the hostess and Miss Hale, Miss Roberts, Miss Milam, Miss Fields, Miss Carolyn Oliver, Miss Florence Fluker, Miss Ellen Hale, Miss O'Celle Pugh and Mrs. Harry Underwood.

Another bright spot on the week's calendar of events was Miss Gloria Frances Major's swimming party followed by an interlude of conversation during which sweetmeats and frosted drinks were served.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Holloway's garden supper, Friday night highlighted the week's activities, bringing together the entire Hale family including Ensign Roy Hale who has just returned from the Hawaiian Islands and is enjoying a brief furlough with his parents. He is en route to Pensacola. Miss Hale's house guests were the inspiration for this charming al fresco affair.

The supper table overlaid with bright green linens and serviced with Fiesta ware, was vibrant with color. Trays laden with delicious viands were placed along the board and served buffet style.

Miss Bernice Elizabeth Whatley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Whatley of Lake Providence, and Wilfred Broussard, of Mansford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dua Broussard of Lafayette were married by Father John C. Vandegaer at his residence in Lake Providence July 3 at four o'clock in the afternoon.

The only attendants were Miss Mildred Fitch of Monroe and Henry Allen of Mansford. The bride wore a smart white linen model with white accessories and a gladioli corsage.

Immediately following the reception at the home of the bride's parents, the young couple left for the Gulf Coast and New Orleans where they spent their honeymoon. The bride traveled in a navy blue model with accessories of navy. Upon their return they will be at home in Mansford.

The bride is a graduate of the Lake Providence High school and has been in the employ of the telephone company in Tallulah and Monroe. Mr. Broussard graduated from the Lafayette High school and attended Southwestern Louisiana institute at Lafayette.

The engagement of Miss Annette Butitta and W. E. Moore Jr., was formally announced by Miss Butitta's mother, Mrs. Thomas Butitta, at a dancing party Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hegwood, hosts of the evening.

Cakes, inscribed with the nicknames, "Net" and "Bud," were passed among the guests by Mrs. Butitta, who announced the engagement in this manner.

Iced fruit frappe was served throughout the evening to the guests of honor, members of the family and a few intimate friends, as follows: Miss Alice Moore and Walter Reed, Miss Mildred Brennon and Hurlan Beauman, Miss Wilma Parker and James Burkhart, Miss Lena Lacey and Leo DeMoss, Miss Nancy Butitta and Delos Adams, Misses Mildred Butitta, Dell Bielkewicz, Katie Brooks, Majorie Roberts, Gladys Hegwood, Mrs. Thomas Butitta.

"How Green Was My Valley" by Richard Llewellyn still tops the national best seller list, followed by "Stars on the Sea," by Van Wych Mason; "Night in Bombay" by Louis Bromfield; "The Bird in the Tree" by Elizabeth Goudge; "Mr. Skeffington" by Elizabeth, and "King's Row" by Henry Bellamen.

Other new books recently acquired by the Monroe Public Library are "World's End" by Upton Sinclair; "This Side of Glory" by Gwen Bristow, American White Paper; "I Married Adventure" by Osa Johnson and thirty new "westerns" by such popular authors as Zane Grey, B. M. Bower, Dane Coolidge, William Raine and others.

The Library also has two new fascinating sets of stereoptican views entitled "The Wild West," and "Holland."

Of interest to friends in Delhi and surrounding territory is the marriage of Virginia Elizabeth Adams of Thomaston, Ga., and Dr. M. C. McIntyre of Delhi, La.

The marriage was solemnized June 1 in Atlanta, Ga., with Rev. J. W. McKibben officiating.

Mrs. McIntyre is the only daughter of Mr. Robert J. Adams and the late Ruth Floyd Adams. She graduated from R. E. Lee institute in Thomaston and attended Georgia State college for women receiving her B. S. degree in 1938. Since graduating she has been a member of the faculty of Thomaston public schools.

Dr. McIntyre is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. McIntyre of Delhi. He received his doctor of dental surgery degree from the Atlanta Southern Dental college, Atlanta, Ga., in June. His early education was received from Central High school. Later he attended Louisiana State university, where he received his pre-dental work.

Dr. and Mrs. McIntyre have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. M. McIntyre. They left Saturday for Greenwood, Miss., where they will make their home. Dr. McIntyre will be associated with Dr. B. C. Scott of Greenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hynum and three daughters, Yvonne, Faye and Marna, left last night for California by way of St. Louis. The trip was made by train. Mrs. Hynum and the children will remain all summer but Mr. Hynum will return in two weeks.

The interest of friends is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Maxine Brown of Columbia, La., formerly of Monroe, and James Maloy Hawkins Jr., of Columbia, Thursday, July 4.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. I. L. Yeager, pastor of the Stone Avenue Methodist church, Monroe, La.

The bride wore a lovely brown ensemble with white accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cooper were the attendants.

Mrs. Hawkins is a graduate of St. Francis school of nursing.

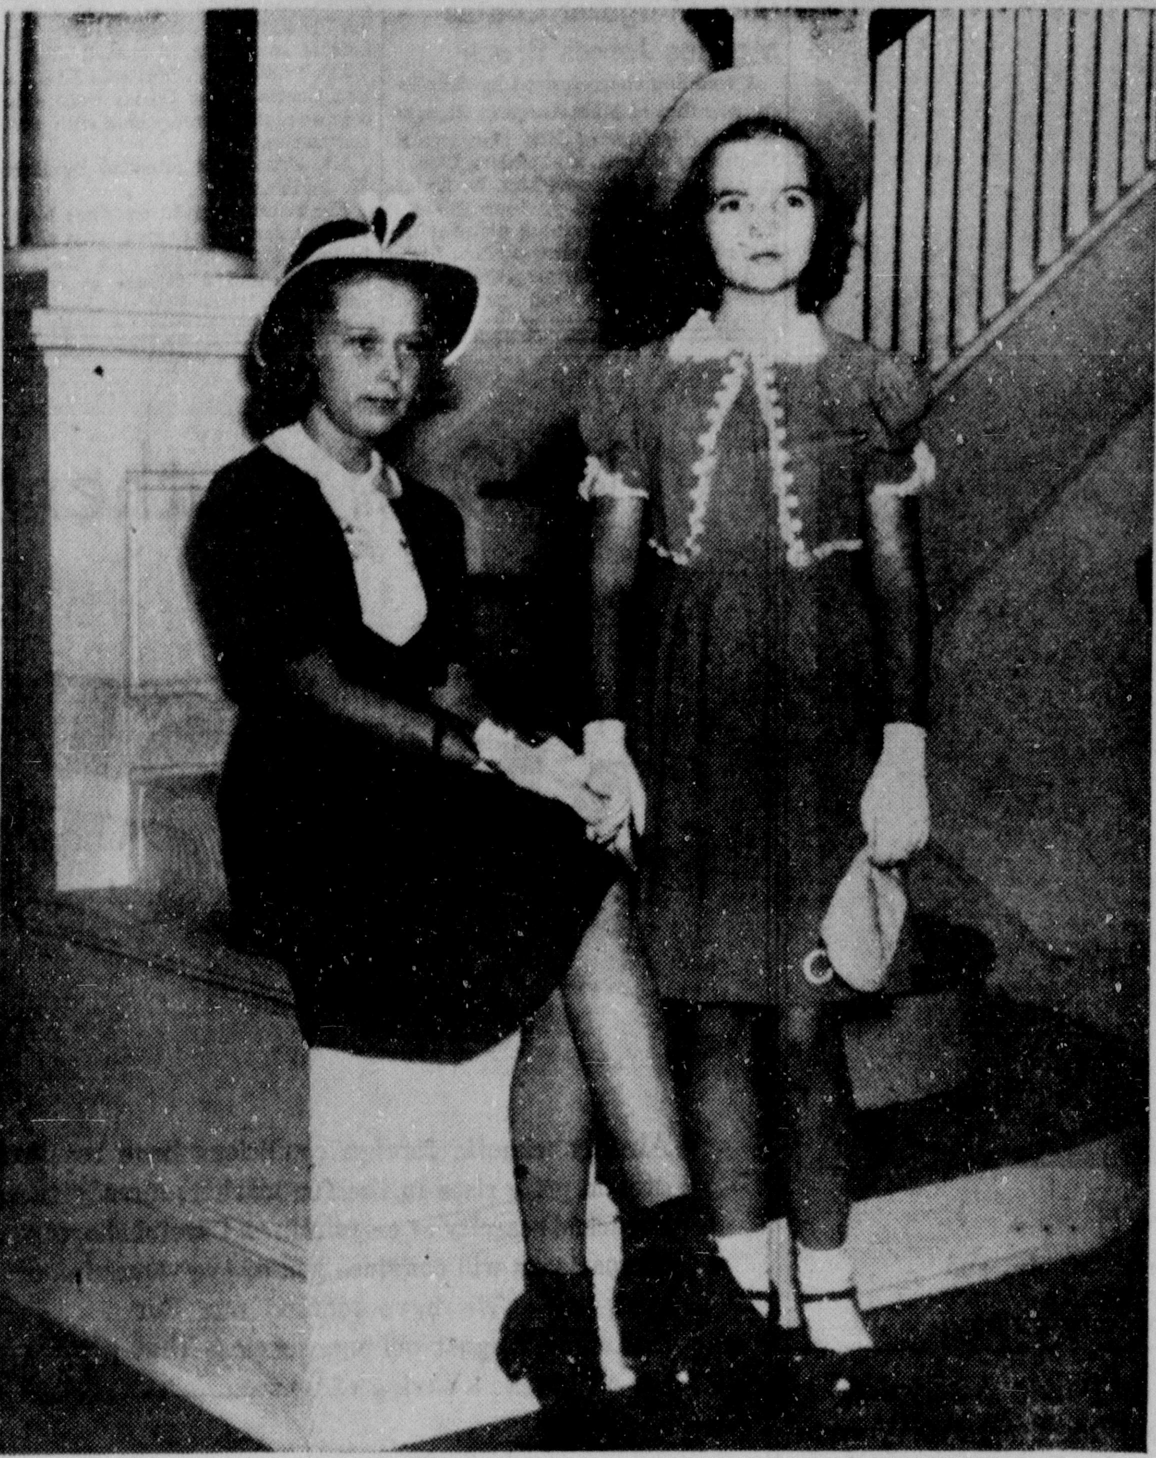
Miss Zelma Kirksey, daughter of Mrs. Julia Kirksey of Elmwood community, and Mr. Elmer Bearden, son of Mrs. Ella Bearden of Little Rock, Ark., were united in marriage at the Elmwood pastorium with the Rev. Bryant officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirksey are making their home in Elmwood with the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ashley of Crowville announce the marriage of their daughter, Ollie Mae, to Mr. Clinton Matheny of Parkdale, Ark. Mr. and Mrs. Matheny will make their home in Lake Village, Ark.

Mrs. John Flournoy of Shreveport was the guest last week of her sister, Mrs. Amos Smelser, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Cole.

More than half the English-speaking people of the world are Americans.



YOUNG TRAVELERS . . .

Rhoda Kellogg and June Lewis left today with June's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lewis, for points east including a visit to the World's fair in New York.

Miss Virginia Cascio Weds C. C. Miller

A wedding claiming the interest of friends in this community was that of Miss Virginia Cascio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Cascio, and Charles Ciraulo Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C Miller, at St. Matthews' Catholic church with Rev. Father F. P. Donohue, officiating in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Pink and blue hydrangea overflowing from tall floor standards were grouped in the background. Cathedral tapers burned in the nave where the ceremony was performed.

Don Breitenmoser, organist, rendered a pre-nuptial concert while the guests were being seated by the usher, Leon Cascio. A boy's vested choir sang several beautiful numbers during the nuptial mass.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles J. Cascio, the maid of honor, Miss Kate Cascio and the bridesmaid, Miss Angie Miller, wore similar gowns of pink dotted French voile with tight-fitting basques and sweetheart necklines and long full skirts. They carried arm bouquets of pink sweetpeas and pink carnations.

The flower girl, Joan Miller, wore a pink dotted voile model fashioned along lines similar to the gowns worn by the other attendants. W. J. Haddad served as ring bearer.

Mr. Leo Miller served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown with a tight-fitting basque, and a yoke of imported lace with sweetheart neckline. The skirt was tight fitting and ended in a long court train. A veil of illusion was caught to the hair with a coronet of orange blossoms. An ivory prayer book caught with a spray of valley lilies and long lengths of white satin ribbons, was carried. For something old she wore a diamond brooch that was worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Columbus Social hall where Mrs. Cascio and Mrs. Miller, the mothers of the bride and bridegroom, assisted in receiving. They were assisted by Mrs. Joseph Correro and Mrs. A. L. Embanato.

The beautifully embossed wedding cake adorned the bride's table overlaid with handsome lace. It was cut by the bride before she changed her wedding gown for a tailleur of navy triple sheer with white accessories.

Following a honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Miller will be at home at 701 Calypso street.

The bride is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High school and the Monroe Commercial college. Mr. Miller attended the Monroe City High school.

Mrs. Josie Luton announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Lillie Luton, to Mr. Sidney Lucus, July 3, at the home of the Rev. Brooks, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, who officiated in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucus are now at home to their friends in Bastrop.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lewis, accompanied by their daughter, June, and niece, Rhoda Kellogg, left today for an extended Eastern motor trip. Their main objective is Lewistown, Pa., the boyhood home of Mr. Lewis, where they will be guests of his aunt, Mrs. George McClinic, and his sister, Mrs. E. A. Thomas. En route they will spend a few days at Bolivar, Tenn., visiting the Emerson and Galloway families, and a day at Nashville, Tenn.

Continuing their trip, they will visit New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Returning via Durham, N. C., they will visit Mrs. Robert Duke. They will stop at Lake Lure, near Hendersonville, N. C., to see Mary Stuart Kellogg, who is in camp there.

In Birmingham they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Vastine Staples.

We have 50 of the cleanest and best conditioned late model outboard motors in the state that are going to be put on sale from July 14 to July 23, stated Howard Griffin, local Johnson Sea-Horse dealer.

This great accumulation of trade-in motors of all makes and sizes shows that the majority of Monroe sportsmen prefer and buy Johnson Sea-Horse motors.

Since the start of the 1940 season we have held second position in sales volume in the entire south on Johnson outboard motors, stated Mr. Griffin. Which means that we are outselling dealers in the largest cities, such as New Orleans, Houston, Dallas, Atlanta, Birmingham and Memphis. Only the Shreveport dealer holds a slight lead over us.

Despite bad weather and the war scare, this has been the largest year for us since our start in business, which shows that more and more people are taking up water sports and fishing for diversion.

However, we do have an unusually large surplus of used motors which must be sold at once.

Quite a number of these motors are just as good as new and are given the same new motor guarantee. These are the motors that customers buy, run a few hours and trade in on a larger and better motor.

Remember that every motor sold whether new or used is backed by Howard Griffin and his factory-trained personnel, "experts with all outboard motors." A prospective buyer of a fishing motor should by all means determine the ability of the seller to provide service and parts.

Howard Griffin offers you the only complete outboard motor part and repair service in northeast Louisiana.

If you are interested in a new or used outboard motor see Howard Griffin, 712 South Grand street, or telephone 4682.

Your Friendly Magnolia Dealer

Glenn's Magnolia Service station, Glenn Robertson, owner and operator, located at the foot of the new traffic bridge in West Monroe, is specializing in automobile and truck lubrication.

Thoroughly equipped with the latest greasing tools and guns, the lubrication department is in charge of an operator trained and instructed in this line by the Magnolia Petroleum company. This man greases the customers' cars according to specifications recommended by the cars' manufacturer.

A complete car wash that is done to satisfy the customer is one of this station's most popular services, and a periodical wax and polish that is essential to good appearance of all cars is a feature personal service at a small cost at Glenn's Magnolia station.

A complete line of Magnolia gas and oils are carried, and if you are not already a user of the products sold at the sign of the "Flying Red Horse," then your automobile is missing out on top performance from fuel and lubrication standpoints.

Glenn will be glad to secure a courtesy card with the Magnolia people for you so that you can join the large number of satisfied customers of Glenn's and Magnolia's.

No matter whether you live in Monroe or West Monroe, your friendly Magnolia dealer is ready to serve you.

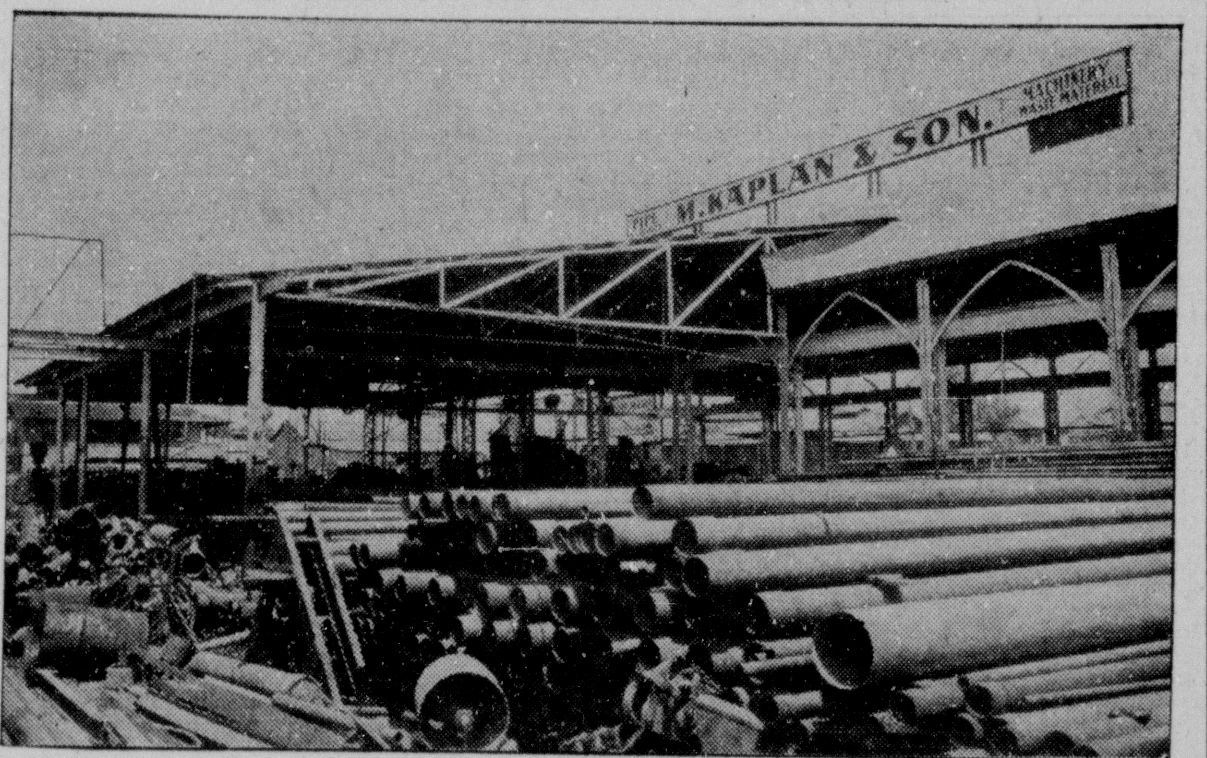
A GLANCE AT M. KAPLAN & SON



To supply the trade with high quality products, whether reconditioned in their yards or shops or new from the manufacturers they represent is the purpose of M. Kaplan and Son, Ninth and Adams streets.

Pictured above is a sectional view of the steel crane way and structural and pipe yard, all welded steel trusses.

In the yards of M. Kaplan and Son thousands of feet of sound used pipe are reconditioned, reconverted into pipe that is in the same working condition as any new pipe, and that can be used for practically every purpose just as efficiently and far more economically than new pipe. Materials are quickly and economically handled with the overhead cranes to the various machines used in the process of reworking. Visit the shops and see how machines are utilized in straightening and bending pipe to a specification, how pipe is cleaned, cut and threaded, how lathes and welding equipment are used, how rebuilt steam equipment is tested.

Pipe lines for any purpose can be turned out quickly in this modern machine shop—which specializes in welded installation, all-threaded jobs, structural fabrication of I-beams, angles, channels H or pipe columns.

With its policy of fair dealing, prompt and courteous service and lowest possible prices, quality considered, this firm has carried out successfully a great number of jobs in this section—and always they afforded a savings.

You're guaranteed a neat and uniform job—when M. Kaplan and Son does the work.

At M. Kaplan and Son you'll find a complete stock and structural steel, pipe and belting, mill supplies and pipe for gas and oil fields, all good stuff and economically priced.

When you're looking for quality supplies—call 942 or visit M. Kaplan and Son.

BUT IT'S EFFECTIVE

LARAMIE, Wyo.—(AP)—A machine gun which shoots beams of light instead of bullets is the new, economical way they're turning out expert machine gun marksmen at the University of Wyoming R. O. T. C.

Major Malcolm E. Craig of the teaching staff described the device as a telescope with a small light behind it. When the trigger is pulled, the light strikes the target instead of a bullet.

Major Craig has built a sound box for amplifying the noise of machine gun fire to make practice realistic.

Two minutes of rapid fire in real shooting requires 1,000 round of .30 caliber costing $31.45. The army allots only 610 rounds—about a minute of rapid fire—to train a gunner. But Wyoming's recruits can fire the beam gun as much as they please, and there is no wear on the firing apparatus. The gun was developed by the major and other army officers upon basic ideas advanced by Captain Charles H. Coates, now of San Francisco. Its range is only 500 feet, but a smaller target is used to compensate for shortened range distance.

'The Ghost Breakers' Opens Engagement At Paramount

Hope, Miss Goddard In Clever Hit

Merry Mystery Film Affords Ample Opportunity For Comedy And Thrills

SPOOKS to the left of them, spooks to the right of them, Paulette Goddard and Bob Hope, go after ghosts with gags in one of the merriest mystery stories of the season at the Paramount theater. It's Paramount's "The Ghost Breakers." It will break you up completely.

Cleverly directed by George Marshall from a well-planned screen-play by Walter DeLeon, it gives Bob Hope ample opportunity to ad lib at the expense of the wierdest assortment of uncanny goings-on ever assembled. Dressed in the latest fashions that display her gorgeous figure to perfection, Paulette Goddard is an eyeful.

Action is the keynote of "The Ghost Breakers." From the very first moment when Paulette finds that she has inherited a haunted castle on an island off Cuba, until she finds out why it was haunted at the end of the picture, not a moment is wasted. It is only natural that two people united in solving such a thrilling riddle should gradually drift into romance, although they are thrown together accidentally in the beginning.

Paul Lukas plays the villain, that is, one of the villains, and a very handsome one, indeed, Richard Carlson makes a dashing character come alive, and Willie Best, as Bob Hope's negro man-servant, is a great foil. Other members of the cast who add to the chills and chuckles include Anthony Quinn, Pedro de Cordoba, Tom Dugan, Virginia Brissac, Noble Johnson, Paul Fix and many others.

Bob Hope plays the part of a gossipy radio commentator who gets in wrong with a racketeer. While endeavoring to fix things up with him before going on a vacation, he runs into a gun battle. Thinking he killed a man, he hides in Paulette's trunk and doesn't escape until he is delivered to her stateroom on a Cuban boat.

After scaring her half to death when she opens her trunk he tells her he is a ghost breaker—a man who rids haunted houses of ghosts.

It is only necessary to add that as a ghost breaker Bob Hope approaches his profession with a new slant. He convulses the haunts and ghosts with laughter which renders them useless. The audience also shares in the merriment. It's the best picture Miss Goddard and Hope have made.

'20 Mule Team' Here At Capitol

Wallace Beery Heads Outstanding Cast In Saga Of Valley Pioneers

WALLACE BEERY and Leo Carrillo who teamed sensationally as Pancho Villa and his lieutenant in "Viva Villa!" join forces for the first time again in "20 Mule Team," saga of the pioneers of Death Valley, which opens today at the Capitol theater.

Beery is seen as Bill Bragg, veteran muleskinner of the desert trail, driving back and forth through blistering heat to the railroad at Mojave, 162 miles away, while Carrillo appears as his faithful "swamper," the Indian Piute Pete. Completing the trio of leads is veteran character actress Marjorie Rambeau as Josie Johnson, owner of the hotel and saloon where Beery is in the habit of "undehydrating" himself.

Another Beery, Noah, Jr., joins his uncle for the first time, playing the romantic male lead of the young company paymaster, Mitch. Anne Baxter, newcomer from the New York stage, is the feminine heart interest as Jean, Josie's daughter, who jilts Mitch and tries to elope with the gambler, Stag Roper, played by Douglas Fowley. Completing the featured cast are Clem Bevans as the prospector, Chuckawalla; Berton Churchill, Arthur Hohl, Clem Bevans, Charles Halton, Minor Watson, Oscar O'Shea and Lloyd Ingraham.

Filmed on location in the original locale, Death Valley, "20 Mule Team" has all of the wild riding and gunplay of the best westerns as the fight is on to locate a new borax "mother lode." Richard Thorpe directed, J. Walter Ruben producing.

FARLEY REMAINS SILENT ON F. D. R.

CHICAGO, July 13.—(AP)—James A. Farley, continuing his silence on President Roosevelt's third term intentions, said today he would "answer in due course" the question whether he would remain as chairman of the Democratic National Committee after the party convention.

Facing nearly 200 reporters in a large hotel ballroom, "Genial Jim" had a field day in fending off questions seeking the answer that only Farley and possibly one or two others could give.

He reiterated it would be a "serious mistake" if a presidential candidate were chosen without a roll call of the convention delegates.

There are estimated to be 209,000,000 Mohammedans in the world.

Zephyr-like ghosts, zooming bats, creepy dungeons, rattling skeletons and an assorted selection of wails and moans, have Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard a little on the jittery side in the mystery-comedy-thriller, "The Ghost Breakers," showing today, Monday and Tuesday at the Paramount theater.

This Week's Movie Program

AT THE PARAMOUNT

TODAY, MONDAY AND TUESDAY—Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard in "The Ghost Breakers," with Richard Carlson, Paul Lukas, Anthony Quinn and Willie Best.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY—Don Ameche in "Four Sons," with Eugene Leontovich, Mary Beth Hughes, Alan Curtis, George Ernest, Robert Lowery, Lionel Royce and Sim Rumann.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—Victor Mature, Carole Landis and Lon Chaney, Jr., in "One Million B. C.," with John Hubbard, Mamo Clark and Nigel de Brulier.

SATURDAY MIDNIGHT SHOW—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Madeleine Carroll in "Safari," with Tullio Carminati, Muriel Angelus, Lynne Overman and Billy Gilbert.

AT THE CAPITOL

TODAY AND MONDAY—Wallace Beery in "20 Mule Team," with Leo Carrillo, Marjorie Rambeau, Anne Baxter, Douglas Fowley, Noah Beery, Jr., and Berton Churchill.

TUESDAY—Jack Holt in "Outside the Three-Mile Limit."

WEDNESDAY—Henry Fonda in "The Grapes of Wrath," with Jane Darwell, John Carradine, Charley Grapewin, Dorris Bowdon, Russell Simpson, John Qualen, Eddie Quillan and Zeffie Tilbury.

THURSDAY—Raymond Massey in "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," with Gene Lockhart, Ruth Gordon, Mary Howard, Dorothy Tree, Harvey Stephens, Minor Watson and Alan Baxter.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—Gene Autry and June Storey in "Carolina Moon."

DR. HOLMES TO PREACH AT OLLA ENCAMPMENT

Dr. R. L. Holmes, Dallas, Tex., formerly pastor in Bossier City, La., will be the Baptist encampment pastor at Olla this year. He is a graduate of Louisiana College and the Baptist Bible Institute.

The encampment begins Tuesday and runs through July 26. Bible study, recreation and worship will feature the camp life. Five hundred people are expected.

U. S. PAYS $307,289 TO MRS. BERGDOLL

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—The government paid over $307,289 today to Mrs. Berta Bergdoll, wife of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the World War draft dodger who is now in a military prison.

The payment represented 80 per cent of the residue of property seized by the alien properties custodian after Bergdoll fled this country. The remaining 20 per cent will be deposited in the German special deposit account by the secretary of the treasury for use in meeting awards in favor of American citizens by the United States-Germany mixed claims commission.

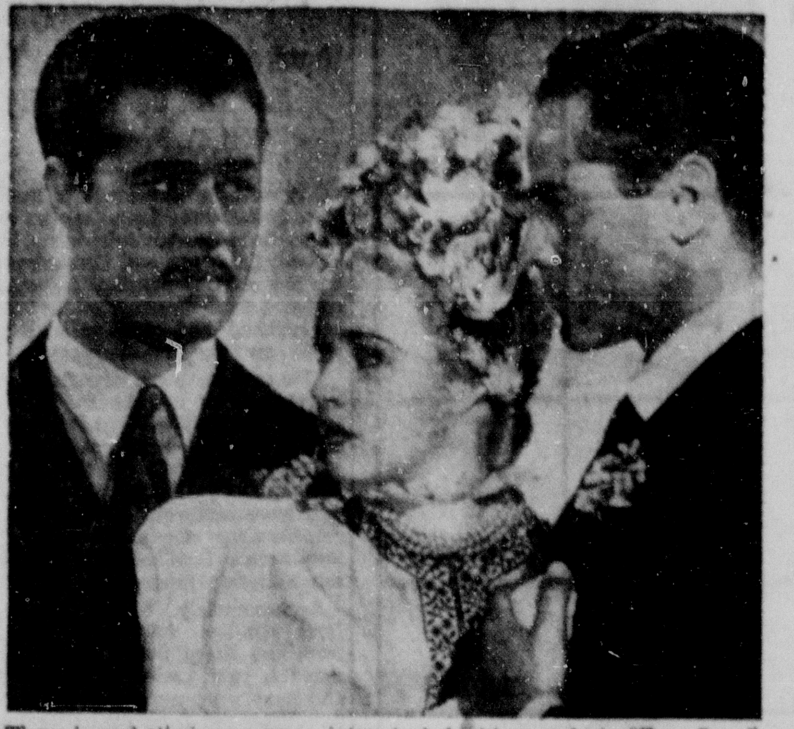
LIFETIME OF TRAVEL

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—(AP)—Day in and day out for 40 years John McGill, 62, of Cheyenne has boarded Union Pacific's No. 5 passenger train here for the run to Ogden, Utah. Recently, when he retired as chief mail clerk on the train, he estimated he had traveled 2,264,000 miles—all between Cheyenne and Ogden.



There is soul-stirring romance, intermingled with tragedy in "Four Sons," the film which plays at the Paramount theater Wednesday and Thursday, Don Ameche (left) and Alan Curtis, screen brothers, love the same girl, Mary Beth Hughes.

This scene is from the picture version of the prize play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," Capitol theater screen attraction Thursday only, which shows Mary Howard as Ann and Raymond Massey in his noted role of Lincoln.

These pictorial and dramatic scenes highlight the thrilling and dramatic action in the lives of two primitive tribes, the shell people and the rock tribe, hardy cavemen of centuries ago whose exploits with dinosaurs and wooly mammoths and volcanoes and earthquakes are spectacularly picturized in Hal Roach's newest picture, "One Million B. C.," a saga of prehistoric times, which will have its local premier at the Paramount theater on Friday and Saturday with Victor Mature, Carole Landis and Lon Chaney.

ARGENTINA'S EXPORTS TO U. S. ARE GAINING

BUENOS AIRES, July 13.—(AP)—The American Chamber of Commerce of Argentina reported today a 49 per cent increase in Argentine exports to the United States in the first six months of 1940 over the comparable period of 1939.

For the first half of 1940 exports to the United States totaled $41,637,816, as compared with $27,892,218 for the first six months of 1939. Wool and dairy products represented most of the increase.

INDIANS WANT MOVIES

GALLUP, N. M., July 13.—(AP)—Navajo Indians asked the Great White Father for European war pictures to show on the government's portable movie machine. Explained the braves: "We just want to keep up with the times."

The Joads see the "promised land." A dramatic moment in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Grapes of Wrath," John Steinbeck's widely-discussed best-seller, playing at the Capitol theater Wednesday only with Henry Fonda, as Tom Joad, heading the great cast which includes such favorites as Jane Darwell, John Carradine, Charlie Grapewine and Doris Bowdon.

SUGGESTION BY GANDHI REJECTED BY BRITAIN

WARDHA, India, July 13.—(AP)—Britain has rejected Mohandas K. Gandhi's suggestion that the principle of non-violent resistance be applied to Germany, the mahatma disclosed today.

He made public a letter from the viceroy, the Marquess of Linlithgow, saying the British government felt such a policy coudn't be considered "since, in common with the whole empire, they (the government) are firmly resolved to prosecute the war to a victorious conclusion."

CROP DAMAGE BY RAINS IN MISSISSIPPI HEAVY

JACKSON, Miss., July 13.—(AP)—Crop damage in Mississippi from continuous rains and widespread overflows of bottom lands is rapidly assuming proportions of a crop disaster, State Extension Editor F. J. Hurst declared today.

"A summary of reports from county agents throughout the state indicates that Mississippi's 1940 crop will be cut by at least 25 per cent," he added, "with the damage in some counties estimated as high as 50 per cent."

BABY DIES

HONOLULU, July 13.—(AP)—A baby born three months prematurely to Doris Duke Cromwell, tobacco fortune heiress, died Friday.

A scene from "Carolina Moon" Saturday's screen attraction at the Capitol theater costarring that western favorite, "Gene Autrey" with June Storey.

ALMOST EXTERMINATED

Man's greed for the plumes of the egret almost brought about the extinction of this beautiful white heron in the early part of the present century. Known to the millinery trade as "ospreys," the plumes sold for $32 an ounce. Killing of the birds now is prohibited by law, but poachers continue to destroy large numbers.

Tarzan
by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS
INTO THE DEPTHS
THE RELENTLESS SPEAR-FISH WERE DRIVING THEIR PREY INTO A TRAP AGAINST THE WALL BENEATH THE PIER. THOUGH TARZAN'S HEROISM HAD WON THE HEARTS OF THE PEOPLE, THEY NEVER IMAGINED THEY COULD HELP HIM.
TARZAN KNEW HIS PLIGHT WAS DESPERATE, BUT INSTEAD OF BEMOANING FATE, HE WAS BUSY SEEKING A WAY OUT.
SUDDENLY HE SHOUTED TO A SQUAD OF GUARDS ON THE PIER. HIS TONE OF COMMAND ELECTRIFIED THEM TO SWIFT ACTION.
THEY SWUNG ONE OF THEIR NUMBER DOWN BY THE ANKLES.
MOLOCAR DID NOT INTERFERE. HE DARED NOT ADMIT THAT HUMAN AID MIGHT DEFEAT THE DEMON-FISH.
MEANWHILE, HIS MYSTERIOUS MESSENGER WAS HURRYING INTO THE SECRET PLACES OF THE TEMPLE.
NOW TARZAN THRUST LEECIA INTO THE HANDS OF THE PENDANT GUARDS. SHE WAS QUICKLY HOISTED TO THE PLAZA.
THE CRAFTY HIGH PRIEST WAS READY WITH AN EXCUSE FOR LEECIA'S ESCAPE. "I AM MERCIFUL," HE DECLARED.
ONCE MORE THE GUARD SWUNG DOWNWARD. BUT JUST AS TARZAN WAS ABOUT TO GRASP THIS HUMAN LIFELINE----
--SOMETHING SEIZED HIS ANKLE AND DRAGGED HIM DOWN INTO THE DEPTHS OF THE LAGOON.
NEXT WEEK: POOL OF DEATH
HOGARTH
MOLOCAR SMILED. "BEHOLD! THE HAND OF BAAL-YEOM HAS CLAIMED HIM. HE WILL NOT RETURN!"

CRIMMINY! IT'S A LOT FURTHER'N I FIGURED — MY FEET FEEL LIKE THEY'RE WORN OFF ALL THE WAY TO THE ANKLES
LET'S SET DOWN AND REST A FEW MINUTES
WHEW! I'VE GOT TEN TOES AND EVERY ONE OF THEM IS SHOUTING, "THANK YOU"
OHUM! BOY! AM I EVER TIRED!
OH-OH — WHAT'S THIS? TWO BODIES LAYIN' IN TH' ROAD — LOOKS LIKE TH' WORK OF SOME OF SURLY'S GUNMEN
WAL, BRAND MY HIDE! LOOK WHO'S HERE! A FINE PLACE TO SLEEP IF YO'RE HANKERIN' AFTER BEIN' RUN OVER UH-AH ER — WHERE AM I?
UNCLE CHRIS!
BEEN WORRIED 'BOUT YOU YOUNG'UNS — YOR PAP WRIT ME YOU WAS COMIN' AN' I BEEN EXPECTIN' YOU LONG AFORE THIS GEE, I WAS NEVER SO GLAD TO GET ANY PLACE IN MY LIFE, UNCLE CHRIS WAL, IT'S SHORE RIGHT PLEASURABLE HAVIN' YOU WITH US — AND WHAT'S THIS TALL TALE ABOUT A LOT O' GOLD YO'RE SEEKIN'?
YOU REMEMBER LAST YEAR WHEN WE WERE ALL SEARCHING FOR TERRO AND CURLY FOR RUSTLING DIAMOND BAR CATTLE — AND ONE NIGHT BUCK AND I TOOK SHELTER IN A CAVERN UP IN SKULL CANYON — (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Office)
WE DISCOVERED A SECRET PASSAGEWAY TO WHAT MUST HAVE BEEN A BANDIT HIDE-OUT — THERE WERE THE SKELETONS OF TWO BANDITS AND A TRUNKFUL OF GOLD COINS THAT'D TAKE A DERRICK TO LIFT — CHOW-CHOW ALL LEADY, PLEASE
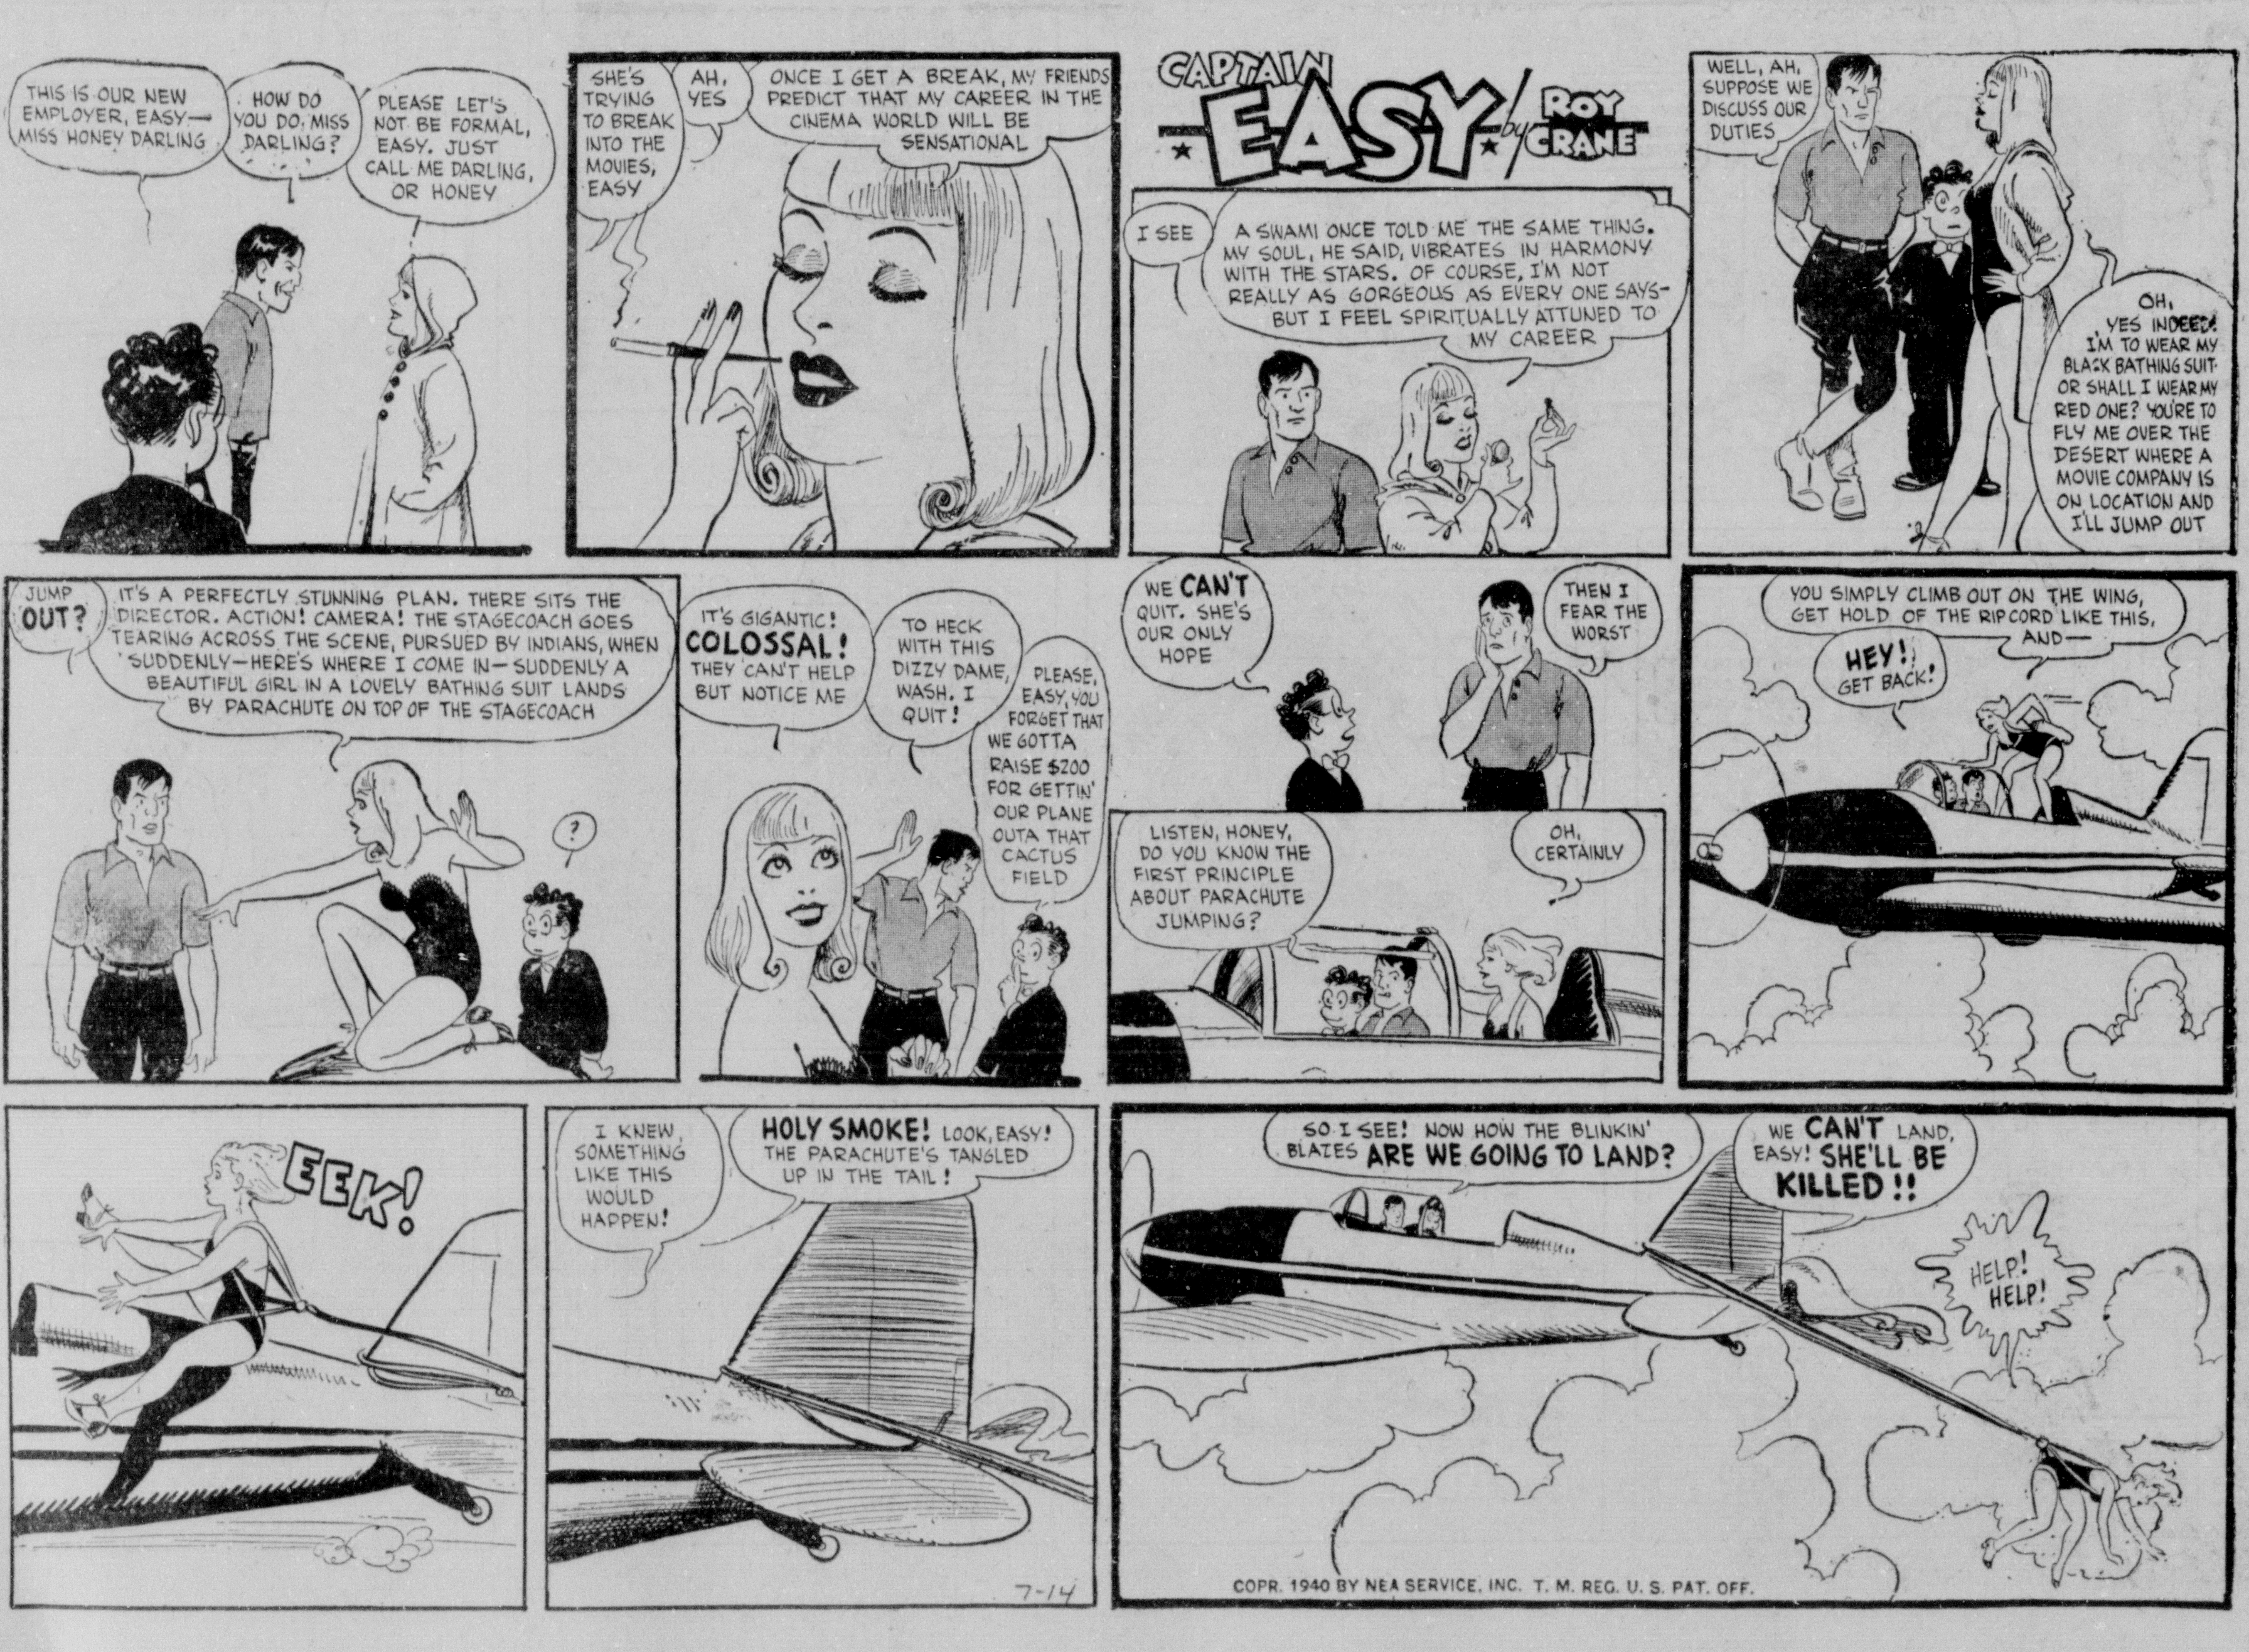
7-14
WAL, NOW YO'RE BEDDED DOWN. GIT YORSELVES A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP AND TOMORROW WE'LL LAY OUR PLANS
W. A. CARLSON



THIS IS OUR NEW EMPLOYER, EASY — MISS HONEY DARLING
HOW DO YOU DO, MISS DARLING?
PLEASE LET'S NOT BE FORMAL, EASY. JUST CALL ME DARLING, OR HONEY
SHE'S TRYING TO BREAK INTO THE MOVIES, EASY
AH, YES
ONCE I GET A BREAK, MY FRIENDS PREDICT THAT MY CAREER IN THE CINEMA WORLD WILL BE SENSATIONAL
CAPTAIN EASY by ROY CRANE
I SEE
A SWAMI ONCE TOLD ME THE SAME THING. MY SOUL, HE SAID, VIBRATES IN HARMONY WITH THE STARS. OF COURSE, I'M NOT REALLY AS GORGEOUS AS EVERY ONE SAYS — BUT I FEEL SPIRITUALLY ATTUNED TO MY CAREER
WELL, AH, SUPPOSE WE DISCUSS OUR DUTIES
OH, YES INDEED! I'M TO WEAR MY BLACK BATHING SUIT OR SHALL I WEAR MY RED ONE? YOU'RE TO FLY ME OVER THE DESERT WHERE A MOVIE COMPANY IS ON LOCATION AND I'LL JUMP OUT JUMP OUT?
IT'S A PERFECTLY STUNNING PLAN. THERE SITS THE DIRECTOR. ACTION! CAMERA! THE STAGECOACH GOES TEARING ACROSS THE SCENE, PURSUED BY INDIANS, WHEN SUDDENLY — HERE'S WHERE I COME IN — SUDDENLY A BEAUTIFUL GIRL IN A LOVELY BATHING SUIT LANDS BY PARACHUTE ON TOP OF THE STAGECOACH
IT'S GIGANTIC! COLOSSAL! THEY CAN'T HELP BUT NOTICE ME
TO HECK WITH THIS DIZZY DAME, WASH. I QUIT!
PLEASE, EASY, YOU FORGET THAT WE GOTTA RAISE $200 FOR GETTIN' OUR PLANE OUTA THAT CACTUS FIELD
WE CAN'T QUIT. SHE'S OUR ONLY HOPE
THEN I FEAR THE WORST
LISTEN, HONEY, DO YOU KNOW THE FIRST PRINCIPLE ABOUT PARACHUTE JUMPING?
OH, CERTAINLY
YOU SIMPLY CLIMB OUT ON THE WING, GET HOLD OF THE RIPCORD LIKE THIS, AND — HEY! GET BACK!
EEK!
I KNEW SOMETHING LIKE THIS WOULD HAPPEN!
HOLY SMOKE! LOOK, EASY! THE PARACHUTE'S TANGLED UP IN THE TAIL!
7-14
SO I SEE! NOW HOW THE BLINKIN' BLAZES ARE WE GOING TO LAND?
WE CAN'T LAND, EASY! SHE'LL BE KILLED!!
HELP! HELP!

A CIRCUS AD, ALVIN! —JOVE, THAT RECALLS THE HAPPY DAYS OF MY OWN BOYHOOD! ~~~ WHAT DO YOU SAY WE GO?
WHAT DO I SAY? ! OH, BOY!
T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
TWO SEATS, MY MAN ~~~ HM! ~~~ FOR AN OLD CIRCUS PERFORMER AND HIS NEPHEW!
NO SPECIAL RATE FOR RETIRED CLOWNS, MISTER!
WERE YOU REALLY A CIRCUS MAN, UNCLE AMOS?
EGAD, ALVIN, TO BE SURE! ALFREDO CODONA AND AMOS HOOPLE WERE THE GREATEST AERIALISTS THE WORLD HAS EVER SEEN! ONE OF MY HAIR-RAISERS WAS ~~~
5¢
HOW ABOUT LIVER AND ONIONS TONIGHT, MARCEL?
GOOD IDEA, MAJOR!
THE TRIPLE SOMERSAULT IN A SACK! ~~~ I WAS THE ONLY MAN ALIVE WHO COULD DO IT!
CROWDS ALWAYS GASPED AT MY "BROKEN ROPE TRICK"! FALLING, I WOULD CATCH MYSELF HALFWAY TO EARTH AS ANOTHER TRAPEZE UNEXPECTEDLY APPEARED!
COME ON, UNCLE AMOS! THE SHOW'S OVER AN' EVERYBODY'S NEARLY OUT!
HMP-SPUTT-TT! EGAD, SO THEY ARE!
MY WORD! FOR NO REASON I AM SUDDENLY AS DIZZY AS A DERVISH— HAK-HAK! STEADY ME, ALVIN ~~~ UMP!
HELP MY UNCLE ~~~ HE FELL AN' GOT STUCK!
GUESS WE'LL HAFTA RIG UP A BLOCK 'N' TACKLE AN' HOIST THAT OLD HIPPO OUTA HERE!

ALLEY OOP
T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
MY STARS, BRONSON, I'M CERTAINLY GLAD TO SEE YOU BACK IN THE TWENTIETH CENTURY... BUT WHERE IS ALLEY OOP?
DON'T TELL US HE COULDN'T SURVIVE THE TIME-JOURNEY!
OH, I'M SURE HE'S ALL RIGHT--HE JUST DIDN'T HAPPEN TO BE RIGHT ON THE CONTACT SPOT WHEN THE TIME-MACHINE BECAME EFFECTIVE
THE LAST WE SAW OF HIM HE WAS MAKING A MAD DASH TOWARD US
WELL, BELIEVE ME, I HOPE HE DIDN'T MAKE IT BEFORE THE POWER WENT OFF!
IF HE DID, THERE'S A POSSIBILITY HE'S STRANDED IN SOME SPOT TOTALLY UNKNOWN TO US
IN WHICH CASE, IT MIGHT TAKE US YEARS TO FIND HIM, IF EVER!
OR THE SHOCK OF THE POWER LOSS MIGHT KILL HIM!
OH, DEAR!
ON THE OTHER HAND, THE CHANCES ARE HE DIDN'T EVEN ENTER OUR FORCE-FIELD BEFORE THAT BOLT KILLED OUR POWER
.... BUT ALLEY OOP DID ENTER THE FIELD OF FORCE A SPLIT SECOND BEFORE—
—THE BOLT OF LIGHTNING STRUCK THE POWER LINE, —
-DISRUPTING OUR HERO'S JOURNEY THROUGH TIME, —
-MAROONING HIM SOMEWHERE BETWEEN 1200 B.C. AND 1940 A.D.
WHEW!
MY GOSH!
WOW!
WELL, I MADE IT... BUT I SURE THOUGHT I WASN'T GOIN' TO!
GOSH, IT'S DARK!
SAY... WHERE'S DOC AN' OOOLA?
HEY, DOC! OOOLA! WHERE ARE YUH?
NO ANSWER! HMM--THAT'S FUNNY!
OOOLA! OH, DOC!
THEY MUST BE AROUND SOMEWHERE!
HEY, YOU FOLKS!
THEY PROB'LY HAVEN'T COME OUT OF TH' SHOCK YET-- THEY AIN'T AS TOUGH AS I AM!
THEY WEREN'T DOWN BELOW, SO THEY MUST BE UP HERE ON THIS PILE OF STONE SOMEWHERE!
WHEW! BY JIMINY, THAT'S HARD WORK! I CAN'T DO NO GOOD TILL DAYLIGHT, SO I MIGHT AS WELL KETCH A FEW WINKS WHILE I'M WAITIN'!
